Nat's vocals so popular that they got spotlight. Early record hit Straighten Up and Fly Right in 1944, followed next year with It's Only a Paper Moon. In 1944-5 group toured with Benny Carter. Appeared in several movies: HERE COMES ELMER (1943), STARS ON PARADE (1944), BREAKFAST IN HOLLYWOOD (1946), MAKE BELIEVE BALLROOM (1949). Brief radio show in 1946, later series 1948-9. Cole composed several novelty numbers: I'm a Shy Guy, Straighten Up and Fly Right, That Ain't Right, It's Better to Be by Yourself, Just for Old Time's Sake, Calypso Blues.

In later 40s Moore and Miller replaced by Irving Ashby and Joe Comfort. Nat's voice now main feature, piano and Trio secondary, sometimes augmented by lush strings. Nat's big record hit Nature Boy in 1948 accompanied by Frank DeVol's orchestra. By late 1951 Trio dissolved and Cole became a single. Constant flow of recordings in 50s very popular. Hits: Mona Lisa, Too Young, Pretend, Ramblin' Rose, many others. Nat appeared in several movies: BLUE GARDENIA and SMALL TOWN GIRL (1953), ISTANBUL and CHINA GATE (1957), ST. LOUIS BLUES (1958; portrayed composer W. C. Handy), NIGHT OF THE QUARTER MOON (1959), CAT BALLOU (1965). Many tours in U.S., Europe, South America. Many TV appearances, own TV show 1956-7. In early 60s often on Hollywood Palace TV show. Last performance in 1964; career curtailed by lung cancer.

352. COLLINS, DOROTHY vo
(MARJORIE CHANDLER)

Born c. 1927, Windsor, Ontario, Canada

Good pop singer with strong, melodious voice, equally competent on ballads or up-tempo novelties. Rose to fame as star of Hit Parade TV show in 50s. As youngster appeared on Canadian radio. Bandleader Raymond Scott heard her when she visited Chicago in early 40s, hired her to sing with band as his protegee. Brought her along slowly, developed voice and style for many years with him. In 1950 Scott bandleader on TV Hit Parade. Dorothy first sang commercial for sponsor, Lucky Strike, soon became one of four singers featured on show. Married Scott 1953. Hit Parade, popular in mid-50s, faded out in late 50s when poor quality of popular songs caused drop in public interest. Dorothy played clubs, appeared as guest on many TV shows through 50s and early 60s. Career waned and she disappeared from TV. In later 60s played summer stock and road shows. Comeback in 70s with role in Broadway musical FOLLIES.

vo v acc cm lyr B

Born in 1908Died September 2, 1934, killed accidentally by pistol

Singing star of 1931-4 whose brief but popular career cut short by tragic shooting accident. High baritone voice with silken quality, highly romantic style. At 17 played violin and accordion well. In late 20s worked as singer-violinist with bands in California, got big break with Gus Arnheim at Hollywood's Cocoanut

Grove in 1929. Famous movie and radio stars became aware of his good looks and smooth singing. Several bit parts in movies. Featured at times by Arnheim but not a star. Then fronted own band in 1931, received good radio coverage, quickly became a sensation. Theme song, You Call It Madness, captured his style and mood. Popular records for Victor. Had a hand in writing several songs he featured: You Call It Madness, Prisoner of Love, Let's Pretend There's a Moon, Too Beautiful for Words, My Love, When You're in Love, Just Another Dream of You. Band toured U.S., and briefly Europe. Made a few movie shorts and appeared in three films: BROADWAY THROUGH A KEYHOLE (1933), MOULIN ROUGE and WAKE UP AND DREAM (1934; latter released after death). People always speculate on how big a star Columbo might have become. His three films give little clue.

Fatal accident occurred at friend's home. Friend's desk had an ancient set of dueling pistols used as paperweights or curios. They had long been there and were believed to be unloaded. Friend struck a match against one pistol to light a cigarette. Gun fired, bullet ricocheted off desk and struck Columbo in head. Before death Columbo linked romantically with actress Carole Lombard. His mother, blind and in precarious health, wasn't told of death. For years members of family and Miss Lombard pretended he was alive, read mother "letters from Russ" explaining that pressing work kept him from visiting her. Mother died never knowing the truth.

358. COMO, PERRY

vo

Born May 18, 1912, Canonsburg, Pa.

Leading singer and TV star of 50s and 60s who rose to fame after years as band vocalist. In younger years Como was a barber, owned shop in home town. Won singing job with Freddy Carlone band in 1933, touring southwestern Pennsylvania. Big break in 1936, joined Ted Weems band. Virile baritone voice along Bing Crosby lines won some attention. With Weems on Beat the Band radio show 1940-1. Remained with band until it broke up in 1942. Worked as single on radio, in clubs and theatres. In four movies (not important ones, but voice and looks registered well with fans): SOMETHING FOR THE BOYS (1944), DOLL FACE and IF I'M LUCKY (1946), WORDS AND MUSIC (1948). 1945 hit record, Till the End of Time, followed by Prisoner of Love and Temptation. Other hits: Because and When You Were Sweet Sixteen. Through middle and late 40s, popular Supper Club series of 15-minute shows on radio. TV in early 50s, top-rated hour show by 1955 which continued till 1963. Theme song Dream Along with Me. Acquired reputation as casual, relaxed performer. Worked at this easy-going image, conformed vocal style somewhat to it. Continued to record, during later 60s occasionally did specials, guest spots or commercials on TV. Gradually became less active in entertainment. Featured on 1973 TV special, "Cole Porter in Paris."

Co-leader of popular Coon-Sanders Orchestra in 20s and early 30s. (For details, see following biography on orchestra.) Co-composer of 1926 song Hi-Diddle-Dee-Dee which stayed popular through the years.

371. COON-SANDERS ORCHESTRA

Popular dance band of 20s and early 30s, co-led by Carleton Coon and Joe Sanders (see biographies of both). Top dance band, particularly in late 20s; good musicianship and lively, happy, uninhibited music. Many arrangements by Sanders in distinctive semi-hot style featuring jazz breaks. Two leaders handled vocals capably either solo or duet. Especially effective: exuberant tenor voice of Sanders, and his showmanship. The two grew up in Missouri, met in Kansas City, formed band there in 1920. After several years mostly in Kansas City area, band got big break as early radio remotes from the Muehlbach Hotel in middle and late 20s made it famous throughout midwest. Band's late-night shows earned it the name of the Kansas City Night Hawks.

Band played Chicago date in 1924, again in late 1926 at Blackhawk Restaurant with many radio wires. Long return engagements followed. Began recording in mid-20s, by late 20s recorded frequently. Toured, kept Kansas City as base. Own show on NBC radio awhile. Two big numbers: Here Comes My Ball and Chain and Slue Foot. Personnel remained constant during last five years of band—a happy family. In late 1931-2 band went east for lengthy stay at Hotel New Yorker. Band at Hotel Sherman's College Inn in Chicago in 1932 when tragedy struck. Carleton Coon had abscessed tooth, died suddenly May 4. Band never recovered. Sanders tried to carry on as leader, played tour already booked, but band broke up year after. Sanders later formed own band, had long career.

Leading English bandleader. Long career from early 20s through 60s. Consistently good band capable of playing sweet or semi-hot, but known more for novelty numbers and showmanship. Cotton began career as teenage drummer in British army. First band in early 20s, a few years later played top London spots such as Astoria Ballroom and Ciro's. Began radio broadcasts in 1931, active on radio through the years. Band had crisp, full ensemble sound, versatile. Stressed showmanship and entertainment, carried several singers capable of handling ballads but particularly good on novelties. Cotton large, plump man, ideal front for band with singing, dancing, talking, wise-cracking. Band maintained popularity till Cotton's death.

tb ar cm vo B

Born August 7, 1921, Philadelphia, Pa.

Trombonist active in bands and studios in 40s and 50s; reached fame in late 50s as leader of the Tommy Dorsey Orchestra after Dorsey's death. Early in career worked with Isham Jones in 1939, in early 40s with Mitchell Ayres and Horace Heidt. Military service, World War II. After discharge with Les Brown, Gene Krupa and Boyd Raeburn. From late 1946 until 1956 CBS staff musician in New York. In 1957 led The Commanders, studio band formed by Toots Camarata and led awhile by Eddie Grady. In early 1958 Covington took over as leader of Tommy Dorsey orchestra, continued on and off into 70s, perpetuated TD's style and hits. Covington handled Tommy's trombone solos well. Also led band under own name. During career also did vocal-arranging-composing work. Toured England 1974 featuring Dorsey arrangements, ex-Dorsey sidemen Sy Oliver, Skeets Herfurt, Johnny Mince, Pee Wee Erwin, trumpeter Chris Griffin, Bernie Privin.

cm lyr vo p

Born December 16, 1899, Teddington, near London, England

Died March 26, 1973, Jamaica, West Indies

Glittering English performer-songwriter-playwright, prodigiously productive. Probably England's greatest songwriter, his songs well received in U.S. as well. Excellent stage and screen performer in musicals or drama. Suave, sophisticated, witty writer, tuneful melodist. Most popular songs: I'll See You Again, Zigeuner, I'll Follow My Secret Heart, Mad About the Boy, Someday I'll Find You. At early age joined stage troupe, toured England. Military service, World War I. After discharge again on stage in song and dance roles as well as dramatic. Began writing scores and books for English productions. First hit HAY FEVER in London in 1924. First U.S. hit play THE VORTEX in 1925, in which he starred. Later same year plays HAY FEVER and EASY VIRTUE ran in U.S., followed by THE MARQUISE in 1927. First Broadway musicals well received: THIS YEAR OF GRACE (1928; Coward performed) and BITTER SWEET (1929). Started in own plays PRIVATE LIVES (1931) and DESIGN FOR LIVING (1933). Show CONVERSATION PIECE (1934) popular but POINT VALAINE (1935) flopped. Co-starred with Gertrude Lawrence in series of short plays, TONIGHT AT 8:30 (1936). Other Coward plays: BLITHE SPIRIT (1941), QUADRILLE (1954), FALLEN ANGELS (1956), NUDE WITH VIOLIN (1957; Coward starred). Other musicals: SET TO MUSIC (1939), SAIL AWAY (1961), THE GIRL WHO CAME TO SUPPER (1963). Great Broadway team of Alfred Lunt and Lynn Fontanne starred in several Coward plays. Musicals written first for London, usually but not always followed in U.S. Appeared in U.S. movies THE SCOUNDREL (1935), THE ASTONISHED HEART (1950), OUR MAN IN HAVANA and SURPRISE PACKAGE (1960), PARIS WHEN IT SIZZLES (1964), BUNNY LAKE IS MISSING (1965), BOOM! (1968), THE ITALIAN JOB (1969). Played in and directed 1942 British award-winning film IN WHICH WE SERVE. Several of his plays made into movies, including CAVALCADE, PRIVATE LIVES, DESIGN FOR LIVING, BLITHE SPIRIT, THE HAPPY BREED, BRIEF ENCOUNTER. Coward's protean talents spanned half a century. His best music captured brilliantly in 1972-3 New York revue OH, COWARD!.

393. CROSBY, BING vo cm lyr (HARRY LILLIS CROSBY)

Born May 2, 1901 or 1904, Tacoma, Wash.

One of the greatest of entertainers, beloved figure in show business with long, fabulous career. Epic popularity as singer and actor in major media. Singing sensation of early 30s, his husky, virile voice contrasted with soft-voiced style previously dominant. Jazz-influenced, especially by Louis Armstrong and Bix Beiderbecke. Often sang in up tempo with offbeat style, sometimes whistled a few bars. Records through the years sold multi-millions. Perennial favorite White Christmas an all-time best seller.

Grew up in Spokane. Attended Gonzaga University briefly, there teamed with Al Rinker as novelty singing duo. They worked their way to Los Angeles, were heard by Paul Whiteman and hired for band late 1926. Duo joined by Harry Barris to form trio called The Rhythm Boys, became top attraction with band. Bing also soloed. Trio and Bing appeared on dozens of records with Whiteman in late 20s. After 1930 movie KING OF JAZZ, Rhythm Boys and Whiteman parted. Later in year trio with Gus Arnheim at Cocoanut Grove in Los Angeles. Bing's solos attracted attention which prompted him to launch career as a single. By early 1931 his fifteen-minute shows several nights a week for Cremo Cigars were a sensation. Theme: Where the Blue of the Night.

Began to record frequently, later in 1931 made movie shorts. Radio shows grew to thirty minutes, then sixty minutes, became weekly programs with varying formats. In late 1932 featured in movie THE BIG BROADCAST OF 1932. In 1933 first starring movie COLLEGE HUMOR great success, launched parade of outstanding musicals over next quarter century. Every movie featured excellent songs by top composers. James Monaco and Johnny Burke contributed heavily 1938-40, with Jimmy Van Heusen and Johnny Burke taking over for many years thereafter.

In late 30s style changed from romantic, emotional crooning to light, airy style, with songs and arrangements to match. Arrangements of John Scott Trotter (musical director on radio and records) and songs of Burke-Van Heusen captured new mood well. Other notable scores on movies GOING HOLLYWOOD (1933; by Nacio Herb Brown and Arthur Freed), MISSISSIPPI (1935; by Richard Rodgers and Lorenz Hart), HOLIDAY INN (1942; by Irving Berlin—blockbuster score including White Christmas, charming film, one of Bing's best).

In January 1936 Bing became permanent host of Kraft Music Hall on radio, remained well into 40s. In mid-40s pioneered in use of taped rather than live broadcasts. Bing and comedian Bob Hope carried on good-natured feud through the years, co-starred with Dorothy Lamour in 1940 movie THE ROAD TO SINGAPORE, which launched series of popular "ROAD" pictures.

After early classic Brunswick records, Bing recorded mostly for Decca. Hits included Pistol Packin' Mama and Don't Fence Me In with Andrews Sisters; Sweet Leilani, Now Is the Hour, Too-Ra-Loo-Ra-Loo-Ral, I'll Be Home for Christmas, Galway Bay, Swinging on a Star, New San Antonio Rose, Dear Hearts and Gentle People; and Play a Simple Melody with son Gary. Bing introduced scores of excellent songs in movies and made hit records of them, including Please, Learn to Croon, Temptation, Thanks, The Day You Came Along, May I?, Love Thy Neighbor, Love in Bloom, June in January, With Every Breath I Take, Love Is Just Around the Corner, Soon, It's Easy to Remember, Without a Word of Warning, I'm an Old Cowhand, Pennies from Heaven, Sweet Lailani, Blue Hawaii, Small Fry, I've Got a Pocketful of Dreams, Moonlight Becomes You, Swinging on a Star, But Beautiful, White Christmas.

Academy Award for acting in 1944 movie GOING MY WAY. Later outstanding performances in movies LITTLE BOY LOST (1953), COUNTRY GIRL (1954), MAN ON FIRE (1957). Four sons from first marriage to singer-actress Dixie Lee active in show business, sometimes worked as quartet; Gary most successful as single. After wife's death Bing married actress Kathryn Grant and raised another family.

Few appearances on early TV. In late 50s some excellent specials. Own non-musical TV show in 1964-5. In following years frequent M.C. of the Hollywood Palace, also guest appearances on various TV shows. In these years, activities slowed. Credited as composer or lyricist of noteworthy songs including From Monday On (1928), At Your Command and Where the Blue of the Night (1931), Waltzing in a Dream (1932), A Ghost of a Chance (1933).

vo B

(GEORGE ROBERT CROSBY)

Born August 23, 1913, Spokane, Wash.

Younger brother of all-time great entertainer Bing Crosby. Successful career leading dixieland-styled big band many years beginning 1935. Husky singing voice with family resemblance to Bing's but with slight quaver, at best on up-tempo songs. Attended Gonzaga University, while there took singing jobs including radio work. Vocalist with Anson Weeks 1933-4 and with Dorsey Brothers 1934-5. Began to front own band, formed from nucleus of Ben Pollack band. When Pollack disbanded in 1934, saxman Gil Rodin organized new group as corporation. With him: Yank Lawson (t), Matty Matlock (cl), Eddie Miller (ts), Nappy Lamare (g), Ray Bauduc (d), Gil Bowers (p), Deane Kincaide (ts, ar). They jobbed till early 1935, recorded under names of Gil Rodin and Clark Randall, landed job on Ruth Etting radio show with augmented group. Rodin hired Bob Crosby as front man and singer, signed with Decca mid-1935. Arrangements by Matlock, Kincaide and bassist Bob Haggart gave band distinctive sound. First big band with strong dixieland lines. Handled ballads well, and outstanding jazzmen made it one of the greatest of the big bands. Theme song Summertime. Later jazz stars included Billy Butterfield (t), Muggsy Spanier (t), Irving Fazola (cl), Warren Smith (tb), Floyd O'Brien (tb), Bob Zurke (p), Joe Sullivan (p), Jess Stacy (p), Buddy Morrow (tb; then Moe Zudecoff), Bill Stegmeyer (cl), Hank D'Amico (cl). Best-known numbers included The Old Spinning Wheel, Little Rock Getaway, March of the Bob Cats, South Rampart Street Parade, The Big Noise from Winnetka, Skaters Waltz, Honky Tonk Train Blues, I'm Free (later popular as: What's New?), My Inspiration, Boogie Woogie Maxixe. Bob Cats, eight-piece combo within band, helped popularize authentic dixieland on broad scale.

Band perked up in 1939 when clarinet great Irving Fazola joined. Beautiful clarinet enhanced ensemble sound on lead work, gave warmth to ballads and lilt to jazz. He, Miller, Zurke, Lawson and Butterfield band's top soloists. Clarinetist Matlock concentrated on arranging when Fazola (and later D'Amico) joined. Good female vocalists: Kay Weber, Marion Mann, Teddy Grace, Bonnie King, Liz Tilton, and Doris Day briefly in mid-1940. In 1938-9 long run at Chicago's Black Hawk Restaurant boosted band, as did subbing for Benny Goodman on 1939 summer Camel Caravan: so successful Camel continued band into 1939-40 season. Band style more commercial in early 40s when Jimmy Mundy and Paul Weston took over some arranging, reverted more to earlier dixieland when Lawson rejoined summer 1941. Disbanded in December 1942.

Then movie work for Crosby. Military service, World War II; led bands, conducted shows. After discharge resumed as bandleader in modern style with no great success. Later reverted to dixieland, hired former key men. Recordings infrequent but much radio, including Jack Benny show early 50s and own Club 15 series. On early TV, and outstanding daytime 1953-6 show featured good jazz combo and singers Joanie O'Brien, Carol Richards and Modernaires. Night-time TV shows. Active in 60s, often led combo modeled after Bob Cats. In 1972 became part of stage show featuring former bandleaders and singers. Appeared in movies as single or with band: LET'S MAKE MUSIC (1940), SIS HOPKINS and ROOKIES ON PARADE (1941), PRESENTING LILY MARS, THOUSANDS CHEER, YOUTH ON PARADE, REVEILLE WITH BEVERLY (1943), THE SINGING SHERIFF, MEET MISS BOBBY SOCKS, PARDON MY RHYTHM, KANSAS CITY KITTY, MY GAL LOVES MUSIC, SEE HERE PRIVATE HARGROVE (1944), WHEN YOU'RE SMILING (1950), TWO TICKETS TO BROADWAY (1951), THE ROAD TO BALI (1952), SENIOR PROM (1958), THE FIVE PENNIES (1959).

Born c. 1901

Died February 27, 1956, Montclair, N.J.

Bandleader of 30s, most noted as proprietor of famous Meadowbrook in Cedar Grove, N.J., key spot for name bands. After years as bandleader, by mid-30s led good sweet band regularly at Meadowbrook. Later in 1936 when Meadowbrook began booking other bands, Dailey toured. By late 30s band had gimmick. At end of number band would stop, Dailey would say "Stop and Go!" and band would resume for half chorus or so in same tempo. Billed as Frank Dailey and His Stop and Go Orchestra. Disbanded in 1939 and became owner of Meadowbrook. Leading bands booked there for years; prestigious spot with lots of airtime. Popular radio feature for years was regular Saturday afternoon broadcast from there, which gave bands valuable showcase.

(TADLEY EWING DAMERON)Born February 21, 1917, Cleveland, OhioDied March 8, 1965, New York, N.Y.

Important early figure in development of bop particularly as arranger and composer. Wrote outstanding charts for hard-swinging bop combos, later for large bands. Began professionally as pianist in 1938-9 in Ohio area with bands and accompanying singers, even then experimenting with unorthodox, innovating piano chords and structures. Worked with Video Musso in New York in 1940, also arranged. Later in 1940 joined Harlan Leonard in Kansas City as arranger, scored Dameron Stomp, Rock and Ride, A La Bridges, 400 Swing, Keep Rockin'. Defense work, World War II. Later in 40s arranged for Jimmie Lunceford, Count Basie, George Auld. Period with Billy Eckstine's bop-styled big band in mid-40s furthered his arranging style. Arranged for Dizzy Gillespie; outstanding numbers Hot House, Emanon, Our Delight. Own combo in New York in 1948. Co-leader with Miles Davis at Paris Jazz Festival in 1949, then composed and arranged for Ted!) Heath band in England. In 1951 to Cleveland as promoter, also managed restaurant. Late 1951-2 with Bull Moose Jackson as pianist-arranger, then led big bop band. Freelanced, concentrating on arranging and composing. In late 50s career interrupted by narcotics. Resumed in 1961 as arranger. Illness forced retirement in late 1964. Compositions included Good Bait, If You Could See Me Now, Hot House, Cool Breeze, Our Delight, The Squirrel, Fountainbleau, Stay on It, Casbah, Lady Bird, Dial B for Beauty.

*Born c. 1900, Richmond, Va.
Died c. 1946, New York, N.Y.*

Pianist-vocalist best known for a series of combo records in 1935-6: happy, swinging jazz on worthy pop tunes of period featuring good jazzmen. Swinging pianist and jazz-phrased, humorous singer. Began professionally about 1918, toured with shows into mid-20s. Based in Buffalo in later 20s. In early 30s accompanist for dancer Bill Robinson. Led band in Cleveland 1932-4. In early 1935 in New York at Adrian's Tap Room, later at other clubs including Hickory House. But apart from swinging records, won little attention in music world, soon faded into obscurity.

414. DANKWORTH, JOHNNY

as ar cm B

Born September 20, 1927, London, England

Excellent alto sax soloist, early influence in development of modern jazz in England. Soft-toned but driving style. Early in career played in ship bands on crossings to U.S., became interested in modern jazz. With various groups in England in late 40s, formed band in 1950. Groups in early 50s had inventive, tightly knit arrangements, featured his alto sax. Soon a top jazz star in England. In 1959 brought band to U.S. In 60s extensive arranging and composing. Jobbed with wife, jazz-styled singer Cleo Laine, including U.S. appearances. Composing-arranging-conducting for English movies and TV. His later works took on deep, descriptive tone and unorthodox style, strived for new horizons. On Queen Elizabeth's Honors List for music 1974.

(CHARLES DAVENPORT)

Born April 23, 1894, Anniston, Ala.

Died December 2, 1955, Cleveland, Ohio

Early ragtime pianist, pioneer in boogie woogie style. Played church organ early, then piano in honkytonks. Vaudeville act with Dora Carr. Much touring in carnivals and vaudeville from 1914 through 20s. Also sang. In 30s worked in Cleveland, then more touring. Inactive intervals in later years, worked off and on in New York, Nashville, Cleveland until death. Wrote lasting jazz and novelty numbers: Mama Don't Allow It, You Rascal You, Cow Cow Blues, Do You Call That Religion? Lesser songs: Low Down Man Blues, I Ain't No Ice Man, Buckwheat Cakes, State Street Jive, Hobson City Stomp and other blues. In 1942-3 Freddie Slack and vocalist Ella Mae Morse had hit record, Cow Cow Boogie, adapted from Davenport's earlier Cow Cow Blues. After some controversy Davenport sold out rights to tune.

known as WILD BILL DAVIS)

Born November 24, 1918, Glasgow, Mo.

Pioneer jazz organist. Grew up in Parsons, Kan. Attended Tuskegee Institute and Wiley College. Early musical work in late 30s as guitarist-arranger with Milt Larkin. To Chicago in early 40s for freelance jobs and arranging. With Louis Jordan 1945-8 as pianist-arranger, sometimes played organ. In late 40s organist in Chicago and New York clubs. In early 50s began leading combo. Records soon caught public fancy. Continued arranging; charts for Duke Ellington and Count Basie. His arrangement of April in Paris for Basie big hit in mid-50s. In later years his powerful, swinging organ style moved from jazz to rhythm and blues. Active through 60s, took European tour with Ellington in 1969.

427. DAVIS, MEYER

Well-known leader and booker of society bands from pre-1920 into 70s. Organized first band in high school. By 20 had bands at Willard in Washington, D.C., and Bellevue-Stratford in Philadelphia at same time, fronting each band on alternate weeks. This gave him idea of furnishing dance bands on mass scale. Through the years he gradually built up booking facilities and reputation, was able to furnish band for any occasion on 24-hour notice. Sometimes dozens of units worked for him on same night at different locations. Based mainly in New York, furnished bands in other cities too. These included Washington, where played many formal affairs for six Presidents. His units first and foremost dance bands, with lilting, accentuated beat that drew dancers onto floor. Davis units flexible in size and style, could play any type of job. Kept libraries up to date with latest show tunes, popular songs and novelties. In later years seldom appeared himself as leader, but continued active as booker into 70s.

vo cm lyr

(THERESA MARIA STABILE)

Born February 3, 1919, Newark, N.J.

Personable singer with George Hall band, very popular in 30s. Excellent voice, effective on ballads and outstanding in belting out novelties and swingers, good showman. Replaced Hall's star singer Loretta Lee after coaching by Hall. With band 1935-41. Ties with Hall so close he adopted her after several years. Also recorded under own name, sometimes as Dolly Dawn & Her Dawn Patrol. Hall band fixture at New York's Hotel Taft in 30s, and great radio coverage from there made Dolly and band popular. In 1941 Hall retired and turned band over to Dolly awhile. In 1942 she turned to career as single, played clubs and theatres, sang on radio. Record output declined and career faded in late 40s. Worked occasionally in 50s, made a few recordings. Some composing, including Keep Dreaming and The Little Birdies.

(DORIS KAPPELHOFF)

vo

Born April 3, 1922, Cincinnati, Ohio

Band singer who entered movies in late 40s, became top star in late 50s and 60s. Excellent singer with soft, ingratiating voice. In movies displayed considerable ability in dramatic and comedy roles, especially latter. Studied dancing early, at 12 toured with Fanchon & Marco stage show. Early partner Jerry Doherty. Broken leg turned her to singing. Sang on radio station WLW in Cincinnati and with local bands including Jimmy James around 1937-8, Barney Rapp 1939 and briefly with Bob Crosby in 1940. Some movie work at intervals during 1939-42, small roles in minor films: SAGE OF DEATH VALLEY, VILLAGE BARN DANCE, THOU SHALT NOT KILL, FEDERAL FUGITIVES, MR. CELEBRITY. With Les Brown mid-1940 to early 1941. Quit to give birth to son. In 1943 on Cincinnati station WSAI. Rejoined Les Brown 1943, gained fame in 1944 with hit record of Sentimental Journey. Much record work with Brown band. Left in late 1946 for career as single. On radio shows of Bob Hope and Jack Kirkwood. In late 1947 worked briefly with Frank Sinatra on Hit Parade radio show. Good role in 1948 movie ROMANCE ON THE HIGH SEAS (featuring hit tune It's Magic). Starred in musicals in early 50s, occasionally played dramatic parts. Mostly lightweight All-American-girl roles. Gordon MacRae, Gene Nelson, Dennis Morgan, Jack Carson worked with her in musicals. In 1955 starred in Ruth Etting role in big musical-drama LOVE ME OR LEAVE ME. Performance outstanding, established her as top star. More important movies followed: good dramas, a few major musicals, a series of popular comedies. Movie career lasted through 60s. In late 60s and early 70s on TV in own situation-comedy show. During two decades of movie work, Doris recorded frequently and her records sold well.

(BONIFACE FERDINAND LEONARDO DEFRANCO)

Born February 17, 1923, Camden, N.J.

Top modern-style clarinetist from mid-40s into 70s. Great facility and drive, cool and vibrato-less tone. Grew up in Philadelphia. At 14 won Major Bowes competition and Tommy Dorsey swing contest. Co-leader of teenage band, played on Philadelphia radio. In late 1939 with Scat Davis. In early 40s with Gene Krupa, Ted Fio Rito, Charlie Barnet. Joined Tommy Dorsey band in late 1944, remained till mid-1946. Won kudos for swinging clarinet work with Dorsey. In later 40s with Boyd Raeburn, again with Dorsey. With Count Basie combo in 1950. Led big band in 1951, quartet in 1952. Led combo in later 50s. Won Down Beat poll as top clarinetist for unprecedented string of years, 1945-55. Strangely, new jazz critics began to call DeFranco's work "emotionless," panned records. Career suffered for a time. In mid-60s teamed with accordionist Tommy Gumina awhile. In 1965 replaced Ray McKinley as leader of Glenn Miller Orchestra, continued into 70s. Band perpetuated Miller sound and hits, featured DeFranco's still outstanding clarinet. Left band early 1974 to lead jazz combo. Composer of jazz numbers including Strings Have Strung, Really Swell, Warm Evening.

Born December 2, 1918, Los Angeles, Calif.

Accordionist-composer-bandleader who achieved some prominence on TV in 50s and 60s, especially on Johnny Carson show. Attended U.C.L.A. Staff musician in Los Angeles for radio and movies. With Matty Malneck combo in late 30s, attracted attention in several movies as capable but goofy-acting accordionist. Pioneer in elevating accordion to respectable place in jazz. Military service, World War II. In 1946-7 led combo on west coast, worked with Frankie Laine mid-1946. Conductor-arranger for Abe Burrows radio show in late 40s, later on TV. Similar work on early TV for Broadway Open House and Herb Shriner show. In 50s composed popular songs Hoop-Dee-Doo and Orange Colored Sky (1950), Shanghai and Be My Life's Companion (1951), Just Another Polka (1953). Lesser songs: My Lady Loves to Dance; Wrong Wrong Wrong; Send My Baby Back to Me; The Little White Horse; Roller Coaster; The Big Beat; Gee, I'm Glad I Married You; Zone 28; Pin Wheel; Soft Shoe Sam; Wings Over Mars; Frantic for Five; Mr. Honky Tonk; Rumpus Room. Chief collaborators: wife Anne, Bob Hiliard, Sammy Gallop, William Stein, Allan Roberts. In mid-60s led excellent big band on Carson show. In late 60s and 70s more TV conducting on special programs.

Born December 19, 1911, Flint, Mich.

Tenor especially good on Irish songs. In 1930 played local clubs, performed on radio. On west coast 1933-4 with Raymond Paige and Orville Knapp bands. In Chicago in 1935 with Ben Pollack. On NBC's Breakfast Club on radio 1936-7. Later 1937 also on Club Matinee, Wednesday Night Minstrel and Jamboree radio shows. Late 1937-8 on Fibber McGee & Molly show. With Paul Whiteman orchestra in 1939. In 40s worked as single in clubs, theatres and radio (at times on own singing series). After Harmonicats record hit of Peg o' My Heart in 1947, Dennis recording of same also well received. Career later waned a bit, revived in 1953 when several recordings plus club and TV appearances led to more radio work in 1954.

(real name BREITENFELD)

Born November 25, 1924, San Francisco, Calif.

Most popular alto saxist of cool jazz. Winner of many polls from mid-50s through 60s. Rose to fame in Dave Brubeck Quartet with cool, fluent sax solos. He and pianist Brubeck formed perfectly integrated team. Desmond tasteful and inventive on ballads, light-swinging and subtle on up-tempo numbers. Attended San Francisco State College. Military service, late 40s. With Jack Finney and Jack Sheedy in 1950, Alvino Rey in 1951. Also freelanced on west coast during this period. Joined Brubeck in mid-1951. Soon group rose to top. Group active many years. In 60s Desmond left and returned at intervals, also working with others and recording on his own. Maintained status as star on modern alto sax.

457. DeSYLVA, BUDDY lyr cm
(or B. G.; GEORGE GARD DeSYLVA)

*Born January 27, 1895, New York, N.Y.
Died July 11, 1950, Los Angeles, Calif.*

Lyricist in famed songwriting team of Henderson-DeSylva-Brown of 20s and 30s. Collaborated with other composers before and after to amass big batch of hit songs. Grew up in California, attended USC awhile. Early interest in show business, tried writing songs. Al Jolson took him to New York, used several of his songs in 1918 Broadway show SINBAD. Jolson and DeSylva collaborated on several hits in ensuing years. DeSylva wrote for shows LA, LA, LUCILLE (1919), SALLY and BOMBO (1921), ORANGE BLOSSOMS and THE YANKEE PRINCESS (1922), GEORGE WHITE'S SCANDALS OF 1922-1923-1924, SWEET LITTLE DEVIL (1924), BIG BOY and CAPTAIN JINKS (1925). Miscellaneous songs for other productions. Famous early songs: Avalon; April Showers; Look for the Silver Lining; A Kiss in the Dark; Somebody Loves Me; Alabama Bound; California, Here I Come; If You Knew Susie. Joined composer Ray Henderson and lyricist Lew Brown in 1925 to write score for show GEORGE WHITE'S SCANDALS. Team remained together to produce outstanding array of song hits in 20s into 1931.

(See biography herein on HENDERSON-DESYLVA-BROWN for details and song listings of team's career.)

After leaving Henderson and Brown, wrote lyrics for 1932 Broadway musical TAKE A CHANCE. Became movie producer, wrote music for movies. In mid-30s produced popular Shirley Temple films: THE LITTLE COLONEL, THE LITTLEST REBEL, CAPTAIN JANUARY, POOR LITTLE RICH GIRL, STOWAWAY. Also produced Broadway shows DUBARRY WAS A LADY (1939), LOUISIANA PURCHASE and PANAMA HATTIE (1940). Head of Paramount Pictures several years. Music publisher, later recording executive with Capitol Records. In later years ill health curtailed activities. Other song collaborators included Gus Kahn, George and Ira Gershwin, Jerome Kern, Vincent Rose, Joseph Meyer, Victor Herbert, Ballard MacDonald, Lewis Gensler, James Hanley, Nacio Herb Brown, Richard Whiting, Vincent Youmans, Emmerich Kalman, Louis Silvers.

467. DIXON, JOE cl as ts b-s vo B
Born April 21, 1917, Lynn, Mass.

Good jazz clarinetist in mainstream style. Attended New England Conservatory. To New York in 1934. First big band job with Bill Staffon 1935-6; also with Adrian Rollini. Joined Tommy Dorsey early 1936, remained one year. Worked briefly in 1937 with Gus Arnheim. Joined Bunny Berigan in May 1937, remained over a year as featured soloist. Clarinet tone at this time thin and reedy; played multi-note solos. In later years tone became fuller, lost rasp; solos swung in more leisurely fashion. With Fred Waring about five years, 1938-43. In 1943 military service. After discharge mostly with dixieland groups in New York, Eddie Condon and Miff Mole among others. In 50s freelanced, led combo in New York. In early 60s career curtailed by auto accident. Taught music, worked as disc jockey. In later 60s again led combo.

cl as B

Born April 12, 1892, New Orleans, La.

Died August 8, 1940, Chicago, Ill.

Jazz great on clarinet in traditional New Orleans style. Long career in Chicago. Warm tone and forceful solo attack; fit in well in small-band ensembles. Older brother of drummer Baby Dodds. Took up clarinet at 17. Parade and dance jobs locally till 1920, including periods with Kid Ory and Fate Marable on riverboats. With King Oliver in Chicago, remained 1920-4. Made Chicago base thereafter, worked with Honore Dutrey and Freddie Keppard. Led band from late 1924 through 20s, mostly at Kelly's Stables. Brother Baby Dodds worked often with him, especially in late 20s. Much free-lance recording, including jazz classics with Louis Armstrong. Also recorded under own name. In 30s led band at Chicago clubs. At times during 30s he and brother had to drive cab to earn living. One trip to New York in 1938, soon returned to Chicago. Heart attack in 1939 caused inactivity. In 1940 played occasionally until death.

Born c. 1892, Charleston, Mass.Died October 1, 1930, New York, N.Y.

Song and dance man, starred in Broadway musicals ZIEGFELD FOLLIES OF 1920, MOLLY DARLING (1922), BE YOURSELF (1924), SUNNY (1925), ROSALIE (1928), SONS O' GUNS (1929; also collaborated on book), AMERICA'S SWEETHEART (1931). Wrote book for PRINCESS CHARMING (1930). Starred in vaudeville, developed into comedian to add to singing and dancing. "Shadow dance" routine featured in act.

477. DONAHUE, SAM

ts ar cm B

Born March 8, 1918, Detroit, Mich.Died March 22, 1974, Reno, Nevada, of cancer.

Bandleader and tenor saxist with powerful jumping style and distinctive warm tone. In late 30s led good young band in Detroit. Sonny Burke took over when Donahue joined Gene Krupa in mid-1938 for two years. Also in 1940 briefly with Harry James and Benny Goodman. In early 1941-2 took back former band. Excellent band; in 1942 played Glen Island Casino in New Rochelle, N.Y. Donahue composed numbers featured by band: Lonesome, It Counts a Lot, Skooter, I Never Purposely Hurt You, Six Mile Stretch, Sax-a-Boogie. Military service, took over Artie Shaw's big Navy band upon Shaw's discharge. Outstanding band, made impressive V-Discs.

After discharge formed great band in 1946: contagious beat, swung, good arrangements and soloists. Donahue sax featured. Career going well when called back into service in 1951 for about six months. Joined Tommy Dorsey in late 1951, left in 1953 to form another band. In early 1954 bandleader Ray Anthony bought Billy May band, turned it over to Donahue to lead. Lasted several years. Donahue led own band again in late 50s. Worked with Stan Kenton about a year during 1960-1. In late 1961 became leader of Tommy Dorsey Orchestra (Dorsey having died in 1956). This unit perpetuated Dorsey name, featured his arrangements. Also featured: trumpet star Charlie Shavers, vocal group Pied Pipers, singers Helen Forrest, Frank Sinatra, Jr. Unit later billed as Frank Sinatra Jr. Show, became showcase for latter, and size of band shrank. Became music director of New York's Playboy Club. Led band in Reno from 1969.

483. DORSEY BROTHERS ORCHESTRA

Separate careers of brothers Jimmy and Tommy listed under own names. This account covers periods when they joined to lead Dorsey Brothers band.

By late 20s, musical talents of Dorseys placed them among leading musicians of day. Organized band for recording and special engagements, employed excellent musicians. Sporadic recording began 1928 and continued into 1934, producing good records. Outstanding sidemen included Mannie Klein (t), Mickey Bloom (t), Arthur Schutt (p), Phil Napoleon (t), Glenn Miller (tr, ar), Eddie Lang (g), Muggsy Spanier (c), Bunny Berigan (t). Vocalists included Smith Ballew, Scrappy Lambert, Mildred Bailey, Bing Crosby, Kay Weber. In late 1931-2 led band in Broadway musical EVERYBODY'S WELCOME.

In April 1934 Dorseys organized permanent band. Played swing and ballads; most arrangements by Glenn Miller. After one-nighters, in summer 1934 played Sands Point Beach Club in Long Island, got generous remotes on NBC. In August began heavy recording with Decca. By late 1934 band established. Tommy fronted. Outstanding sidemen included Glenn Miller, George Thow (t), Charlie Spivak (t), Skeets Herfurt (ts), Ray McKinley (d), Bobby Van Eps (p). Vocalists: Kay Weber, Don Matteson, Bob Crosby (replaced in spring 1935 by Bob Eberly). Theme song Sandman.

In May 1935 band opened at Glen Island Casino in New Rochelle, N.Y. Brothers often fought. Tommy had intense drive while Jimmy was inclined to be easy-going. On Memorial Day they had a violent argument and separated, to remain distant for most of next ten years.

Jimmy took over the band, with Bobby Byrne handling Tommy's trombone solos. Tommy took over nucleus of Joe Haymes band that September. Each became successful as bandleader.

In mid-40s brothers worked together on 1947 biographical movie THE FABULOUS DORSEYS. Reunited in mid-1953 when Jimmy joined Tommy's band, remained together until Tommy's death in late 1956. The band billed as The Tommy Dorsey Orchestra Featuring Jimmy Dorsey. With emphasis on nostalgia, former hits of both featured heavily. But repertoire also included current songs and new jazz originals. Summer TV show in 1954, another in 1955-6 on which rock singer Elvis Presley introduced. Vocalists: Lynn Roberts, Johnny Amoroso, Gordon Polk. Arrangements mostly by Neal Hefti and Howard Gibeling. Band in long run at New York's Hotel Statler when Tommy died. Jimmy took over although in bad health. Jimmy died in mid-1957 and trumpet star Lee Castle became leader.

484. DORSEY, JIMMY as cl t cm B

Born February 29, 1904, Shenandoah, Pa.

Died June 12, 1957, New York, N.Y.

All-time great jazz soloist and bandleader. Facile on both his instruments, excellent technique. Usually played ballads on alto sax in beautifully flowing style, jazz on clarinet. Distinctive vibrato on both, especially on clarinet, made work easily identifiable. Beginning in 1935 led big band until early 50s in sweet-swing style. Older brother of trombonist Tommy. Brothers learned music as youngsters, played in father's band for parades and concerts, had own dance band. In early 20s they played with Scranton Sirens and California Ramblers. Beginning about 1925 they freelanced in New York, became established as excellent section men and hot soloists. Recordings prolific. Jimmy and Benny Goodman friendly rivals for hot clarinet spots in recording studios in late 20s and early 30s. Dorseys with Jean Goldkette band in 1926, Paul Whiteman in 1927. Jimmy with Ted Lewis in mid-1930, toured Europe. In early 30s on radio with Fred Rich, Nat Shilkret, Victor Young, Jacques Renard, Andre Kostelanetz, Rudy Vallee, Lennie Hayton and others.

(See DORSEY BROTHERS ORCHESTRA biography for details of brothers as co-leaders and for record sessions 1928-35 and dance band 1934-5.)

Jimmy immediately successful as band-leader in 1935. Featured many swing arrangements, handled ballads well. Vocalists Kay Weber and Bob Eberly. Recorded heavily for Decca 1935-1946. In January 1936 landed plum job on Bing Crosby's Kraft Music Hall on radio. In 1936 swing became the rage, and each show featured Dorsey band in swing number. Young Bobby Byrne outstanding soloist on trombone. Other good sidemen through the years: Skeets Herfurt (ts), Ray McKinley (d), Shorty Sherock (t), Herbie Haymer (ts), Freddie Slack (p), Buddy Schutz (d), Joe Lippman (p, ar), Sonny Lee (tb), Babe Russin (ts). Don Matteson with band years as trombonist and occasional vocalist. Arrangers included Larry Clinton, Bobby Van Eps, Skeets Herfurt, Fud Livingston, Toots Camarata (who wrote several swing numbers featured by band). Theme song Contrasts, beautiful showcase for the Dorsey sax. Early instrumental hits: John Silver, Parade of the Milk Bottle Caps, Dusk in Upper Sandusky.

Band built name through 30s, hit peak in early 40s with record hits of Latin-American songs Green Eyes, Yours, Maria Elena, Amapola. Vocalist Helen O'Connell joined band in early 1939, teamed with Eberly on many hits. Other popular records Blue Champagne, Time Was, Embraceable You, Tangerine. During this period chief arrangers Toots Camarata and Joe Lippman, with assists from Hal Mooney and Don Redman. Band in several movies: THE FLEET'S IN (1942), 1

DOOD IT (1943), LOST IN A HAREM, FOUR JILLS IN A JEEP and HOLLYWOOD CANTEEN (1944). In 1947 Dorseys started in biographical movie THE FABULOUS DORSEYS. Jimmy used various vocalists when O'Connell and Eberly departed after early 40s. In late 40s and early 50s had good band along semi-modern lines, also featured dixieland combo during dixieland revival, records of which well received.

(See DORSEY BROTHERS ORCHESTRA biography for details of 1953-6 period.)

After death of Tommy in late 1956, Jimmy took over band. In 1957 ill health, first reported as neuritis, forced him to leave band. Trumpet star Lee Castle took over, used altoist Dick Stabile on some records. Jimmy died of cancer in mid-1957 with hit record So Rare then going strong. Composed swing numbers John Silver, Parade of the Milk Bottle Caps, Dusk in Upper Sandusky, Mood Hollywood, Shim Sham Shimmy, Beebe, Waddlin' at the Waldorf, Contrasts (originally Oodles of Noodles). Composed popular songs Just Lately (1937), It's the Dreamer in Me (1938), It's Anybody's Moon and So Many Times (1939), Talkin' to My Heart (1940), Isle of Pines and Once and for All (1941), I'm Glad There Is You (1942), Two Again (1944).

485. DORSEY, TOMMY tb t cm B*Born November 19, 1905, Shenandoah, Pa.Died November 26, 1956, Greenwich, Conn.*

All-time great trombonist and band-leader. As studio musician in early days played in light-swinging style, later concentrated on straight solo work, became famous for smooth phrasing and beautiful tone. As bandleader, one of most popular. Younger brother of Jimmy, bandleader and star on alto sax and clarinet. Brothers learned music as youngsters, played in father's band for parades and concerts, had own dance band. In early 20s they played with Scranton Sirens and California Ramblers. Beginning about 1925 they freelanced in New York, became established as excellent section men and hot soloists. Recordings prolific. With Jean Goldkette band in 1926, Paul Whiteman 1927, Tommy with Eddie Elkins, Vincent Lopez, Roger Wolfe Kahn, Rudy Vallee, Lennie Hayton, Andre Kostelanetz, Victor Young, Nat Shilkret, Fred Rich (including radio work with some).

(See DORSEY BROTHERS ORCHESTRA biography for details of brothers as co-leaders for record sessions 1928-35 and dance band 1934-5.)

Using nucleus of the Joe Haymes band, Tommy opened at New York's Hotel Lincoln and in September 1935 began recording with Victor. Immense output over next 15 years. Early outstanding sidemen Sterling Bose (t), Joe Dixon (cl), Dave Tough (d), Bud Freeman (ts), Bunny Berigan (t), Pee Wee Erwin (t), Johnny Mince (cl), Howard Smith (p), Skeets Herfurt (as), Max Kaminsky (t). In 30s featured dixieland combo within band, Clambake Seven. Later sidemen Babe Russin (ts), Yank Lawson (t), Buddy Rich (d), Don Lodice (ts), Joe Bushkin (p), Ziggy Elman (t), Buddy DeFranco (cl), Charlie Shavers (t), Boomie Richman (ts). Vocalists in 30s Jack Leonard and Edythe Wright. In 1940-2 Frank Sinatra star vocalist. Other vocalists in early 40s Connie Haines, Jo Stafford, Pied Pipers, Dick Haymes; Bob Allen in mid-40s. In later 40s Stuart Foster featured vocalist. Most important arranger Sy Oliver; joined 1939, gave band many hits. Other arrangers Deane Kincaide, Paul Weston, Axel Stordahl, Bill Finegan. Theme I'm Getting Sentimental Over You fit Tommy's trombone style perfectly, became famous. Popular feature of band: series of arrangements in "Marie cycle" (Who?; Blue Moon; Yearning; East of the Sun; etc.) with male vocal and band answering in background, followed by jazz solos.

1936 summer radio show featuring swing music, especially Bud Freeman's hot work. Later that year on Jack Pearl radio show, own 1937 summer show. In fall 1937 began radio series for Raleigh-Kool which lasted three years. Band hit big early 1937 with record coupling Marie and Song of India featuring outstanding arrangements and Bunny Berigan solos. Another hit, Boogie Woogie, attracted little notice when released in 1938 but became all-time hit when reissued in 1943 during record ban. Other hit records Once in a While; Music, Maestro, Please; Yes, Indeed!; I'll Be Seeing You; I'll Never Smile Again; This Love of Mine; Will You Still Be Mine?; Easy Does It; Just as Though You Were Here; On the Sunny Side of the Street.

In 1942 strings added, large-sized band maintained awhile. Under disciplined leadership band consistently impeccable with excellent sidemen-arrangers-vocalists.

During 40s band on radio series of varying formats. In movies LAS VEGAS NIGHTS (1941), SHIP AHOY (1942), DUBARRY WAS A LADY, GIRL CRAZY and PRESENTING LILY MARS (1943), BROADWAY RHYTHM (1944), THRILL OF A ROMANCE (1945), DISC JOCKEY (1951). In 1947 Dorseys starred in biographical movie THE FABULOUS DORSEYS. Tommy in A SONG IS BORN (1948). During hectic days of late 40s and 50s when many bands died, Tommy's kept working.

(See DORSEY BROTHERS ORCHESTRA biography for details of 1953-6 period).

Tommy died tragically: after heavy meal, choked to death in sleep. A few days later Jackie Gleason presented TV tribute to Tommy. Former star sidemen and singers played Tommy's old hits. Jimmy also appeared. Tommy co-composer of several songs popular in 1939: In the Middle of a Dream, To You, This Is No Dream, You Taught Me to Love Again.

499. DUCHIN, EDDY

p B

*Born April 10, 1910, Cambridge, Mass.
Died February 9, 1951, New York, N.Y.*

Popular pianist-bandleader in 30s and 40s. Known for unique piano introductions to band's numbers and for light, flowery style. Solos simple, sometimes one-finger melody line; remained close to melody, made some use of dynamics. Style imitated by many. Hotel-type band with average musicianship. Attended pharmacy school, turned to music. Began professionally about 1929. Early, important job about two years with Leo Reisman at New York's Central Park Casino. Piano style and handsome looks attracted fans. In late 1931 formed band, later played Central Park Casino as bandleader. Important early engagement at Chicago's Congress Hotel in 1934. During 30s band vocalist Lew Sherwood; also trumpeter and chief Duchin aide. Themes Be My Love and My Twilight Dream, latter adapted from Chopin. In 30s Milt Shaw provided many arrangements, also played violin with band.

Band had sustaining radio shows in early 1934. Late 1934-5 on Ed Wynn Texaco show. In 1936 on Burns & Allen show. During 1937-9 on La Salle show, Kopper's Coke show, Hour of Romance, and Pall Mall show with Morton Downey. In movies CORONADO (1935) and THE HIT PARADE (1937). Recordings numerous. By late 30s band changed: slightly larger, better musically. But peak years of popularity around 1934-6. Military service, 1942-5. Joined Kraft Music Hall radio show in 1946, with Eddie Foy & The Music Hall in 1947, own show in 1949. Led good band these years, also intervals as single. Never regained former popularity, and career curtailed by illness. Died in 1951 from leukemia.

In 1956 excellent movie on Duchin life, THE EDDY DUCHIN STORY. Tyrone Power portrayed Duchin capably, with Carmen Cavallaro's piano on soundtrack. Eddy's son Peter successful society pianist-bandleader, adopts a little of father's style but far more advanced musically.

(ELMER LEWIS DUNHAM)

Born November 16, 1914, Brockton, Mass.

Trumpeter-bandleader of 30s and 40s. Attained prominence as soloist with Glen Gray, particularly on showcase Memories of You. Began studying music at 7, played in local bands as teenager. In late 20s worked in New York. With Ben Bernie about six months, then two years with Paul Tremaine 1929-31. In late 1931 led own band called Sonny Lee & His New York Yankees. Joined Glen Gray in early 1932, remained until early 1940 except for unsuccessful venture as bandleader several months in 1937. Formed big band in early 1940 notable for good musicianship and arrangements by George Williams. Included Corky Corcoran on tenor sax and vocalist Ray Kellogg. Theme Memories of You. Band in 1942 movies BEHIND THE EIGHT BALL and OFF THE BEATEN TRACK. Band played top spots but attained no great popularity. In 1951 Dunham disbanded, worked awhile with Bernie Mann and Tommy Dorsey. In later 50s led band off and on. In 60s settled in Miami, freelanced, occasionally fronted band.

509. DURANTE, JIMMY .vo p cm lyr B

(nicknamed Schnoz or Schnozzola)

Born February 10, 1893, New York, N.Y.

Lovable little comedian with long and popular career in all phases of show business. Big nose butt of many jokes. Pianist and singer of songs in patter style; composed many of his featured numbers. "Sang" in raspy, choppy manner, half talking. Purposely murdered language as part of act. Studied piano at early age; first club job at Coney Island at 17. In 1916 organized combo called Original New Orleans Jazz Band, featured dixieland. First played in New York area, then other locales. In 1923 joined Lou Clayton and Eddie Jackson to form vaudeville team of Clayton, Jackson & Durante. Team featured song, dance and comedy, became one of New York's favorites. Team in Broadway shows SHOW GIRL (1929) and THE NEW YORKERS (1930) and in movie ROADHOUSE NIGHTS (1930). Durante star of trio, resisted solo offers until Depression hit vaudeville. Then signed movie contract with Clayton as manager and Jackson contributing material. Durante immediate hit in NEW ADVENTURES OF GET-RICH-QUICK WALLINGFORD and CUBAN LOVE SONG (1931), THE PASSIONATE PLUMBER and SPEAK EASILY (1932). Prominent roles in movie musicals BROADWAY TO HOLLYWOOD (1933), GEORGE WHITE'S SCANDALS, HOLLYWOOD PARTY and STUDENT TOUR (1934). Movie career waned late 30s to early 40s.

Starred in Broadway musicals STRIKE ME PINK (1933), JUMBO (1935), RED HOT AND BLUE (1936), STARS IN YOUR EYES (1939), KEEP OFF THE GRASS (1940). Many guest spots on radio during 30s, popularized own song Inka Dinka Doo in 1933. Starred on 1934 Chase & Sanborn Hour, also on Billy Rose's Jumbo Show in 1936. Co-starred with Garry Moore on popular radio show 1943-6. Own show 1947 into early 50s. Good roles in several movies of middle and late 40s, more popular than ever. Suffered loss in 1950 when Lou Clayton died. Busy schedule in 50s and 60s. Own show on early TV, many guest spots and specials through the years. Sometimes Sonny King and chorus girls worked with him on production numbers, occasionally Jackson. Co-starred with Lennon Sisters on 1969-70 show. Continued club work, in 60s often with Sonny King. Well known but mysterious closing on radio and TV shows was "Goodnight, Mrs. Calabash, wherever you are." Less active in 70s.

Composer or lyricist of songs Inka Dinka Doo; Jimmy, the Well-Dressed Man; Can Broadway Do without Me?; Who Will Be with You When I'm Far Away?; I Ups to Him and He Ups to Me; Umbriago; Start Off Each Day with a Song; Any State in the Forty-Eight Is Great; I'm Jimmy's Girl; Daddy, Your Mama Is Lonesome for You. Chief collaborators Jackie Barnett and Ben Ryan. Biography of Durante, Schnozzola, written by Gene Fowler. Confined to wheelchair after stroke early 1974.

Born 1902Died 1946

Singing and dancing star of Broadway musicals of 20s. Began stage career in THE ROYAL VAGABOND (1919). Became popular with work in ZIEGFELD FOLLIES OF 1920-1921-1922. Co-starred with Eddie Cantor in important musical KID BOOTS (1924). Starred in LUCKY (1927) for modest run. Later in year successful in long-running FIVE O'CLOCK GIRL. In movie musicals THE COCOANUTS (1929) and GLORIFYING THE AMERICAN GIRL (1930).

515. EBERLE, RAY

Born January 19, 1919, Hoosick Falls, N.Y.

Well-known featured vocalist with Glenn Miller band during heyday. Younger brother of Bob Eberly, star vocalist with Jimmy Dorsey. Ray a natural for Miller band. Voice pitched slightly higher than Bob's; its melodious, slightly fragile quality fit perfectly with Miller muted brass and reeds. Ray's spelling of last name correct; Bob had changed spelling earlier to "Eberly." Ray had no professional experience when joined Miller in late 1938 on brother's recommendation. Miller helped coach him in early days. Ray consistently good on vocals, handsome asset to band. Featured on band's Chesterfield radio series and on dozens of records. Two most famous At Last and Moonlight Cocktail. Remained till mid-1942, shortly before Miller entered service. In late 1942 briefly with Gene Krupa, then to Hollywood for Universal shorts and movies including FOLLOW THE BAND, MISTER BIG and HI YA, SAILOR (1943), THIS IS THE LIFE (1944). Worked as single in late 1944-5. Military service awhile in 1945. Led band in later 40s and 50s, featured Miller-styled arrangements and former Miller hits. Billy Maxted wrote some of band's arrangements. By late 50s Eberle less active in music. Occasional TV appearances in 60s and early 70s on nostalgic shows. Around 1970 began singing regularly with Tex Beneke's Miller-style band, mostly on west coast.

516. EBERLY, BOB

vo

Born July 24, 1916, Mechanicville, N.Y.

Prominent vocalist with Jimmy Dorsey band. Rich baritone with excellent phrasing, regarded by many as top male band vocalist 1938-42. Older brother of Ray Eberle, featured singer with Glenn Miller. Bob changed spelling of last name early in career. First gained attention with vocals for Dorsey Brothers Orchestra in spring of 1935, during last few months of band's existence. When Dorseys separated Jimmy continued with band as leader. Eberly stayed until 1943. Vocalist Helen O'Connell joined band early 1939, teamed with Bob on big Dorsey hits in early 40s: Green Eyes, Yours, Amapola, Time Was, Tangerine. Bob sang popular Blue Champagne and The Breeze and I. Eberly featured with Dorsey band in movies THE FLEET'S IN (1942) and I DOOD IT (1943). In 1947 biographical movie THE FABULOUS DORSEYS. Had offers to become a single but remained with Dorsey until military service 1943. During service hitch lost popularity, never really regained it as single in postwar years. In 1953 he and Helen O'Connell with Ray Anthony band on TV series. In 1955 on TV show in New York. Infrequent TV appearances in 50s and 60s, sometimes reuniting with Helen O'Connell on nostalgic shows. Led band on and off, sang mostly at clubs in New York area into 70s.

517. EBSEN, BUDDY cm lyr vo
(CHRISTIAN EBSEN, JR.)Born April 2, 1908, Orlando, Fla.

Known primarily as eccentric dancer and actor. On rare occasions vocalized on stage, in movies and on TV. Educated at University of Florida. Early in career worked with sister Vilma as dance team in vaudeville. Team in Broadway musicals FLYING COLORS (1932) and ZIEGFELD FOLLIES OF 1934, in movie BROADWAY MELODY OF 1936 (1935). After Vilma retired, Buddy worked as dancer-actor. In movie musicals BORN TO DANCE and CAPTAIN JANUARY (1936), BROADWAY MELODY OF 1938 (1937), GIRL OF THE GOLDEN WEST and MY LUCKY STAR (1938), THEY MET IN ARGENTINA (1941), also in film drama-with-music BANJO ON MY KNEE (1936). On Broadway again in YOKEL BOY (1939) and revival of SHOW BOAT (1946). Career waned during 40s. Returned to movies in 50s, developed into competent dramatic actor. Important later movies RED GARTERS (1954) and BREAKFAST AT TIFFANY'S (1961). Big hit during 60s in long-running TV series The Beverly Hillbillies. This led to guest spots on other TV shows, where sometimes sang and danced. Early 70s starred in own TV series Barnaby Jones.

ORIGINAL FAMILY BAND518. ECKSTINE, BILLY vo t v-tb B (WILLIAM CLARENCE ECK-STEIN; nicknamed Mr. B)Born July 8, 1914, Pittsburgh, Pa.

Handsome top singer of late 40s and early 50s. Big baritone voice, smooth and tasteful style despite occasional exaggerated phrasing. Attended Howard University, Washington, D.C. Began singing in small Washington clubs, then in Buffalo, Detroit and Chicago. First prominent as vocalist with Earl Hines 1939-43. Learned to play trumpet with Hines. Left band in late 1943, worked a few months as single. With aid of saxman Budd Johnson in early 1944 formed big band. From mid-1944 to early 1947 band important pioneer of bop. Dizzy Gillespie served awhile as sideman-arranger-musical director. Personnel included at times Charlie Parker, Gene Ammons, Lucky Thompson, Dexter Gordon, Leo Parker, Art Blakey, Fats Navarro, Howard McGhee, Kenny Dorham, Miles Davis. Trombonist Jerry Valentine with band entire period. Sarah Vaughan vocalist about a year. Arrangements by Dizzy Gillespie, Tadd Dameron and Budd Johnson, who later replaced Gillespie as musical director. Eckstine was featured prominently on vocals, sometimes on trombone; excellent front man. The band toured, had good location jobs, but by early 1947 hit lean times and broke up. Unfortunately group not well recorded. Eckstine took up career as single, quickly reached great heights. Records popular and numerous in early 50s. So well known disc jockeys called him simply "Mr. B." Played top clubs, appeared in 1952 movie SKIRTS AHOY!. Popularity faded in late 50s and 60s but work continued in clubs and on records; also occasional TV appearances. Long runs in Las Vegas and other Nevada spots. Several tours of Europe, Australia and Asia. Active in early 70s.

528. ELDRIDGE, ROY t fl-h vo B (DAVID ROY ELDRIDGE; nicknamed LITTLE JAZZ)

Born January 30, 1911, Pittsburgh, Pa.

Outstanding trumpet star of 30s and 40s. Powerful swing style, good tone, great facility. As youngster he learned several instruments. After local experience, left home in 1927 to lead combo in road show, later played in carnival band. Led band awhile back in Pittsburgh. First big job in 1928 with Fletcher Henderson's Dixie Stompers (under direction of Horace Henderson). With Speed Webb 1929-30. In early 30s with Cecil Scott, Elmer Snowden, Charlie Johnson, Teddy Hill. In 1933 led band in Pittsburgh with brother Joe. With McKinney's Cotton Pickers in Baltimore in 1934, then with Teddy Hill in New York 1935. He and brother again led combo in late 1935-6 in New York. With Fletcher Henderson much of 1936, where solo work brought him national attention. During remainder of 30s led bands of varying sizes. In 1940 good run at Kelly's Stables in New York; late 1940-1 led band in Chicago. Theme Little Jazz.

With Gene Krupa two years, 1941-3 (until band broke up); gained great prominence with solos and vocals. 1943-4 freelanced, studio work, led band. Joined Artie Shaw in late 1944 (after Shaw's discharge from Navy) as featured soloist, remained till late 1945. Again led big band, later combos. In 1949 with Krupa, toured with Jazz at the Philharmonic. Toured Europe in 1950 with Benny Goodman, remained abroad as single; long stay in Paris. As bop emerged in middle and late 40s Eldridge lost some popularity—and some faith in himself. Paris restored confidence. Returned to U.S. in April 1951, maintained busy schedule with own groups, freelance, Jazz at the Philharmonic, festivals, recordings. Many dates with Coleman Hawkins and with Sol Yaged in late 50s. Many jobs 1963-5 with Ella Fitzgerald. Several tours abroad with various units. Active into 70s with festivals, clubs, concerts. In 1971-4 at Jimmy Ryan's in New York. Another European tour 1972 in combo from Count Basie band.

529. ELGART, LARRY as ss B
 Born March 20, 1922, New London, Conn.

Good lead alto saxman featured in band of brother Les, also co-leader of band and leader of own band. Sax distinctively modern in sound, important asset of bands' sound and style. At 16 summer job with Bob Astor, at 17 with Charlie Spivak, then with Woody Herman, Red Norvo, Freddie Slack. With Jerry Wald 1941-2, there played third sax for only time in career (Les Robinson first sax). With Bobby Byrne later in 1942-3. This band fronted by Jack Jenney awhile, then taken over by Dean Hudson; Les Elgart joined in later period. Studio work in New York in mid-40s. Lead soprano sax in brother's band early 1945-6, later own band at intervals. With Bobby Byrne 1950. In pit band of Broadway show TOP BANANA, late 1951-2.

t B

Born August 3, 1918, New Haven, Conn.

Leader of popular 50s and 60s dance band with distinctive sound and style. Good lead trumpeter and front man. In early 40s briefly with Bunny Berigan, Hal McIntyre, Charlie Spivak, Harry James, Muggsy Spanier. With Woody Herman briefly in 1943; late 1943-4 with Dean Hudson. Bandleader early 1945-6 with brother Larry on soprano sax lead. Then each brother led own band, with little success. Brothers freelanced late 40s and early 50s, experimented with new arrangements and sounds. In 1953 joined with arranger Charles Albertine to launch Les Elgart band. Larry's distinctive lead alto sax combined with unusual Albertine arrangements gave the band its own sound and style: modern, mellow, haunting sound with subtle swing and good beat (despite absence of piano). Almost all ensemble; rarely featured soloists. Band acclaimed by critics and especially fans, quickly rose to popularity. Well received LPs followed. Brothers split into separate bands in late 50s. Later reunited, sometimes billed as Les and Larry Elgart. Band active in 60s, playing top spots and recording; occasionally on TV.

532. ELLINGTON, DUKE p cm ar B (EDWARD KENNEDY ELLINGTON)

Born April 29, 1899, Washington, D.C.

Died May 24, 1974, New York, N.Y., of cancer and pneumonia

Musical giant as bandleader, composer and arranger. Long career from 1918 into 70s. Composed staggering number of jazz works through the years, as well as many songs of lasting popularity. As pianist played modified stride style, tasteful and easy-swinging, with own brand of unorthodox chord structures and ornate patterns. Highly successful bandleader for half a century with immense body of recorded work. Personnel in band more constant than in most. As teenager played in Washington, D.C., area. Led small band in 1918; early members Otto Hardwick (as) and Arthur Whetsol (t), joined in 1919 by Sonny Greer (d). With them and Elmer Snowden (bn), Ellington went to New York in 1922 to join Wilbur Sweatman awhile. Left, returned to New York in 1923, played Hollywood Club (later Kentucky Club) with Snowden as leader. Fred Guy replaced Snowden, Ellington became leader, called group The Washingtonians. 1924-7 band toured New England many times, returned to Kentucky Club, played other Harlem clubs and theatres.

In December 1927 Ellington opened Harlem's Cotton Club under own name as leader. Band increased gradually to full size. This engagement established band, which fit "jungle" atmosphere of club, got heavy radio coverage. Played there off and on into 1931, with periods at other spots and touring. In 1929 band in Broadway musical SHOW GIRL. Irving Mills, Ellington's manager, asset in booking clubs and record dates. In late 1930 band got publicity from spot in much heralded movie CHECK AND DOUBLE CHECK starring Amos 'n' Andy. Best-known early records East St. Louis Toodle-Oo (theme), The Mooche, Creole Love Call, Mood Indigo, Black and Tan Fantasy. First European tour great success 1933; later tour 1939, several in 50s and 60s plus trips to other continents.

Public became aware of excellent sidemen who stayed with band many years: Johnny Hodges (as), Barney Bigard (cl), Harry Carney (bs), Sonny Greer (d), Bubber Miley (t), Cootie Williams (t), Tricky Sam Nanton (tb), Juan Tizol (tb), Lawrence Brown (tb). Later: Rex Stewart (t), Ben Webster (ts), Jimmy Blanton (b), Cat Anderson (t), Ray Nance (t v), Jimmy Hamilton (cl), Paul Gonsalves (ts), Clark

Terry (t) and others briefly. Sidemen with band many years: Otto Hardwick (as), Fred Guy (g), Arthur Whetsol (t), Freddy Jenkins (t). In 50s and 60s personnel changed more often.

Most arranging by Ellington. In 1939 Billy Strayhorn joined as composer-arranger; style similar to Ellington's, contributed importantly. Strayhorn's Take the "A" Train featured number, later band theme. Band had unique sound; arrangements and compositions conformed to soloists, featured unorthodox voicing, chords and patterns to set moods. Many critics and fans regard the 1940-3 years as band's most creative period. Unfortunately, recording ban in effect latter part of period. Ivy Anderson was principal vocalist 1931-42. Various sidemen sang. Al Hibbler featured in late 40s. Beginning early 50s little emphasis on vocals as band concentrated on instrumentals.

Band in movies CHECK AND DOUBLE CHECK (1930), BELLE OF THE NINETIES, SYMPHONY IN BLACK and MURDER AT THE VANITIES (1934), THE HIT PARADE (1937), CABIN IN THE SKY and REVEILLE WITH BEVERLY (1943). Ellington composed and recorded soundtrack for movies THE ASPHALT JUNGLE (1950), ANATOMY OF A MURDER (1959), PARIS BLUES (1961), ASSAULT ON A QUEEN (1966), CHANGE OF MIND, German film JANUS. Wrote score for Broadway musical BEGGAR'S HOLIDAY (1946), pageant of Negro history MY PEOPLE (1963), TIMON OF ATHENS. The band played first concert at Carnegie Hall in 1943, others there in later years. Busy schedule of tours, festivals, formal concerts, sacred concerts, recordings, occasional TV. In later years Ellington frequently on TV as single, usually playing own compositions on piano. Composed The River 1970 for American Ballet Theatre. Wrote autobiography Music Is My Mistress 1973.

Band maintained high level of musicianship, kept abreast of times. New members absorbed Ellington spirit. Son Mercer assistant 1955-9 but mostly on his own as bandleader-arranger-composer. Duke remarkably successful composer.

Jazz numbers featured by own band, sometimes by other bands. Many songs become standards. Collaborators included lyricists Irving Mills, Mitchell Parish, Paul Francis Webster, Eddie DeLange, John Latouche. Composed longer, more serious works, particularly in 50s and 60s. Seemed no end to his vast talent as band flourished in 70s. Band slated to continue after Duke's death under son Mercer's leadership. Most important compositions listed below; all recorded by Ellington.

539. ELMAN, ZIGGY t cm B
 (HARRY FINKELMAN)

Born May 26, 1914, Philadelphia, Pa.
 Died June 26, 1968, Van Nuys, Calif.

Leading trumpet star of late 30s and 40s; powerful swing style. Attained fame with solo on Benny Goodman band recording of Elman composition And the Angels Sing. Grew up in Atlantic City. As youngster learned trombone and reeds in addition to trumpet; at 13 played clubs. Local job early in career; most important at Steel Pier in early and mid-30s. Joined Benny Goodman in fall of 1936. When trumpet star Harry James left band at end of 1938, Elman became leading trumpet soloist. Sometimes incorporated Jewish fralich style in solos. Wrote fralich showcase for himself, 1939's big hit And the Angels Sing (originally Fralich in Swing). In 1939 a series of recordings released under Elman's name: tasteful swing, tightly knit arrangements. Elman featured with four-man sax section and rhythm section, mostly from Goodman band. Series included his later showcase number You're Mine, You. Left Goodman July 1940, joined Tommy Dorsey August. Trumpet featured. Remained till military service, 1943. Rejoined Dorsey 1946-7 save for interval leading own band early 1947. In late 40s settled on west coast, led own band at times, did studio work and freelancing. In early 50s TV work. Rejoined Goodman for tour 1953, fronted band when Goodman took sick. Seen in 1956 movie THE BENNY GOODMAN STORY but solo on And the Angels Sing played by Mannie Klein on soundtrack. Active through 50s into 60s, until illness curtailed playing. Bought music store. Three other jazz compositions by Elman: Forgive My Heart, Zaggin' with Zig, Who'll Buy My Bublitcki?.

Born February 6, 1927, Worcester, Mass.

Died January 24, 1974, Los Angeles, Calif., of kidney disease

Excellent modern jazz trumpet soloist; beautiful tone, tasteful, facile and driving. First big job with Mal Hallett 1943. Mostly with Gene Krupa 1944-50. With Artie Shaw awhile in 1949. In 1952 with Woody Herman, also in combo accompanying singer Anita O'Day. Joined Les Brown in early 1953, attracted attention with solos. Became better known in later 50s and 60s from outstanding work on Dave Pell LPs. In 1956 started studio work on west coast, also freelanced. Vastly underrated jazz star.

558. FARLEY, EDDIE t vo cm lyr B

Born July 16, 1905, Newark, N.J.

Co-leader of Riley-Farley band which rose to quick fame in early 1936 with fantastic novelty hit The Music Goes 'Round and Around. Band competent combo specializing in swing and dixieland. Farley with Bert Lown 1931-3, with Will Osborne in early 30s. He and trombonist Mike Riley formed band 1935, played jazz clubs in New York, a hit at Onyx Club. Two leaders plus Red Hodgson composed Music Goes 'Round. Caught on during last week of 1935, and during first two weeks of 1936 enjoyed probably greatest popularity ever attained by song for a like period. This brought renown for awhile, led to spot in 1936 movie THE MUSIC GOES 'ROUND. Team composed 1936 pop tunes I'm Gonna Clap My Hands and Looking for Love. In late 1936 team split and each led own band. Farley continued leading in 40s and 50s; long runs in 50s at club in Irvington, N.J.

566. FAYE, ALICE

vo

(ALICE JEANNE LEPPERT)

Born May 5, 1912, New York, N.Y.

Beautiful blonde singer and movie actress; top star from mid-30s to mid-40s. At 14 in chorus line at New York's Capitol Theatre. Danced in other theatres and night clubs. Chorus girl in Broadway show GEORGE WHITE'S SCANDALS OF 1931, starring singing idol Rudy Vallee. He discovered Alice could sing in sexy, throaty manner, took charge of her career. She toured with Vallee band, sang for first time on his radio show May 1933. Continued on show about a year, took name of Faye. Vallee starred in 1934 movie GEORGE WHITE'S SCANDALS, helped Alice get big break in same. Her sex appeal registered strongly, particularly in hit song Nasty Man. In three minor movies 1934, shot up to stardom with 1935 movies GEORGE WHITE'S SCANDALS OF 1935, EVERY NIGHT AT EIGHT, MUSIC IS MAGIC. In ensuing years starred in excellent movie musicals, occasional dramas. Worked with stars Don Ameche, Tyrone Power, Shirley Temple, Dick Powell, Betty Grable, John Payne. Among best films: big musicals ALEXANDER'S RAGTIME BAND and IN OLD CHICAGO (1938), ROSE OF WASHINGTON SQUARE (1939), LILLIAN RUSSELL (1940; played title role of famous buxom beauty). Her movies had excellent scores, yielded hits like Sing, Baby, Sing; Goodnight My Love; Never in a Million Years; There's a Lull in My Life; I'm Shooting High; You're a Sweetheart; I Never Knew Heaven Could Speak; You'll Never Know. Retired from movies 1945, later came back with effective role in remake of STATE FAIR 1962. On radio frequently as guest singer or dramatic actress. In 1937 starred awhile on Music from Hollywood, with Hal Kemp band. In 1946-54 co-starred with husband, bandleader-singer Phil Harris, in long-running radio series. (Married first to singer Tony Martin.) In late 50s and 60s occasionally on TV, sometimes with Harris, sometimes in own specials. Slated for 1974 comeback in revival of Broadway musical GOOD NEWS.

567. FAZOLA, IRVING cl reeds B (IRVING HENRY PRESTOPNIK)

Born December 10, 1912, New Orleans, La.

Died March 20, 1949, New Orleans, La.

All-time great clarinetist, at home with dixieland, blues, ballads and swing. Beautiful tone. Sometimes played notes sparingly, always movingly. Originally a dixielander, absorbed swing elements into style. Early jobs in 1927 with Candy Candido and Louis Prima. Jobbed in New Orleans in late 20s. With Sharkey Bonano 1930-4 off and on. In late 1934 discovered by Ben Pollack playing in Hotel Roosevelt's Blue Room. With Pollack late 1934-early 1937. Featured on Pollack's theme Song of the Islands. With Gus Arnheim several months mid-1937, with Glenn Miller's early band last two months 1937. Rejoined Pollack briefly early 1938 in New Orleans, toured. Joined Bob Crosby about March 1938, remained till May 1940, won fame as a leading jazz soloist with band. Beautiful tone in ensemble and lyric solos sparked band into its greatest period. Fazola a natural for big-band dixieland style of Crosby crew. Featured in showcase My Inspiration. Later in 1940 with Jimmy McPartland awhile in Chicago, then with Tony Almerico in New Orleans. Joined Claude Thornhill in early 1941, remained most of year. Clarinet featured, fit perfectly with Thornhill's delicately shaded arrangements. With Muggsy Spanier's big band early 1942, featured with Teddy Powell 1942-3 about a year. With Horace Heidt about five months 1943. Returned to New Orleans October 1943, played there 1944-8 with Tony Almerico, Louis Prima and Leon Prima. Active until death 1949. A huge man, suffered from high blood pressure, died of heart attack.

572. FELICE, ERNIE

acc vo B

Talented, facile jazz accordionist in modern style. Originator of distinctive combo sound: his accordion doubled clarinet lead, provided lush modern-chord backing. Sound soon imitated throughout U.S.
by numerous combos with similar instrumentation. Led combo in this style when hired by Benny Goodman in January 1947; featured in Goodman combos on radio and records. Left Goodman after about four months, resumed leading combo. Recorded in late 40s, again using distinctive sound and now popularizing it because of his new prominence. Unfortunately faded from music scene in 50s.

582. FIELDS, SHEP

ts cl B

Born September 12, 1910, Brooklyn, N.Y.

Leader of 30s dance band known for "rippling rhythm." First led band while attending St. John's University in Brooklyn. Led band professionally in early 30s; important 1934 engagements in Miami and New York. First big break in 1936 touring with Veloz & Yolanda dance team; band known as Veloz & Yolanda Dance Orchestra. Important Chicago engagement at Palmer House with good radio coverage. "Rippling rhythm" began to catch on. Band went out on its own, recorded. By late 1936 band on radio show—Radio Guide's Court of Honor. Own show early 1937, Rippling Rhythm Revue; comedian Bob Hope joined in May as MC. Band played New York, Chicago, Los Angeles, elsewhere. In movie BIG BROADCAST OF 1938.

Unique "rippling rhythm" had several ingredients. Each number opened with introductory attention-getting sound made by blowing through a straw into a glass of water, close to microphone. Then followed a tinkling piano, muted and clipped brass, mellow saxes and facile accordionist doing arpeggio-like fill-ins. Glissing viola used on breaks. Arrangers Sal Gida and Lou Halmy; latter featured on only trumpet in band. Mac Miller viola, Murray Golden accordion (later Caesar Muzzioli). Theme Rippling Rhythm. Band had good vocalists in Bob Goday, later Hal Derwyn.

In early 40s Fields pioneered another style: nine reeds, no brass. Good arrangements cleverly disguised absence of brass. Men doubled on 35 reeds. Arrangers Glenn Osser, Lew Harris, Freddy Noble. During wartime, hard to find musicians capable of handling arrangements. In 1947 reverted to Rippling Rhythm, continued into 50s but without 30s popularity. Excellent band late 1950, commercially and musically pleasing; arrangements mostly by Freddy Noble. Settled in Houston 1955, worked mostly as disc jockey, fronted band on occasion.

584. FINEGAN, BILL

p ar cm B

Born April 3, 1917, Newark, N.J.

Brilliant arranger and co-leader of unique Sauter-Finegan band of 50s. Extensive formal musical training, including Paris Conservatory. Gorgeous score for Tommy Dorsey, The Lonesome Road, won him spot as arranger for Glenn Miller during band's great years 1939-42. Integral part of band excellence. Scored for band's two movies SUN VALLEY SERENADE (1941) and ORCHESTRA WIVES (1942), also for THE FABULOUS DORSEYS (1947). After Miller went into service in late 1942, Finegan rejoined Dorsey, worked for him off and on into early 50s. Furnished arrangements for Horace Heidt 1942-3. In 1946 some arrangements for Les Elgart. In France and England studying music 1948-50. On return to U.S. resumed arranging for Dorsey. In mid-1952 joined with Eddie Sauter to form Sauter-Finegan band, which did well for several years despite early doubts about commercial appeal due to elaborate, unconventional style. Arrangements of two leaders provided a riot of color and quick changes of mood, featured seldom-used piccolo, flute, oboe, bass clarinet, English horn and recorders (which imparted light, feathery touch). Tympani and other unusual percussion effects utilized. Sally Sweetland and Andy Roberts featured singers. Band broke up early 1957. Finegan freelance arranger. In 1959 and into 60s he and Sauter produced jingles for TV and radio. Finegan continued to write for TV and radio. Composed jazz numbers during career; one of best Pussy Willow. Arranged for Glenn Miller Orchestra under direction of Buddy DeFranco 1973.

585. FIO RITO, TED

p o ar cm B

Born December 20, 1900, Newark, N.J.
 Died July 22, 1971, Scottsdale, Ariz.

Pianist-bandleader with career of about 50 years; composer of many important songs. At 16 first job playing piano in nickelodeon. Worked in music publishing house. At 18 with Ross Gorman band. Formed band with Dan Russo in early 20s known as Oriole Terrace Orchestra, later Russo-Fio Rito Orchestra. Played in Chicago and midwest in mid-20s. Bought out Russo's interest in later 20s. Several years at Edgewater Beach Hotel in Atlantic City. Played piano and organ with band. Theme Rio Rita. Band sweet-styled and pleasant, not outstanding, but commercially successful. Muzzy Marcellino featured vocalist most of 30s. Comic-bassist Candy Candido also featured. Future movie star Betty Grable sang with band briefly as youngster around 1933, also June Haver, probably in early 40s. Peak popularity in mid-30s through radio and records, spots in Dick Powell movies

TWENTY MILLION SWEETHEARTS (1934) and BROADWAY GONDOLIER (1935). Also in movie SILVER SKATES (1943). Radio included 1934 show with Dick Powell; also with Powell on Hollywood Hotel late 1934-5. On Frigidaire show 1936. 1937-9 on Jack Haley's Variety Show; also on Lady Esther and Al Jolson shows. Band based on west coast much of 30s, popular there. Active in 40s but less prominent; recordings infrequent. In late 1956 Fio Rito took over house band at Chicago's Chez Paree. By 60s led band at own club in Scottsdale, Ariz. Later less active, led band occasionally. In 1970 led four-piece combo in Sacramento, Las Vegas and other spots. Compositions, especially those in 20s, enjoyed wide popularity; a few became standards.

vo

Born August 10, 1928, Philadelphia, Pa.

Leading popular singer of 50s. Strong melodic voice, straightforward style, excellent musicianship. Adept at show songs, also sang well in Al Jolson style at times. Sang in local amateur shows, and on radio in high school. Singing jobs with Buddy Morrow and Charlie Ventura in 1946. Singing at Grossinger's in New York State's Borscht Belt when heard by Eddie Cantor, joined Cantor's radio show in 1949. Instant hit, began successful recordings. Widely popular when career interrupted by military service 1952-3. After discharge zoomed to stardom 1953-4. Song series on TV, also many guest appearances throughout 50s. In late 50s had show with George Gobel, each starting on alternate weeks and working together occasionally. Highly publicized marriages to actresses Debbie Reynolds, Elizabeth Taylor and Connie Stevens. In movies ALL ABOUT EVE (1950), BUNDLE OF JOY (1956) and BUTTERFIELD 8 (1960). Leading record hits included Many Times; I'm Walking Behind You; Oh, My Papa; Anytime. In 60s infrequently on TV, top night clubs occasionally. In late 60s record hit The Games Lovers Play. Comeback tries in 70s, never regained 50s popularity.

591. FISHER, FREDDIE "SCHNICKLEFRITZ" cl vo B

Born 1904, Lourdes, Iowa

Leader of band in late 30s and early 40s that specialized in unabashed, "outrageous" cornball music. Featured George Rock on trumpet and vocals. Band quickly gained attention with spirited, bumptious, purposely corny recordings. Played theatres, presenting hilarious comedy along with music. In movies GOLD DIGGERS IN PARIS (1938) and SEVEN DAYS ASHORE (1944). Some members left Fisher in early 40s to form rival Korn Kobbler band. In early 50s Fisher led a dixieland combo.

g bn vo cm lyr B

Born June 28, 1914, Overton County, Tenn.

Country and western performer. Teamed with Earl Scruggs to form group Foggy Mountain Boys. Excellent musicians, leading exponents of bluegrass style of folk music. Style's antecedents in pioneer artists Gid Tanner, Charlie Poole, Fisher Hendley, Frank Blevins. Flatt-Scruggs style formulated with Bill Monroe group 1945-8. Five-string banjo important as lead and background instrument. Fiddle, banjo and "dobro" guitar (using metal resonator to amplify sound) interwoven in playing. No other amplification. Style had drive, vigor, strong syncopation. Early career Flatt on Roanoke radio. Flatt-Scruggs group formed 1948, toured south. Often on Nashville's Grand Ole Opry. Huge popularity by late 50s. Flatt handled most vocals. Scruggs banjo exceptional, gave group identifying sound. Other members Paul Warren (v), Buck Graves ("dobro" g), Cousin Jake Tullock (b). LPs well received. Appearances on network TV, own shows on Nashville TV and radio. During prime years group toured about 100,000 miles per year, performed abroad. Recorded famous theme The Ballad of Jed Clampett for long-running TV series The Beverly Hillbillies. Duo separated early 1969; Flatt continued to lead Foggy Mountain Boys. Composer or co-composer of country songs including Bouquet in Heaven, Someone You Have Forgotten, Little Girl in Tennessee, Crying My Heart Out Over You, Building on Sand, The Old Home Town, Why Don't You Tell Me So?, I'll Never Lose Another, I Won't Be Hanging Around, Petticoat Junction (TV theme), Nashville Cats.

(ERNEST JENNINGS FORD)

Born February 13, 1919, Bristol, Tenn.

Singing star and TV personality of 50s and 60s. Specialized in gospel, country and western music, also capable singer of pop and contemporary music. Good ad-lib comic, used country humor and cornball expressions, in reality suave and polished. Began in Bristol radio late 30s. Announcer in Atlanta, singer-announcer in Knoxville. Military service, World War II. Resumed radio in California. On Pasadena radio worked with Capitol recording stars Cliffie Stone and Merle Travis, landed Capitol contract later. Early record hits Shotgun Boogie and Mule Train, also hit with Kay Starr on I'll Never Be Free. Solid comedy roles on Lucille Ball TV shows, also own summer show 1954. In mid-50s daily morning show popular several years. From late 1956 into 60s weekly night show. Continued to record; hit Sixteen Tons 1955 sold millions, became Ford trademark. Inactive in show business several years, came back semi-active in later 60s and into 70s. Occasionally on TV as guest or M.C. or on own specials. Composed songs including Hogtied Over You, Kiss Me Big, Softly and Tenderly.

Born May 28, 1907, London, England, of West Indian descent

Noted avant-garde composer-arranger of mid-30s. Jazz-novelty numbers Dodging a Divorcee and Serenade for a Wealthy Widow popular at dawn of swing era. In California movie studios late 20s, Chicago in early 30s. Returned to England, led band 1933. Four unusual records in U.S. 1935 featuring Benny Goodman, all-star personnel, all reeds plus rhythm. Returned 1935 to England to stay, lead band. RAF, World War II. Again led band awhile in London clubs. Foresythe's works modernistic, ahead of their time. Used unusual instrumentation, voicing, harmony and melody lines, tightly knit arrangements. Up-tempo numbers swing lightly; slow pieces moody, descriptive. Other compositions Deep Forest (theme of Earl Hines), two good pop songs Mississippi Basin (1933) and Because It's Love (1934), numerous instrumentals recorded by own band (sometimes billed The New Music of Reginald Foresythe).

603. FORREST, HELEN

vo

Born April 12, 1918, Atlantic City, N.J.

A leading band vocalist of 30s and 40s. Featured with Artie Shaw, Benny Goodman and Harry James during their prime years. Voice strong and warm, interpreted lyrics sensitively. Early in career sang on radio as Bonnie Blue, The Blue Lady, Marlene, other names. Sang with brother's band in club in Washington, D.C. Rose fast after joining Artie Shaw late summer 1938. Shaw zoomed and Miss Forrest helped. Joined Benny Goodman December 1939 after Shaw abruptly quit, remained till August 1941. Joined Harry James, another band rising to the top. Sang on several James hits: I Don't Want to Walk without You, I Had the Craziest Dream, I've Heard That Song Before. In movies with band: SPRINGTIME IN THE ROCKIES (1942), BATHING BEAUTY and TWO GIRLS AND A SAILOR (1944). Also sang Time Waits for No One in 1944 movie SHINE ON HARVEST MOON and Out of Nowhere in 1945 movie YOU CAME ALONG. Became a single late 1943, played clubs and theatres. In late 1944 teamed with singing star Dick Haymes on radio show which continued as popular series several years. She also recorded through the years. By mid-50s less active in show business. In early 60s toured with Sam Donahue & The Tommy Dorsey Orchestra. In later 60s occasionally on TV on nostalgic shows. In later years worked clubs again; still active in 70s.

608. FOSTER, POPS b tu (GEORGE MURPHY FOSTER)

Born 1892, McCall, La.

Died October 30, 1969, San Francisco, Calif.

Bass man with 60-year career in music from pioneer jazz days into late 60s. Mostly with dixieland combos. Played tuba in early days, switched to string bass late 20s (an early influence in use of bass in dance bands). Grew up in New Orleans. Began professionally around 1906, worked parade and dance jobs in area. A few years later jobbed with Kid Ory, Armand Piron, King Oliver. With Fate Marable band on riverboats 1918-21. Joined Charlie Creath in St. Louis 1921, later with Dewey Jackson there. To California 1923, worked with Kid Ory, Mutt Carey, others. In mid-20s to St. Louis; periods again with Creath and Jackson. Joined Luis Russell in New York 1929. Louis Armstrong took over leadership 1935. Foster remained till 1940, with intervals away. In early 40s with Teddy Wilson, Happy Caldwell and Norman Langlois (as duo). Less active in music 1942-5, then with Sidney Bechet and Art Hodes, in Europe with Mezz Mezzrow. In 1948 joined Bob Wilber dixieland group, remained when Jimmy Archey assumed leadership 1950, including 1952 European tour. With Conrad Janis combo, then late 1955-6 long European tour with Sam Price. In later 50s and early 60s on west coast with Earl Hines combo; based there, freelanced in later 60s. 1966 European tour. Activities curtailed by leg operation.

cl ts B

Born July 3, 1930, New Orleans, La.

Fat-toned dixieland clarinetist with commercial appeal. Influenced by Benny Goodman and Irving Fazola. First professional job in New Orleans 1949; played clubs. Briefly with Assunto brothers before group named Dukes of Dixieland.
With Phil Zito and Basin Street Six 1950-
4; late 1956-7 with Al Hirt. Led group awhile. Hired by Lawrence Welk mid-1957 for TV; instant success. Featured weekly on Welk show, became popular even among listeners who cared little for jazz. Featured on Welk LPs. Left Welk early 1959 at height of popularity, returned to New Orleans to form combo.
Big attraction, began recording well received LPs. Opened club in New Orleans,
The French Quarter Inn, based there most of 60s and early 70s. Played concerts in various cities; occasional TV.

Singing group, pioneers in progressive jazz harmonics and patterns by vocal units. Carried group singing beyond style of Modernaires, Pied Pipers and Merry Macs. Arrangements featured by turns soft unison singing, full harmony, modern voicing, strong phrasing, varied dynamics.
Men adept instrumentalists in modern style—great asset for concerts, festivals and club jobs. Group formed 1948 while members attending Arthur Jordan Conservatory of Music in Indianapolis. Performed in midwest, attained some popularity. Big boost from Stan Kenton in getting contract with Capitol. Records caught on, thanks to innovative sounds.
In 1951 movie RICH, YOUNG AND PRETTY.
Busy through 50s; occasional spots on TV. Not as prominent during 60s and into 70s but still worked.

c B

Born c. 1902-3, Denver, Colo.

American bandleader of late 20s who went on to greater fame in England during 30s. Early cornet work on summer job at Santa Monica, Calif.; soon after joined Abe Lyman. At 19 led 19-piece band at Club Royale in Culver City, Calif. Later played choice spots in Los Angeles, Miami, New York. 15-month run at Hollywood's Cocoanut Grove, later at Montmartre Cafe. Recorded in late 20s, including sides co-featured with singer June Pursell. Supervisor of music at Fox Studios for nascent sound movies late 20s. In 1929 took seven-piece American band to England; first job at Cafe de Paris in London. Remained in England, became musical director of Decca Records. Formed outstanding sweet-swing band that quickly became one of England's most popular, 1931-2. Played London's Monseigneur Restaurant. Al Bowlly featured vocalist, Lew Stone (p) and Nat Gonella (t,vo) in band. Active recording. Used Whispering for theme song.

Stone took over leadership in late 1932. Illness curtailed Fox's career then and at other times in 30s. Back soon with another good band, continued to 1939. Then to Australia for health. During World War II Fox lived in California. At war's end back to England, attempted to resume as bandleader. Postwar economics wouldn't support big band. Late 1947 music-hall tour unsuccessful, hampered by snowstorms. In 1952 abandoned comeback try, later became agent in English show business. Active through 60s.

Born December 7, 1879, Prague, Czech.
Died November 12, 1972, Hollywood, Calif.

Great composer of Broadway stage. Scored many shows, Created all-time popular songs. Two greatest successes with popular scores ROSE-MARIE (1924; 557 performances) and THE VAGABOND KING (1925; 511 performances). Other notable shows THE FIREFLY (1912), HIGH JINKS (1913), KATINKA (1916), SOMETIME (1918), THE LITTLE WHOPPER (1919), THE THREE MUSKETEERS (1928). Friml not infallible, had several flops. Failures included last two shows LUANA (1930) and MUSIC HATH CHARMS (1935). Most memorable songs include Sympathy; Giannina Mia; Allah's Holiday; L'Amour, Toujours; L'Amour; Chansonette (later altered to become The Donkey Serenade); Rose-Marie; Indian Love Call; Only a Rose; Song of the Vagabonds; March of the Musketeers. Collaborators included lyricists Otto Harbach, P. G. Wodehouse, Rida Johnson Young, Oscar Hammerstein II, Brian Hooker, Clifford Grey, Harold Atteridge, Dailey Paskman. Operettas became stage standards performed by road companies over and over. Several made into movies.

Educated at Prague Conservatory, became concert pianist. Toured Europe several years with violinist Jan Kubelik. After U.S. tours 1901 and 1906, Friml made home here. Worked at composing; first big break as substitute for Victor Herbert in writing score for THE FIREFLY in 1912. Popular score launched Broadway career. Friml and Sigmund Romberg soon joined Herbert as leading composers of operetta-style musicals; major influences on Broadway stage. After 1935 less active. In 1937 THE FIREFLY became popular movie; old composition Chansonette converted into movie's hit song The Donkey Serenade. Wrote score for movie NORTHWEST OUTPOST in 1947. During last years appeared on several Merv Griffin TV shows honoring composers, displayed amazing vigor for his advanced years, even played compositions on piano.

Born November 10, 1907, St. Louis, Mo.

Outstanding singer with strong, melodious voice, excellent phrasing. Most active in 30s and 40s. Much formal training, attended University of Missouri and Cincinnati Conservatory of Music. In early 30s sang over WLW radio in Cincinnati.
To Chicago several months with Paul Whiteman. Sustaining radio show on NBC from Chicago, also played clubs
there. To New York radio, by 1934 well established. In Broadway musicals ZIEG-FELD FOLLIES OF 1934, KEEP OFF THE GRASS (1940), ARTISTS AND MODELS (1943)
and 1942 vaudeville show LAUGH, TOWN, LAUGH with Ed Wynn. In movies STARS
OVER BROADWAY (1935) and RADIO CITY
REVELS (1938). On radio shows The Seven Star Revue early 1934, Bromo Seltzer

1937 summer Jello show, 1939 show with Jan Peerce and Erno Rapee orchestra, Star Theatre 1942. Also guest spots on various shows. Continued to play clubs in later 30s and early 40s, also recorded.

Miss Froman seriously injured February 1943 in Lisbon plane crash; with group of show business volunteers to entertain overseas troops. Broke bones, and serious leg damage required many operations through the years. In November 1943 managed to appear in Broadway musical ARTISTS AND MODELS; show folded after 28 performances. Career often interrupted for treatment of injury. In 1945 played New York's Copacabana, later U.S.O.

tour. Career waned. Comeback with records and club dates early 50s a tribute to her courage and determination. 1952 movie of her life WITH A SONG IN MY HEART. Outstanding musical, with Susan Hayward brilliantly playing role of Miss Froman. Jane in good voice on soundtrack. After several years, career again waned.

(AL SHEAN; born 1868, died 1949)

Famed comic team of one stage Irishman and one stage Jew; stars of vaudeville and musical stage. Composed hit song of 1922, Mr. Gallagher and Mr. Shean. Patter song with questions and answers endured, lent itself to parodies and topical lines added later. Team formed in 1910, played burlesque and vaudeville. Featured comedy and songs. In Broadway show THE ROSE MAID in 1912. Team split. Shean in Broadway shows PRINCESS PAT (1915) and CINDERELLA ON BROADWAY (1920). Team reunited, achieved greatest success in ZIEGFELD FOLLIES OF 1922, which featured their hit song. Number soon widely imitated. Stock lines ("Absolutely, Mr. Gallagher?" and "Positively, Mr. Shean!") became trademark. Team won top vaudeville bookings, played New York's Palace Theatre. Split permanently 1925. Shean on stage in BETSY (1927; short run) and MUSIC IN THE AIR (1932). Also in non-musicals such as FATHER MALACHY'S MIRACLE (1937). Comic and character parts in 25 movies 1934-44, including musicals MUSIC IN THE AIR and SWEET MUSIC (1935), SAN FRANCISCO (1936), 52ND STREET (1937), THE GREAT WALTZ (1938), ZIEGFELD GIRL (1941). 640. GARBER, JAN

v B

Born November 5, 1897, Morristown, Pa. + 1977

Leader of dance band especially popular in 30s. Long career from 20s into 60s. Attended University of North Carolina. Talented violinist, played in Philadelphia Symphony Orchestra. Military service, World War I; band director. Formed dance band early 20s with pianist Milton Davis; called the Garber-Davis Orchestra under the direction of Jan Garber. In late 20s Garber led own band, featured good semi-hot style. In early 30s band fading; playing Cleveland when Garber heard sweet band led by Freddie Large. Offered to take over band and get good bookings, was accepted. Thus was born Garber's famous sweet style. Featured mellow sax section with accentuated vibrato, muted brass, guitar obligatos. Garber and Large composed famous theme My Dear. Key early job at Cincinnati's Netherland Plaza. Band popular 1933-5, especially in midwest. Heard often on radio; numerous records. Garber billed as The Idol of the Air Lanes. Leading vocalist romantic, deep-voiced Lee Bennett; trumpet man Fritz Heilbron handled novelty vocals, provided comedy. Pianist Rudy Rudisill with band 15 years. Band popular through 30s. In 1942 Garber surprised music world, switched to swing band, arrangements mostly by Gray Rains. Vocalists Liz Tilton and Bob Davis. Played swing about two years, but few records due to record ban and no great popularity. Reverted to sweet style 1945. Recorded in later 40s and 50s, kept busy. Band in movies HERE COMES ELMER (1943) and MAKE BELIEVE BALLROOM (1949). In 60s Garber less active; recorded and played occasionally.

Born c. 1911 (probably in England)

Died July 26, 1950, London, England

Lead alto sax and soloist with Ray Noble band in its great musical period in England, early 30s. On many Noble records on England's HMV label, later issued in U.S. on Victor. Lilted tone and vibrato important in band's beautiful ensemble sound (never duplicated by Noble's U.S. bands). After Noble went to U.S. 1934, Gardner continued active in England as freelance, also led groups. Attracted some attention in U.S. in late 40s and early 50s when several alto sax solo records issued here. Working in England with Peter Yorke orchestra as featured soloist at death.

ts bs-s bs p cel ar cm B

Born August 15, 1903, Norfolk, Va.

Composer of famous instrumentals In the Mood (inspired by or similar to four earlier jazz tunes: Tar Paper Stomp, There's Rhythm in Harlem, Hot and Anxious, Jumpy Nerves) and Leap Frog (Les Brown's theme). Long career as sideman-musical director-arranger-composer. Attended Shaw University and Aeolian Conservatory, Baltimore. Played classical music with Cosmopolitan Brass Band of Baltimore and Excelsior Military Band of Norfolk. Early jobs with Elmer Snowden and Joe Steele. Freelanced in New York late 20s, worked with Jelly Roll Morton. With Mills Blue Rhythm Band 1932-6, also did some arranging. With Edgar Hayes 1937-8, later in 1938 with Don Redman. With Louis Armstrong 1939-42; musical director and sideman. Freelanced in New York. Again musical director for Armstrong 1945-7. With Claude Hopkins and Herbie Fields. Musical director for Earl Hines band 1948-9. In 50s less active; led band at intervals, did freelancing, arranging-composing. Other compositions: The Stuff Is Here, Harlem After Midnight, Jazz Martini, Congo Caravan, Easy Go, Brown Sugar Mine, Once in Ev'ry Heart, Keep the Rhythm Going, Serenade to a Savage, What's Your Hurry?, There's Rhythm in Harlem.

vo

(FRANCES GUMM)

Born June 10, 1922, Grand Rapids, Mich.

Died January 22, 1969, London, England

Singer-movie star, darling of MGM musicals as teenager. Troubled figure in turbulent later life. Parents in show business. Judy and sisters formed singing group, Gumm Sisters, worked locally, graduated to bookings in larger cities.
Appeared with George Jessel at Chicago's Oriental Theatre. Jessel suggested that Judy adopt name of Garland. Family moved to California, sisters worked spots there. When sisters married, Judy became a single, adopted Garland name. Given screen test, signed by MGM. First film with Deanna Durbin in 1935 short EVERY SUNDAY. First feature movie was musical PIGSKIN PARADE in fall of 1936; performance adequate in cast of veterans. In 1937 movie BROADWAY MELODY OF 1938, Judy registered strongly singing You Made Me Love You to photo of Clark Gable. Quickly became star. Made attractive team with Mickey Rooney in big movies late 30s and early 40s. As youngster Judy fresh and natural, with strong, clear voice. In 1939 career zoomed with lead in THE WIZARD OF OZ, in which she sang Over the Rainbow. Movie became classic; shown many times on TV. In 1937 sang on Jack Oakie's Caravan radio show, in 1940 on Bob Hope show. Many appearances on radio. Began recording in late 30s, continued through the years. In 40s starred in nostalgic movies FOR ME AND MY GAL (1942), MEET ME IN ST. LOUIS (1944), THE HARVEY GIRLS (1946).

Career waned a bit due to ill health, alcoholism, weight problem. Sensational comeback concerts at London's Palladium and New York's Palace. Opened latter October 1951 during vaudeville revival, booked four weeks, stayed 19. In 1954 starred in heralded remake of movie A STAR IS BORN: a triumph, though cost time, money, heartaches. Judy identified with film's feature song The Man That Got Away. In late 50s and 60s more ill health and drinking, weight gains and losses, all took toll. On TV and stage, often had to rely on reputation and showmanship to carry her performance.
Occasionally on TV in 50s and 60s, more frequently later. Own show 1963-4. Used hand microphone, flung cord around, draped it over her shoulder, used jerky, nervous motions—but always scored heavily. In 1967 own show on New York stage. Despite ill health, public shocked at news of her death in 1969. In 60s and 70s daughter Liza Minnelli carved out successful career on stage and TV, later in movies.

p cm

Born June 15, 1923, Pittsburgh, Pa.

Popular jazz pianist with distinctive style.
Left hand provided full chords while right played melody line with lagging beat:
sometimes with abandon but always in excellent taste. Swinging semi-modern style, lush on ballads. Happy music, attractive even to those with no love for jazz. Self-taught, couldn't read music.
Played locally on radio and at clubs as teenager. During 1939-44 moved from Pittsburgh to New York frequently, played one-nighters elsewhere. Joined Slam Stewart trio in New York 1944.
Soon after formed trio, continued with trio or as single for 30 years. Popular by late 40s. In 50s and 60s on TV more than any other jazz musician: a video natural with elfin appearance, sly humor, gra-ciousness, tasteful piano. So small had to sit on big telephone directory atop piano bench. Several tours abroad in 60s. Composer of standard Misty. Other compositions: Play, Piano, Play; Solitaire; Dreamy; Blues Garni; Trio; Turquoise;
Other Voices; No More Shadows; Passing

Through; Dreamstreet; Erroll's Bounce.
Composed for 1963 movie A NEW KIND OF LOVE. Active into 70s.

651. GAYNOR, JANET

vo

(LAURA GAINER)

Born October 6, 1907, Philadelphia, Pa.

Important figure in early movie musicals 1929-31, though primarily dramatic ac-triss. Sang and danced in co-starring role with Charles Farrell in big movie musical SUNNY SIDE UP (1929), with popular score by songwriting team Henderson-DeSylva-Brown. Co-starred with Farrell in movie musicals HAPPY DAYS and HIGH SOCIETY BLUES (1930), DELICIOUS (1931) and in eight non-musicals: top movie team early 30s. As child Janet lived with family in several locales, ended up in California. In 1925 extra in silent movies. First good role in THE JOHNSTOWN FLOOD (1926). Three important silent movies SUNRISE and SEVENTH HEAVEN (1927), STREET ANGEL (1928). Received first Oscar awarded as best actress in SEVENTH HEAVEN. Starred in three part-sound 1929 films, then big hit SUNNY SIDE UP. Singing voice natural and charming, not strong or well-trained. Disliked musicals, demanded serious roles. Beginning late 20s voted top star eight consecutive years by theatre managers. Starred in important 1937 movie A STAR IS BORN. Career waned after two movies in 1938. Thereafter mostly in retirement. Role in 1957 movie BERNADINE and in unsuccessful play MIDNIGHT SUN in 1959.

vo

(FRANCESCA MITZI GERBER; of Hungarian descent)

Born September 4, 1930, Chicago, Ill.

Bright star of movie musicals, talented dancer and singer. Earlier training for ballet and opera. Burst upon movie scene with secondary role in MY BLUE HEAVEN (1950). Beauty, personality, talent quickly projected her to stardom. Capable comedienne and dramatic actress. Portrayed musical-comedy star Eva Tanguay in movie THE "I DON'T CARE" GIRL (1953), had lead in movie version of SOUTH PACIFIC (1958). As movie work waned for stars during 60s, fashioned outstanding night club act. Guest on TV occasionally, several excellent specials of her own. Active at intervals in early 70s.

657. GERSHWIN, GEORGE cm p

Born September 26, 1898, Brooklyn, N.Y.

Died July 11, 1937, Beverly Hills, Calif.

Among greatest popular composers. Productive life cut short at 38. Scores for numerous Broadway shows, notably LADY BE GOOD (1924), OH, KAY! (1926), FUNNY FACE (1927), STRIKE UP THE BAND and GIRL CRAZY (1930), OF THEE I SING (1932; first musical to win Pulitzer Prize), PORGY AND BESS (1935). Had begun writing for movies just before death. Most famous songs Swanee; Fascinating Rhythm; Oh,

Lady Be Good; Somebody Loves Me; The Man I Love; Liza; Someone to Watch Over Me; 'S Wonderful; I Got Rhythm; Strike Up the Band; I've Got a Crush on You; How Long Has This Been Going On?; Embraceable You; Of Thee I Sing; Summertime; A Foggy Day; They Can't Take That Away from Me; Love Is Here to Stay; Love Walked In; and concert piece Rhapsody in Blue. Work often had a special quality above ordinary popular songs. Brother Ira chief lyricist beginning 1925. Sons of Jewish immigrants from Russia. Extensive early musical training. At 15 pianist and songplugger for Remick Music Company in New York. Accompanist for Louise Dresser and Nora Bayes. In 1917 signed by Max Dreyfus as staff composer for Harms Publishing Company. First hit Swanee 1918, featured by Al Jolson in Broadway show SINBAD. First stage score for LA, LA, LUCILLE (1919). Several scores for GEORGE WHITE'S SCANDALS and other shows.

Acclaimed for Rhapsody in Blue, performed by Paul Whiteman orchestra at New York's Aeolian Hall February 12, 1924. Whiteman used main theme as own theme in later years. Gershwin's other serious music included An American in Paris, written in Paris 1928, and Concerto in F. In 1934 Gershwin had own radio show Music by Gershwin, conducted large orchestra. Negro opera PORGY AND BESS on Broadway stage 1935 won further acclaim.

Other collaborators lyricists Arthur Jackson, Irving Caesar, Buddy DeSylva, Oscar Hammerstein II, Otto Harbach, Gus Kahn. Music world stunned at 1937 death from brain tumor. Career probably hadn't peaked; might have become most successful of movie composers. Biographies of Gershwin include A Journey to Greatness by David Ewen, Gershwin by Isaac Goldberg, The Gershwin Years by Edward Jablonski and Lawrence Stewart, George Gershwin by Robert Payne, The Gershwins by Robert Kimball and Alfred E. Simon. Popular 1945 movie RHAPSODY IN BLUE based on Gershwin's life, featured his songs, starred Robert Alda as Gershwin.

660. GETZ, STAN

ts B

Born February 2, 1927, Philadelphia, Pa.

Great tenor sax star in modern style. Cool, delicate tone, facile, solos consistently inventive and tasty. Long reign at top of jazz popularity polls in 50s and 60s. Moved to New York when youngster. At 15 with Dick Rogers band. Next with Jack Teagarden and Bob Chester. Important year with Stan Kenton 1944-5. In mid-1945 led trio in Hollywood, then with Benny Goodman late 1945 to early 1946. Also with Jimmy Dorsey, Randy Brooks, Herbie Fields. With Woody Herman's Second Herd 1947-9 attained stardom. From that point led groups. Busy schedule, extensive recording. Scandinavian tour 1951. Europe 1958 with Jazz at the Philharmonic; remained abroad through 1960. Great popularity in 1962 when he and guitarist Charlie Byrd combined to become leading exponents of new bossa-nova style in U.S. Blended Brazilian music with light jazz—a most attractive sound. On several TV shows thanks to new popularity. Worked with bossa-nova artists Luiz Bonfá, João Gilberto and Astrud Gilberto. Won awards for bossa-nova recordings. Maintained jazz activities also. Career remained in high gear through 60s into 70s, here and in Europe.

664. GIFFORD, GENE bn g ar cm (HAROLD EUGENE GIFFORD)

Born May 31, 1908, Americus, Ga.

Died November 12, 1970, Memphis, Tenn.

Chief arranger for Glen Gray & the Casa Loma Orchestra 1930-5. Set band's style, which became popular and influential in public acceptance of swing. Composed swing numbers featured by band. Grew up in Memphis. Played banjo as youngster. Toured southwest with Lloyd Williams band, played with Watson's Bell Hops in Mississippi. Led band touring Texas. With Blue Steele 1928-9, switched to guitar. On Detroit date hired by Jean Goldkette to write arrangements for his units. With Goldkette unit led by Henry Biagini, which evolved into Casa Loma Orchestra later led by Glen Gray. Played guitar with band several years, then concentrated on arranging and composing. Composed band's famous theme Smoke Rings. Other compositions featured by band: Casa Loma Stomp, Black Jazz, White Jazz, Dance of the Lame Duck, Maniac's Ball, San Sue Strut, Stompin' Around, Out of Space. Wrote riff-styled arrangements on swing numbers for Gray, pretty, danceable arrangements on ballads. Led noteworthy record session 1935 with Bunny Berigan and all-star jazz personnel. For session wrote four numbers: Nothin' but the Blues, Squareface, Dizzy Glide, New Orleans Twist. Left Gray for freelance arranging and studio work. Arranged for Freddy Martin, Mal Hallett, Tommy Reynolds, Jimmy Joy, Ada Leonard. With Bob Strong 1943 as guitarist-arranger. U.S.O. tour mid-40s. With Gray again as arranger 1948-9. In 50s and 60s mostly in New York at various jobs outside of music. Settled in Memphis 1969 to teach music.

667. GILLESPIE, DIZZY t vo cm ar B (JOHN BIRKS GILLESPIE)

Born October 21, 1917, Cheraw, S.C.

Trumpet star, giant of jazz; one of the originators of bop in 40s. Trumpet style brilliantly facile and inventive. Studied music early, attended Laurinburg Institute in North Carolina. Later lived in Philadelphia. Played jobs locally beginning about 1935-6. First big job with Teddy Hill in New York 1937; European tour with him. Freelanced in New York, then important period with Cab Calloway over two years, 1939-41. At this time began experimenting with style later known as bop: unorthodox chord progressions and rhythmic accents. In early 40s arranged for Woody Herman, Jimmy Dorsey, Earl Hines, others. Briefly with Ella Fitzgerald, Benny Carter, Charlie Barnet, Les Hite, Lucky Millinder. With Earl Hines late 1942-3, as was Charlie Parker. Pair worked on formulating bop style, in band and in late-hour jam sessions at Minton's club in Harlem. In 1943 Gillespie co-led combo with Oscar Pettiford. Joined Billy Eckstine's big band mid-1944 as sideman-arranger-musical director. Important, pioneer bop band. Later 1944 Gillespie led combo, worked with Parker as duo became most famous boppers. Dizzy led big band most of 1945-50. Several tours abroad late 40s and early 50s. Toured with Jazz at the Philharmonic. Partner in DeeGee record company awhile. Busy through 50s into 70s, mostly leading combos and recording. Two 1956 foreign tours heading big band sponsored by U.S. government, an innovation. Sometimes commercialized groups with comedy and vocals. Invented trumpet with bell extending upward from middle of horn at 45-degree angle. Occasional TV. By later 60s solos seldom displayed former fire and facility. Composer of numerous jazz numbers including A Night in Tunisia; Con Alma; Woody'n You; Ow; Groovin' High; Tour de Force; Manteca; Anthropology; Swing Low Sweet Cadillac; Something Old, Something New; Lorraine; Cool World; Blue 'n' Boogie; Interlude; Bye; Kush; Blue Mood; Sugar Hips; Hey Pete; Devil and the Fish; Rails; Rumbola; Cool Breeze.

670. GIUFFRE, JIMMY

ts cl bs ar cm B

Born April 26, 1921, Dallas, Texas

Modern-styled jazz musician whose arranging-composing surpassed solo work in importance. Not a facile soloist, had gutty, simple style on tenor sax. His clarinet work, though simple, brought him first real prominence due to cool, vibratoless tone, predominately in lower register, and lagging-beat style. Attended North Texas State Teachers College, studied composing in Los Angeles. In AAF orchestra 1944. With Jimmy Dorsey 1947, Buddy Rich 1948, Woody Herman 1949. In 1950 with Garwood Van and Spade Cooley. With Howard Rumsey's Lighthouse All-Stars 1951-2. Mostly with Shorty Rogers 1953-5. Freelanced, part of west coast jazz scene. In later 50s led combos, recorded with them. Writing talents established him as important figure in modern jazz. Won fame writing-arranging Four Brothers for a 1948 Woody Herman record. Voicing of sax section cool, innovative; became known as the Four Brothers sound. Giuffre concentrated on clarinet, abandoned tenor sax several years. Led combos on foreign tours in 60s. In one period had trio which played abstract jazz, works he composed for group. In later 60s returned to more orthodox modern jazz. Composed numerous jazz numbers, some lengthy and serious for concerts. Active into 70s.

Born February 26, 1916, Brooklyn, N.Y.

Leading TV performer in 50s and 60s after many years in show business. Top comedian; plump frame butt of jokes. Also singer, composer, leader of large studio orchestras on mood-music LPs. As youngster worked as M.C. in amateur shows, carnival barker, daredevil driver, disc jockey. Comedian in night clubs beginning around 1940. Small roles in movies 1941-2. In unsuccessful Broadway show ARTISTS AND MODELS (1943), then starred in hit FOLLOW THE GIRLS (1944). More night clubs during 40s. Starred in Broadway show ALONG FIFTH AVENUE (1949); modest run. Clicked on early TV as character on popular show The Life of Riley, got own show and quick popularity early 50s. Featured various skits, characters, formats. Most popular skit The Honeymooners, widely featured in later years. Early co-stars of skit Art Carney, Audrey Meadows, Joyce Matthews. Latter two replaced mid-60s by Sheila MacRae and Betty Kean. Gleason wrote shows' theme Melancholy Serenade. Other compositions Lovers' Rhapsody, Glamour, To a Sleeping Beauty, On the Beach. Last shows of late 60s used musical comedy format featuring original songs by Lyn Dutty and others. Issued series of 50s LPs: dreamy mood music, large orchestras, lush strings, often featured cornetist

Bobby Hackett or other jazzmen. Later varied styles of music. Gleason gave music good exposure on TV. In mid-50s one summer hour-long replacement show presented name bands, all styles. Also presented Tommy Dorsey band featuring Jimmy Dorsey on summer show, continued it during regular season. When Tommy died Gleason sponsored tribute show starring former Dorsey sidemen and singers. In 1959 starred in Broadway musical TAKE ME ALONG. Starred in several 60s movies, become excellent character actor. By late 60s tired of show-biz grind, retired voluntarily.

674. GODFREY, ARTHUR vo g uk bn

Born August 31, 1903, New York, N.Y.

Top entertainer on radio in late 40s and on TV during 50s. Host of popular variety shows. Sang in husky baritone with trace of Irish brogue, became known as ukulele player. Left home at 14, travelled, worked odd jobs. Entered vaudeville 1924 as banjoist. Served in coast guard. Educated at Naval Radio School, Great Lakes, Ill., and Green Lakes Material School, Bellevue, D.C. On radio 1929 as "The Warbling Banjoist." Baltimore radio 1930 as announcer-personality-disc jockey. About 1934 had 15-minute radio shows in homey patter style of popular Smilin' Ed McConnell. On radio Washington, D.C., 1935, on show Arthur Godfrey and All the Little Godfreys, with excellent band in sweet-swing style. In 1937-8 on Barbasol and Professor Quiz shows, own show for Cremo Cigars. Hosted variety shows on radio early 40s. Rose to prominence postwar with network morning show and as host of popular Talent Scouts show (later on TV). By late 40s a household name to millions of housewives. In 1946 Broadway show THREE TO MAKE READY.

Godfrey entered TV in late 40s; show Arthur Godfrey and His Friends popular in early to mid-50s. Theme Seems Like Old Times. TV family well-known, chiefly announcer Tony Marvin, singers Frank Parker, Marion Marlowe, McGuire Sisters, Janette Davis; others Carmel Quinn, Haleloke, Mariners, Lu Ann Simms, Julius LaRosa. Godfrey dropped LaRosa from show, created a flap. Pat Boone given early boost from regular stints on show mid-50s. Though bothered by old hip injury and sometimes hardly able to walk, Godfrey worked anyway. Later overcame lung cancer to return to vigorous health. Record hits Too Fat Polka, Candy and Cake, The Thousand Islands Song. One of best vocal efforts Scattered Toys. By late 50s popularity waned on TV, bowed out as TV regular, occasionally appeared in 60s as host or guest star, did TV commercials. Continued daily radio show through 60s. On this, as on TV, had excellent small orchestra, sometimes featured talented sidemen. Quit radio, continued active in early 70s on TV commercials.

679. GOLDKETTE, JEAN p B

Born March 18, 1899, Valenciennes, France
Died March 24, 1962, Santa Barbara, Calif.

Noted for all-star band and recordings 1926-9. Lived in Greece and Russia, came to U.S. 1911. Pianist in Chicago and Detroit, settled in latter. Bought Grey-stone Ballroom there, booked bands. Formed big band 1924, recorded for Victor. Russ Morgan joined 1926 as arranger and organizer, helped get outstanding musicians. Excellent band 1926-7 at times featured Don Murray, Joe Venuti, Bix Beiderbecke, Frankie Trumbauer, Eddie Lang, Danny Polo, Andy Secrest, Tommy and Jimmy Dorsey, Sterling Bose, Bill Rank, others. Used Detroit as base, travelled, played New York. Payroll large, probably a factor in band's demise. Goldkette also booked McKinney's Cotton Pickers, other units including one that evolved into Casa Loma Orchestra (later led by Glen Gray). In early 30s some radio. Gave up booking, later worked as agent. Occasional work as classical pianist. In mid-1939 presented concert of American music at New York's Carnegie Hall with 90-piece orchestra, no great success. In 1944 led combo in Detroit. Occasionally active in music in later 40s and 50s. Settled in California 1961.

683. GOODMAN, BENNY

cl as bs t cm vo B

Born May 30, 1909, Chicago, Ill.

Jazz giant, all-time great on clarinet, King of Swing. Playing typified by strong, full tone, great facility, inventive ideas. Also accomplished classical musician. Man most responsible for rise of swing in mid-30s. Led big swing band many years with consistently high jazz standard, rarely yielded to commercialism. Good formal musical training, including study at Chicago's Hull House. First professional performance as youngster imitating Ted Lewis at Chicago theatre. Dance dates in Chicago area with Charles "Murph" Podolsky at remarkably early age of 13. Summer excursion jobs 1923, later in year with Jules Herbevaux. Late 1923-4 with Arnold Johnson, 1924-5 with Art Kassel. Excellent musician at 16, with valuable experience. In California with Ben Pollack beginning summer 1925; to Chicago with band early 1926. Featured soloist with this star-studded band; solos on records attracted attention in jazz circles. Mostly with Pollack until fall 1929, left band in New York, began recording heavily as sideman 1928-33 with varied studio name bands. Hot clarinet featured in solos on many records; tone and style easily identifiable. Also played alto sax in section and solo work. Pit band work for Broadway shows, also in radio bands of Don Voorhees, Dave Rubinoff, Nat Shilkret, Andre Kostelanetz, Paul Whiteman, others. September 1931 led pit band for Broadway show FREE FOR ALL (15 performances). In summer 1932 organized band accompanying singer Russ Columbo. Jazz buff-critic John Hammond arranged record sessions for Goodman and all-star personnel late 1933 and early 1934 with memorable results.

In summer 1934 formed big band to play Billy Rose's Music Hall, had excellent personnel. In late 1934 band won job on now-historic Let's Dance radio show for National Biscuit Company, December 1934 to May 1935. Show an innovation: three bands playing alternate sets for three hours late Saturday nights coast to coast. Other bands Xavier Cugat (Latin music) and Kel Murray (sweet). Goodman's hot band a delayed sensation. Mid-1935 tour mediocre; four weeks in Denver a fiasco. To amazement of Benny and sidemen, band a huge success at Palomar Ballroom in Los Angeles: earlier Let's Dance broadcasts had built following there. Next milestone at Chicago's Congress Hotel, November 1935 to May 1936 with nightly radio coverage. Furnished biggest impetus to swing craze early 1936; Benny hailed as King of Swing. Theme song exciting, swinging

Let's Dance, one of best of all themes. Different closing theme, pretty and mournful Goodbye. Clarinet featured. Art Rollini and Dick Clark handled tenor sax solos, then Vido Musso, Bud Freeman. Jack Lacey trombone soloist, followed by Joe Harris and Murray McEachern. Early trumpet stars Bunny Berigan, Pee Wee Erwin, Chris Griffin, Ziggy Elman. Harry James joined January 1937 as chief trumpet soloist. Trumpet section of James, Elman and Griffin 1937-8 among greatest. Lead altoist Hymie Schertzer sparked sax section, which achieved smooth, swinging sound. Band had great swing beat: distinctive thudding sound laid down by rhythm section of Gene Krupa (d), brother Harry Goodman (b), Allen Reuss (g), Jess Stacy (p). Benny's younger brother Irving played trumpet for brief periods with band. Helen Ward excellent vocalist during formative years late 1934 through 1936. Fletcher Henderson wrote many arrangements; notable work by Jimmy Mundy, Spud Murphy, Horace Henderson, Edgar Sampson. Pianist Teddy Wilson began with Goodman in Trio 1935, vibist Lionel Hampton made it Quartet 1936. Band played Elgin radio show spring 1936. Later in year on Camel Caravan show, sharing honors with Nat Shilkret orchestra. Later Shilkret dropped out. Jack Oakie became host awhile. In mid-1937 Goodman took over show, continued as its star through 30s; important part of band's career. Carnegie Hall concert on January 16, 1938, a first for jazz and a sensation. LPs of concert, issued 1950, all-time bestseller among jazz albums.

Personnel changed through the years. Sidemen Harry James and Gene Krupa left in late 30s to form bands. Ziggy Elman rose to prominence with solo on own composition And the Angels Sing, big hit for Goodman 1939. Martha Tilton featured vocalist 1937-9. Mildred Bailey sang with band briefly late 1939, followed by Helen Forrest 1940-1, Peggy Lee 1941-3. Peggy scored with late 1942-3 record hit Why Don't You Do Right?. Male singer Art London with Goodman in 1942, came back 1946 as Art Lund. In November-December 1939 Goodman

Sextet in short-lived Broadway musical SWINGIN' THE DREAM (13 performances only). In early 1941 band starred on Old Gold radio show. Band changed sound early 40s with modern arrangements of Eddie Sauter predominating. Star sidemen Lou McGarity (tb), George Auld (ts), Charlie Christian (g), Billy Butterfield (t), Cootie Williams (t), Vido Musso (ts), Mel Powell (p ar). By mid-40s personnel changes frequent but band always maintained high level of musicianship until disbanded early 1944.

In late 1944 Goodman reorganized Sextet for Broadway musical SEVEN LIVELY ARTS. Reorganized big band early 1945, later in year had two-sided record hit Gotta Be This or That. Band on Socony radio show summer 1946, later joined comedian Victor Borge as show continued to summer 1947. Benny had protegee, young Swedish modern clarinetist Stan Hasselgard, in spring 1948, gave him solo spots. Later in year Hasselgard formed combo, died in auto accident. In late 1948-9 band bop-flavored, with Chico O'Farrell arranging (foremost effort Undercurrent Blues). By early 50s Goodman no longer had permanent band; organized various-sized groups for special jobs, featured leading jazzmen. In late 50s and 60s played top TV shows, featured on several specials. Clarinet soloist with symphony orchestras. Numerous trips abroad with bands: Europe spring 1950, Japan-Thailand-Burma late 1956-7, Brussels World's Fair and other countries mid-1958, Canada spring 1959, Europe late 1959, South America late 1961, Russia mid-1962, Japan early 1964, Belgium summer 1966, Europe early 1970, plus several appearances in England through the years. Semiactive in early 70s; played New York's Rainbow Grill, occasionally on TV. 1956 movie THE BENNY GOODMAN STORY starred Steve Allen in Goodman role. Benny's clarinet and all-star band on soundtrack.

Goodman and band had prominent roles in movies HOLLYWOOD HOTEL (1938), THE POWERS GIRL and THE GANG'S ALL HERE (1943), SWEET AND LOWDOWN (1944). Performed special numbers in BIG BROADCAST OF 1937 (1936), STAGE DOOR CANTEEN (1943), MAKE MINE MUSIC (1946; soundtrack only). Goodman appeared as single in SYNCPATION (1942; in jam session sequence), A SONG IS BORN (1948).

Goodman composer or co-composer of jazz numbers featured by his and other bands, including Flying Home; LIFE Goes to a Party; Stompin' at the Savoy; Lullaby in Rhythm; Don't Be That Way; House Hop; Seven Come Eleven; Air Mail Special; Dizzy Spells; If Dreams Come True; Georgia Jubilee; Gone with "What" Wind; Soft Winds; A Smo-o-o-oth One; Smoke House; Swingtime in the Rockies; Texas Tea Party; Till Tom Special; Wholly Cats; Board Meeting; Pound Ridge; Opus Local 802; Opus 1/2; Opus 3/4; Kingdom of Swing; Four Once More; Clarinetitis; Fiesta in Blue; Bannister Slide; Benjie's Bubble; Pick-a-Rib; Rattle and Roll; Rachel's Dream; Scarecrow; Bedlam; Balkan Mixed Grill; Solo Flight; Macedonia Lullaby; Killer Diller; Swing Angel; Tuttletale; Rock Rimmon. Goodman wrote autobiography 1939, Kingdom of Swing with Irving Kolodin. Career treated in detail in BG On the Record: A Bi-Discography of Benny Goodman by D. Russell Connor and Warren Hicks. More active in 1973. Revived original Quartet for New York-Newport Jazz Festival and other appearances.

b tu

Born c. 1906-8, Chicago, Ill.

Older brother of jazz great-bandleader Benny Goodman. Stalwart on bass in Benny's band from formative years to late 30s. Early musical training at Chicago's Hull House. Often with Benny's early recording groups. Joined Ben Pollack in Chicago early 1926 after Benny had joined in California 1925. Played tuba with Pollack until switching to string bass 1928. Left Pollack in New York late 1929. Had extensive recording with studio bands and jazz groups late 20s and early 30s, also on radio. Again with Pollack late 1933-4; period with Smith Ballew 1934. Joined Benny's early band late 1934, played now-historic Let's Dance radio show to May 1935. With band from rough beginnings until mid-1939. Important cog in band's great rhythm section. Left to settle in New York, manage his Pick-a-Rib restaurant, enter music publishing.

cl as ts B

Leader of sweet-styled dance band in late 30s featuring Tic-Toc Rhythm gimmick. Early in career played with and fronted Elmo Mack & His Purple Derbies band, a somewhat hot-styled group mostly based in midwest. First big bandleader job 1933 Chicago World's Fair. Played there again 1934 and at Chicago's Merry Garden Ballroom. By 1938 developed Tic-Toc Rhythm: clocklike sound. Band had good sweet ensemble sound, used muted and clipped brass and mellow clarinet section. Rhythm often accentuated with temple blocks establishing "tick-tock" sound. Theme song One Minute to One. Cliff Grass featured vocalist in late 30s. Band often played New York's Hotel Edison. In 40s Gordon abandoned Tic-Toc style for swing, improved musically but not commercially. Disbanded during World War II, entered music publishing. Later in personal management, associated with Les Paul and Mary Ford several years.

(RUTH ELIZABETH GRABLE)

Born December 18, 1916, St. Louis, Mo.
Died July 2, 1973, Santa Monica, Calif.
of lung cancer

Singing and dancing star of movie musicals from 30s into 50s. Capable musical performer and actress; career enhanced by her beauty, personality, and especially by much-publicized legs. Received early musical training in St. Louis. Settled in Hollywood 1929 with mother, who pointed Betty toward movie career. Chorine bits in 1930 movies LET'S GO PLACES, NEW MOVIE TONE FOLLIES OF 1930 and WHOOPEE. Bit part in THE KID FROM SPAIN (1932), later in year first sizable role in Wheeler & Woolsey movie HOLD 'EM JAIL!. Specialty dance number with Ted Fio Rito band in SWEETHEART OF SIGMA CHI (1933), later with Fio Rito on dance jobs as singer-dancer. Several shorts under name of Frances Dean. Bits in movies STUDENT TOUR and THE GAY DIVORCEE (1934). Sang with Jay Whidden band awhile on west coast. Another sizable role with Wheeler & Woolsey in THE NITWITS (1935). Secondary roles in several movie musicals later 30s, sometimes performed feature number. In 1937 sang with John Payne on radio show Song Time on the West Coast. Much publicity from marriage to former child star Jackie Coogan December 1937; divorced 1940. Starred in low-budget films 1938-9, still not star. Good role in Broadway musical DUBARRY WAS A LADY (1939), won acclaim.

Returned to Hollywood 1940; true star in big movie musical DOWN ARGENTINE WAY. Got break in this and several other 20th Century-Fox movies when star Alice Faye ill. Thereafter Betty in top films, mostly musicals, quickly became a leading star. Married bandleader Harry James July 1943. During World War II top pin-up girl of armed forces; almost two million copies of famous pose in white bathing suit sent to GIs. In movies mostly with Don Ameche, John Payne, Dan Dailey, Dick Haymes, Victor Mature. Among best: MOON OVER MIAMI (1941), SPRINGTIME IN THE ROCKIES (1942), THE DOLLY SISTERS (with June Haver) and DIAMOND HORSESHOE (1945), WHEN MY BABY SMILES AT ME (1948), WABASH AVENUE (1950). During 50s less active in movies. Some TV and night club work, also toured with husband Harry James's band. Divorced James 1964. In 1965 starred in long-running version of stage musical HELLO, DOLLY! in Las Vegas and on tour. In 1967 played same role on Broadway, one of several replacements for original star Carol Channing. Unsuccessful show in London 1969. On TV and in stock companies occasionally in 60s and early 70s; still capable musical performer. Despite extensive musical activities, odd absence of Grable records. Her movie musicals antedated vogue of movie soundtracks on LP. One record with Harry James band under name of Ruth Haag.

v p cm B

Born January 26, 1908, Paris, France

Outstanding jazz violinist, noted for 30s work with great guitarist Django Reinhardt in Quintet of the Hot Club of France. Swinging, sweet-toned style, great technique and finesse, very tasteful. Studied and worked as classical violinist early in career, turned to jazz about 1927. Played with and led groups before teaming with Reinhardt 1934. They remained together through 1939; Quintet popular, famous hot combo with substantial record output on foreign labels (later issued in U.S.). Grappelly's violin one of two features of group's sound; Grappelly also chief arranger and organizer. Grappelly settled in England 1940-8, led combos, sometimes played piano. Worked with pianist George Shearing at times. Returned to Paris 1948, worked mostly there, at times in other countries. Active through 50s and 60s. Played in England in 70s. Able to absorb progressive jazz into later playing.

(See DJANGO REINHARDT biography herein for list of Grappelly co-compositions.)

705. GRAY, GLEN

as B

(GLEN GRAY "SPIKE" KNOB-LAUGH)

Born June 7, 1906, Roanoke or Metamora, Ill.

Died August 23, 1963, Plymouth, Mass.

Leader of popular Casa Loma Orchestra in 30s and 40s, a riff-styled swing band that also emphasized ballads—increasingly in later years. Attended Illinois Wesleyan College awhile. Early in musical career with Jean Goldkette unit called the Orange Blossom Band. In 1928 group played the Casa Loma, palace-type building in Toronto originally built to accommodate King and Queen on visit from England, then converted into hotel. Band well received but hotel folded. Band later adopted name Casa Loma Orchestra for jobs in Detroit and environs. Early band members Pee Wee Hunt (tb), Billy Rauch

(tb), Joe Hall (p), Gene Gifford (g ar), Pat Davis (ts). Henry Biagini fronted band. In 1929 band reorganized as corporation with Gray president and leader. But for years Gray sat in sax section as violinist Mel Jenssen fronted band. Vocalist-saxman Kenny Sargent joined in 1931, became a top romantic vocalist through 30s into early 40s. Pee Wee Hunt handled novelty and rhythm vocals, jazz trombone. Key jazzmen Clarence Hutchenrider (cl), Grady Watts (t) and Sonny Dunham (t) joined 1931. Pat Davis (ts) hot soloist, Billy Rauch (tb) featured on lead and sweet solos.

Band played New York late 1929, recorded hot numbers for Okeh, began to attract attention. In early 30s began prolific, popular recordings for Brunswick. Gene Gifford was chief arranger 1930-5, responsible for band's style: riff arrangements on swing numbers, intimate moods and danceable arrangements on ballads. Gifford's jazz compositions important to band, helped usher in swing era. Included Casa Loma Stomp, Black Jazz, White Jazz, Dance of the Lame Duck, Maniac's Ball. Needed much rehearsing because of intricate writing and fast tempos. Gifford wrote band's beautiful theme Smoke Rings, featuring Rauch's smooth trombone and Hutchenrider's nervous, reedy clarinet. In late 1934-1936 band on Camel Caravan radio show with comedian Walter O'Keefe, greatly expanded its following. In 1938 band on Burns & Allen radio show.

Gray began fronting band early 1937. Later star Murray McEachern (tb as). Later arrangers Larry Clinton, Dick Jones and Larry Wagner. Eugenie Baird vocalist in early 40s. Red Nichols and Bobby Hackett joined during wartime for short periods. Big record hits Sunrise Serenade 1939 and No Name Jive 1940 (Larry Wagner cm-ar). Recordings flowed through the years; band switched to Decca late 1934. In movies TIME OUT FOR RHYTHM (1941) and GALS, INC. (1943). Gray retired 1950, came back in 1956 to launch a series of LPs using all-star sidemen recreating sounds of big bands. Musicianship magnificent; records acclaimed by fans and critics.

706. GRAY, JERRY v acc ar cm B

(real name GRAZIANO)

Born July 3, 1915, Boston, Mass.

Talented arranger especially noted for work with 1938-39 Artie Shaw band and Glenn Miller band 1939-42, also with Miller AAF band. Later prominent as leader of band featuring Miller style. Led local band as youngster, studied arranging. First important job in Artie Shaw's 1936 string band, rejoined 1938 as chief arranger. Wrote famous arrangement Begin the Beguine, Shaw's breakthrough 1938-39 hit. Arranged for Andre Kostelanetz. Joined Glenn Miller late 1939 as arranger, scored and composed some of band's hits: A String of Pearls, Sun Valley Jump, The Spirit Is Willing, Here We Go Again, I Dreamt I Dwelt in Harlem, Pennsylvania 6-5000, Caribbean Clipper. After Miller disbanded late 1942, Gray freelanced, arranged for Jerry Wald 1943. With Miller arranging for AAF band, went overseas. After Miller's death late 1945, band led by Gray and drummer Ray McKinley. In post-war 40s resumed arranging work in U.S., served as musical director on Philip Morris, Bob Crosby, Patti Clayton radio shows. In 1950 led band on radio and toured. Big year in 1951, played Club 15 radio show with top personnel 1951-2. Upon revival of Miller style in early 50s, sparked by success of Ralph Flanagan, Gray climbed on bandwagon. Hired Wilbur Schwartz, Miller's star lead clarinetist. Gray's arrangements captured true Miller sound. Recorded frequently in 50s, occasionally backed singers on records. Band continued into mid-60s. Gray settled in California for studio work as arranger-composer, occasionally fronted band. In recent years led band in Dallas. Other Gray compositions Crew Cut, V Hop, Jeep Jockey Jump, Flag Waver, Introduction to a Waltz.

714. GREEN, FREDDIE

g cm

Born March 31, 1911, Charleston, S.C.

Famed as consummate rhythm guitarist.
 Good chord structures and blend, crisp beat. Long with Count Basie band.
 Played without amplification, seldom soloed. As youngster he took a few lessons on guitar, worked way to New York.

 Jazz buff-critic John Hammond heard Green in New York club, recommended him to Basie. Hired early 1937, final link in forging of Basie's great rhythm section.
 Other members Walter Page (b), Jo Jones
 (d) and Basie (p). Save for rare intervals, with Basie into 1973—remarkable tenure in field where frequent personnel changes are the rule. Prolific recording career with Basie and freelance. Composed jazz numbers including Down for Double, Right On, Corner Pocket.

726. GRIFFIN, MERV

p vo

Born July 6, 1925, San Mateo, Calif.

Vocalist with Freddy Martin band who later rose to fame as host of TV talk shows. Well controlled high baritone, also played piano capably. Attended universities of Stanford and San Francisco. Early in career sang on San Francisco radio. With Freddy Martin 1948-52; most popular record I've Got a Lovely Bunch of Cocoanuts in 1948. After leaving Martin, began recording on his own for Victor. In 1952 began brief movie career, mostly small roles. Best role in 1953 movie THIS IS LOVE (story of Grace Moore) with Kathryn Grayson. Bit roles in CATTLE TOWN (1952), BY THE LIGHT OF THE SILVER MOON and THREE SAILORS AND A GIRL (1953). Better roles in THE BOY FROM OKLAHOMA and PHANTOM OF THE RUE MORGUE (1954). Cameo role in HELLO DOWN THERE (1969). In mid-50s singer on TV shows, including regular spot on Robert Q. Lewis show. Fill-ins as host on Jack Paar's late-night TV show displayed Griffin's amiable personality, humor, ad-lib ability. Own daytime TV show 1962-3. Success in later 60s and early 70s as host of late-night show. Admirable feature in 70s: often featured composers, former star singers and bandleaders. Network show dropped in early 1972, but immediately began syndicated show on Metro-media and other stations.

 (FERDINAND RUDOLPH VON GROFE)

Born March 27, 1892, New York, N.Y.
 Died April 3, 1972, Santa Monica, Calif.

Talented musician known for his work with Paul Whiteman band as pianist-arranger and for descriptive compositions, notably On the Trail from Grand Canyon Suite. Grew up in Los Angeles area. Studied piano and viola, became accomplished musician. In Los Angeles Symphony Orchestra 1909-19. Played in and arranged for dance bands. Joined Whiteman around 1920, became important member of band but soon used mostly as arranger. Arrangement of Rhapsody in Blue performed by Whiteman in famous concert at New York's Aeolian Hall 1924. Success encouraged composers to try "symphonic jazz" during next few years. Grofe continued with Whiteman into early 30s. Some scoring for 1930 movie KING OF JAZZ starring Whiteman band and singers. Formed dance band 1932, by mid-30s attracted attention through radio work. At dance spots and on remote broadcasts band used theme On the Trail, unique piece for dance band. Band on Fred Allen radio show 1934, Burns & Allen show 1935-6, Saturday Night Party late 1936-7. Grofe continued band through 30s, played New York World's Fair 1939. In later years conducted on radio and in concert. Guest conductor with symphony orchestras in various cities. Also did arranging-composing; descriptive pieces performed by orchestras everywhere. 1942 hit song Day-break based on Grofe's Mardi Gras theme from Mississippi Suite, lyrics by Harold Adamson. Arranged score of 1945 movie RHAPSODY IN BLUE, story of composer George Gershwin. Composed popular songs Suez and Wonderful One (1922) and Count Your Blessings (1933). Other serious compositions include Death Valley Suite; Piano Concerto in d; Hollywood Suite; Wheels Suite; Symphony in Steel; World's Fair Suite (1964 official theme); Knute Rockne; 3 Shades of Blue; Killarney; Valley of Enchantment; New England Suite; Atlantic Crossing; A Day at the Farm; Tabloid Suite; Broadway at Night; An American Biography; Metropolis; Americana.

p hp ar cm B

Born March 23, 1917, New York, N.Y.

Pianist in swing style, an eclectic mix of Fats Waller, Earl Hines and Teddy Wilson. Active with many bands and jazz groups, also worked as soloist and combo leader. Learned piano early, as youngster accompanied violinist father. Attended CCNY. With George Hall 1937-9. Periods with Mike Riley. With Benny Goodman December 1939 to summer 1940. Joined Artie Shaw latter half 1940. Featured with Shaw's Gramercy Five on harpsichord, innovation for jazz. Joined Goodman again early 1941, remained several months. Rejoined Artie Shaw later 1941 for several months. With Jimmy Dorsey 1942-3. Later 1943 with Raymond Scott band on radio, also had trio jobs at night and played with Cozy Cole. In later 40s freelanced. Much in demand for record sessions: versatile, could fit with mainstream or bop groups. Led trio in New York jazz clubs late 40s. In 1949 featured on many radio broadcasts with quintet (including trumpet and alto sax), for which he wrote over a hundred swinging, clean-cut arrangements. During 1954-62 active mostly as radio staff musician; own show at times. In 1962 settled in Hollywood, played jobs in comparative obscurity. Introduced new musical style by playing standards in 5/4 time. Jazz compositions include Whistle Stop; A Gliss to Remember; Looky Here, Here's Me!; Gliss Me Again.

Died November 5, 1933, Vancouver, B.C., Canada, of amoebic dysentery

Flamboyant figure of Roaring Twenties, hostess known as queen of the night clubs in New York. First attracted attention in 1908 with act called The Gibson Girl in which she sang and displayed her figure. Played vaudeville and night clubs several years. Minor role on Broadway in THE PASSING SHOW OF 1913. Built name as performer, by 1917 in silent movies. During 20s became much-publicized hostess of Texas Guinan Club and other speak-easies in New York. Many brushes with law during Prohibition, played up in newspapers. Favorite greeting as hostess to incoming customers—"Hello, sucker!"—became trademark. Favorite admonition introducing act was "Give the little girl a great big hand!": another trademark. Starred in Broadway show PADLOCKS OF 1927. Starred in 1929 sound movie QUEEN OF THE NIGHT CLUBS. Small role in movie BROADWAY THROUGH A KEYHOLE in 1933. 1945 movie INCENDIARY

BLONDE based on her life, starred Betty Hutton as Guinan.

736. HACKETT, BOBBY c t g bn B

Born January 31, 1915, Providence, R.I.

Cornet star with impeccable taste; clean, flowing style easily identifiable. Outstanding on slow ballads; on jazz at best in dixieland combos. Capable rhythm guitarist. At 14 played guitar in restaurant band, later banjo in club job. Then concentrated on cornet, in 30s played New York, Boston, Providence, Cape Cod. In 1936 fronted band at Boston's Theatrical Club: good combo with trombonist Brad Gowans, who wrote dixieland arrangements. To New York 1937. Played in society bands of Lester Lanin, Howard Lanin and Meyer Davis. Then with top jazzmen. Joined Joe Marsala late 1937. Reputation enhanced by spot at Benny Goodman's 1938 Carnegie Hall concert: performed a number in Bix Beiderbecke style. Led small band at Nick's in New York 1938-9, big band at Famous Door and on tour. Recorded excellent sides with latter. With Horace Heidt band September 1939 to mid-1940, again late 1940. Recorded soundtrack for trumpet solos seemingly by Fred Astaire in 1940 movie SECOND CHORUS. Led big band in Boston awhile, then with Glenn Miller on guitar-cornet late 1941-2; cornet featured on several famous solos. NBC staff man late 1942-3. Toured with Katherine Dunham revue 1944. With Glen Gray late 1944-6, with intervals away. Remainder of 40s mostly radio staff musician in New York. Led combo late 40s and 50s in New York, Boston and Philadelphia. TV in 50s included leading band backing Martha Wright on 1954 series. Prominent in mid-50s as featured soloist with lush string orchestra on LPs directed by comedian Jackie Gleason. Later 50s more studio work; led combo into early 60s. Concert tour with Benny Goodman late 1962, also with Goodman spring 1963. In 1965-66 with singer Tony Bennett, including trips abroad. In late 60s and early 70s led groups, jobbed with others. Formed record company 1973.

Popular bandleader in 30s, for years a fixture at New York's Hotel Taft. First band in mid-20s called George Hall & His Arcadians; relatively unknown. In 1931 helped popularize Love Letters in the Sand, adopted it as theme through 30s. Band gradually became known via Bluebird recordings starting early 1933. Maintained Taft spot during 30s, with good radio coverage. Band had full, beautiful ensemble sound, featured good vocalists; ideal for hotels. Loretta Lee excellent vocalist 1933-5. Johnny McKeever and Sonny Schuyler also sang capably. Dolly Dawn became star vocalist and key factor in band's popularity 1935-41: personable, good showman, effective on ballads and belting out rhythm numbers and novelties. Her ties to Hall so close she became his adopted daughter. In late 30s Hall had excellent rhythm section: Johnny Guarneri (p), Nick Fatool (d), Tony Mottola (g), Doc Goldberg (b). Hall retired 1941, turned band over to Dolly, who folded band 1942 and became a single.

755. HAMILTON, GEORGE cm lyr B

Born January 13, 1901, Newport, Vt.
Died March 31, 1957, New York, N.Y.

Leader of hotel bands, best in late 30s. Attended Dartmouth. Conducted orchestra for Chicago Opera several years. Led Barbary Coast Orchestra on west coast early 30s. Late 1936 replaced Shep Fields as band backing famous Veloz & Yolanda dance team in Chicago. Hamilton's band somewhat like Fields' (minus the rippling rhythm): same tinkling piano and accordion fill-ins, similar clipped-style final chorus. Differences: introductions by accordionist playing a cascade of notes; use of harp modulating and leading into each vocal. Hamilton band also bigger, with fuller ensemble sound. In January 1937 at Chicago's Palmer House band introduced gimmick of using an imported music box in its theme, called it "Music Box Music." Vocalist Lee Norton excellent, blended nicely with Hamilton style. Unfortunately, band seldom recorded. Theme That's Because I Love You. Hamilton led band in 40s; popular in Cleveland during one period. Composer or lyricist of several songs: Wild Honey, Here Comes Your Pappy, Bye bye Pretty Baby, Lovely While It Lasted, I Feel Sorry for the Poor People, There's Never Been a Love Like Ours, Hat Check Girl, You Can Say That Again, Iowa Corn Song.

757. HAMILTON, NANCY lyr vo

Born July 27, 1908, Sewickley, Pa.

Singer-actress-lyricist in Broadway shows. Most famous for collaboration with composer Morgan Lewis on all-time-great song How High the Moon. Tune attracted little attention in 1940 Broadway show TWO FOR THE SHOW, but in mid and late 40s became "national anthem" of bopsters, who liked to improvise on its chord changes. Nancy educated at Sorbonne, Paris, and at Smith College. Began stage career 1932 as understudy for Katharine Hepburn in THE WARRIOR'S HUSBAND. In musical revue NEW FACES OF 1934; also contributed book and lyrics. In 1935 play PRIDE AND PREJUDICE. Toured abroad with Katherine Cornell's company playing THE BARRETT'S OF WIMPOLE STREET. Wrote for Stage Magazine, also wrote material for radio and movies. Collaborated with composer Morgan Lewis on scores for Broadway musicals ONE FOR THE MONEY (1939; also played in this), TWO FOR THE SHOW (1940) and THREE TO MAKE READY (1946). Wrote book for all three and for COUNT ME IN (1942).

758. HAMMERSTEIN II, OSCAR lyr

(OSCAR GREELEY CLENDENNING HAMMERSTEIN)
Born July 12, 1895, New York, N.Y.
Died August 23, 1960, Doylestown, Pa.

Great lyricist-librettist of many long-running Broadway shows. Except for Irving Berlin, most prolific lyric writer of all time. Best known for collaboration with composer Richard Rodgers 1943-59. Previously collaborated successfully with composers Jerome Kern, Sigmund Romberg, Rudolf Friml, George Gershwin, Herbert Stothart, Vincent Youmans, Arthur Schwartz and lyricist Otto Harbach. In addition to scores, librettist for majority of his shows. Born into show business family; father manager of historic Victoria vaudeville theatre in New York. Named for grandfather, famed opera impresario and theatre builder; adopted "II" after name, dropped middle names Greeley Clendenning. Attended Columbia University and Law School, wrote and acted in college plays. Later stage manager for uncle Arthur Hammerstein. Tried unsuccessfully to write plays.

Teamed with lyricist Otto Harbach to provide songs for Broadway shows during most of 20s. First modest success, then great success with hit shows ROSE-MARIE (1924), SUNNY (1925), THE DESERT SONG (1926), SHOW BOAT and THE NEW MOON (1928), SWEET ADELIN (1929), MUSIC IN THE AIR (1932), CARMEN JONES (1943). Some hit shows converted into popular movies, which Hammerstein wrote for. After top composer Richard Rodgers lost lyricist Lorenz Hart through illness and death, Hammerstein teamed with Rodgers to form most successful composing team in Broadway history. First show OKLAHOMA! (1943) fantastic success; 2248 performances. Made stage history for style innovations that veered from traditional musical comedy. Other hit shows CAROUSEL (1945), SOUTH PACIFIC (1949), THE KING AND I (1951), FLOWER DRUM SONG (1958), THE SOUND OF MUSIC (1959). 760. HAMPTON, LIONEL

d vb p vo cm B

(nickname Hamp)

Born April 12, 1909 or 1913, Louisville, Ky.

All-time jazz great. Bandleader for three decades. Main talent as vibist, also plays drums and piano in flashy style. Swing-ing, happy style on vibes, complete with grunting, grinning, other antics. Grew up in Birmingham and Chicago. Drummed with minor groups in Chicago, toured, ended up in California about 1927. Jobbed; period with Paul Howard 1929. Long run as house musician at Sebastian's Cotton Club in Culver City. Les Hite led band there early 30s. Hampton took up vibes. Brief spots in several movies. Led band in California 1935-6. Jammed with visiting Benny Goodman and Gene Krupa at Paradise Club in Los Angeles, landed spot with Goodman August 1936, augmenting Goodman Trio to Quartet and winning instant fame. Drummed off and on with Goodman's big band, usually when band was between regular drummers.

Hampton recorded extensively 1937-40 with small groups of top jazzmen. Records since classed among best of combo jazz. Hampton vocals on some. Left Goodman mid-1940, formed big band on west coast. Band featured big sound, swinging arrangements and soloists. Specialized in boogie woogie, jump, later bop. Big hit Flying Home, often used as theme. In later years cut size of band, appeared solo on many TV shows in 50s and 60s. Exuberant personality enhanced popularity. Excellent goodwill ambassador on foreign tours. In movies HOLLYWOOD HOTEL (1938), A SONG IS BORN (1948) and THE BENNY GOODMAN STORY (1956). Composer credits include Flying Home, Midnight Sun, Jack the Bellboy, Ribs and Hot Sauce, Central Avenue Breakdown, Punch and Judy, The Blues in My Flat, The Blues in Your Flat, Opus 1/2, Opus 3/4, Till Tom Special, Board Meeting, Vibraphone Blues. Rejoined original Benny Goodman Quartet for several 1973 concerts.

771. HARDWICK, OTTO "TOBY"

as ss bs bs-s B

Born May 31, 1904, Washington, D.C.
Died August 5, 1970, Washington, D.C.

Long-time stalwart in Duke Ellington sax section. Capable soloist on alto sax but featured infrequently. Early in career worked locally with Ellington and Elmer Snowden. With them and two others to New York 1922 to join Wilbur Sweatman awhile. They returned to New York 1923, played Hollywood Club (later Kentucky Club) with Snowden as leader. Later Ellington became leader, called group The Washingtonians. During 1924-7 group toured New England often, returned to Kentucky Club, played New York clubs and theatres. In December 1927 enlarged band opened at New York's Cotton Club under Ellington's name; great success, springboard for fabulous career. Hardwick left band spring 1928, worked awhile in Paris with several bands including brief period with Noble Sissle. Also own group. Back in U. S. 1929-31 with Chick Webb, Fats Waller, Elmer Snowden and others in New York; led band. Rejoined Ellington spring 1932, remained almost continuously until May 1946. Overshadowed by all-time great altoist Johnny Hodges, but Hardwick's lead sax important band asset. Occasionally featured in straightforward ballads. After leaving Ellington freelanced awhile, soon retired from music.

778. HARRIS, PHIL

d vo B

Born January 16, 1904, Linton, Ind.

Famous bandleader, later personality in radio, movies and TV. Excellent showman, performed well on rhythm and novelty tunes in raspy, half-talking manner. Grew up in Nashville, played drums locally with Francis Craig. With Henry Halstead in mid-20s; toured with bands in U.S. and abroad. Co-leader with Carol Lofner of band on west coast early 30s. Formed hotel-style band to play Coconut Grove in Los Angeles. A sensation with showmanship and novelty vocals. Made 1933 movie short SO THIS IS HARRIS;

later in year in movie MELODY CRUISE. On own 1934 radio show Let's Listen to Harris. Later did radio series from New York. In mid-30s had good band; could swing, featured vocalist Leah Ray. Played hotels, theatres. Rose Room theme. Joined Jack Benny radio show late 1936, became big name. Band played each show and Phil had important comic role as wise-guy hard-drinking musician stereotype. With show until 1946, filled in on Kay Kyser show 1944-5. 1947-54 co-starred with wife Alice Faye on long-running radio show. Harris associated with novelty songs That's What I Like About the South, 1950 hit The Thing. A natural for TV, often on in 50s and 60s. TV specials by himself and co-starring with wife. In later 60s and 70s concentrated on country and western songs, handled them well. Still active in early 70s. During career in numerous movies as single or leading band.

Probably best early jazz trombonist. Career cut short by death at 30. Although influenced by New Orleans trumpet stars King Oliver and Louis Armstrong, veered from New Orleans tailgate style. Sure attack and execution, warm tone; still developing at death. Influenced trombonists. Grew up in Detroit, played jobs there, moved to Toledo. As teenager toured with minstrel show as trombonist-singer. Played 1919-21 with Charlie Johnson, Sam Wooding, Hank Duncan, James P. Johnson and others. To New York 1922, worked with Fess Williams, June Clark, also with Clark in mid-20s. In mid-20s with Billy Fowler, Elmer Snowden, Duke Ellington. Most important period with Fletcher Henderson 1927-30 (except for 1928 interval with Charlie Johnson). In 1930 serious stomach operation. Tried comeback with Henderson late 1930-1 but remained in ill health. With Chick Webb awhile in mid-1931, collapsed on job, died a few weeks later.

781. HART, LORENZ

lyr

Born May 2, 1895, New York, N.Y.

Died November 22, 1943, New York, N.Y.

Great lyricist famed for collaboration with composer Richard Rodgers. Team began writing 1919, successful by mid-20s. Later regarded by many as top composing team on Broadway. Smart, elegant lyrics of Hart combined with brilliant Rodgers tunes to set their work apart. Team key influence in shaping style and music of Broadway musicals in late 20s and 30s. Hit shows included THE GIRL FRIEND (1926), PEGGY ANN and A CONNECTICUT YANKEE (1927), JUMBO (1935), ON YOUR TOES (1936), THE BOYS FROM SYRACUSE (1938), TOO MANY GIRLS (1939), PAL JOEY (1941), BY JUPITER (1942). Librettist Herbert Fields worked with team on many early shows. Most notable songs Manhattan, The Blue Room, The Girl Friend, Mountain Greenery, Thou Swell, My Heart Stood Still, You Took Advantage of Me, With a Song in My Heart, Ten Cents a Dance, Isn't It Romantic?, Mimi, Lover, Blue Moon, Dancing on the Ceiling, It's Easy to Remember, My Romance, Little Girl Blue, There's a Small Hotel, The Lady Is a Tramp, My Funny Valentine, Have You Met Miss Jones?, I Married an Angel, Spring Is Here, This Can't Be Love, I Didn't Know What Time It Was. Hart educated at Columbia, wrote material for shows there. Met Rodgers, later Columbia student, formed team. First success with Any Old Place with You in 1919 Broadway show A LONELY ROMEO. Seven songs for 1920 show POOR LITTLE RITZ GIRL. For several years little success; wrote for amateur shows and minor stage productions, abandoned songwriting awhile. Clicked with scores for 1925 Broadway shows GARRICK GAETIES and DEAREST ENEMY. Many successes followed. But several Depression shows short-lived. Team turned to movie writing in early and mid-30s. Outstanding movie scores LOVE ME TONIGHT (1932) and MISSISSIPPI (1935). Several stage hits made into movies early 30s and later. Back to Broadway 1935 for most successful period. Hart co-librettist on shows ON YOUR TOES, BABES IN ARMS, I MARRIED AN ANGEL, BY JUPITER. In November 1943 early hit A CONNECTICUT YANKEE revived on Broadway. Hart's eccentric, dissipated life led to weakened health, then pneumonia. Died soon after YANKEE opened. 1948 movie WORDS AND MUSIC based on team's lives; roles played by Tom Drake and Mickey Rooney (portraying Hart).

787. HAWKINS, COLEMAN ts cl bs B

(nicknamed Bean and The Hawk)

Born November 21, 1904, St. Joseph, Mo.

Died May 19, 1969, New York, N.Y.

Pioneer and first star on tenor sax. Made instrument important in jazz. All-time giant, far ahead of his time. Big warm tone, great technique, powerful driving style, keen chord sense. When modern jazz emerged in mid-40s, absorbed much of it into playing, remained star. Learned piano, cello and tenor sax. Studied music at Washburn College. At 16 played in Kansas City area. Toured with blues singer Mamie Smith 1921-3. Freelanced in New York 1923-4. Joined Fletcher Henderson in 1924, remained ten years. Louis Armstrong's 1924-25 stint with band revolutionized Hawkins style. During later 20s and early 30s recognized as king of tenor sax. Left Henderson early 1934, worked 1934-9 in England, France, Holland, Belgium, other countries, recorded. Returned to U.S. mid-1939, led band in New York. Late 1939 record of Body and Soul took jazz world by storm, established Hawkins influence anew.

Led big band late 1939 to early 1941, mostly in New York. Thereafter led combos. Toured 1943, worked on west coast. Opened Billy Berg's club in Los Angeles early 1945. In 1946 on first Jazz at the Philharmonic tour. Visited Europe twice in late 40s. In 50s tours with Jazz at the Philharmonic in U.S. and abroad. Extensive freelance recording in 40s and 50s with mainstream and modern groups. Always dominant. Led combos in 50s and 60s, mostly in New York. In late 1967 toured England. Active until shortly before death.

Born July 26, 1914, Birmingham, Ala.

Leader of a swinging big band popular in 30s and 40s. Noted for flashy high-note trumpet spots. Attended Alabama State Teachers College mid-30s, led band there called The 'Bama State Collegians. Band began recording in New York mid-1936. Played Harlem spots including Harlem Opera House, Ubangi Club, Savoy Ballroom. By late 30s band and its recordings popular. Chief arranger pianist Avery

Parrish (noted for piano showcase After Hours). Later arrangements also by sidemen Sammy Lowe and Bill Johnson. Featured soloists Bascomb brothers, Paul on tenor sax and Dud on trumpet. On band's 1939 hit Tuxedo Junction solo by Dud Bascomb though most thought by Hawkins. (Dud's solos fatter in tone, more swinging and authoritative, lower register than Erskine's.) Band's theme Swing Out, composed by Hawkins (who wrote many numbers featured by band); later used Tuxedo Junction as theme. Hawkins band routine: a round of Harlem clubs and theatres, then tours, then back to New York for a new cycle. Band worked steadily through 40s into 50s. Big 1945 hit Tippin' In. Later in 50s Hawkins led combo. Active in 60s. Led combo in 70s. Compositions included Raid the Joint, Tuxedo Junction, Gabriel Meets the Duke, Hot Platter, Weddin' Blues, Strictly Swing, You Can't Escape from Me, Gin Mill Special.

Born July 24, 1915, Jersey City, N.J.
 Died April 11, 1949, Santa Monica, Calif., in auto crash

Tenor sax star of 30s and 40s. Witty, intelligent player. Began in early 30s locally, then in New York. In mid-30s brief periods with Rudy Vallee and Charlie Barnet. Joined Red Norvo combo late 1935, remained when Norvo expanded to big band later in year. Featured with Norvo; subtle style fit perfectly with Eddie Sauter's sophisticated arrangements and band's intimacy. Left Norvo summer 1937. Joined Jimmy Dorsey, again fit with somewhat impish style of band in those years. Joined Woody Herman spring 1941 for about a year. With Kay Kyser 1942-3 about a year, helped transform band into modern outfit that could swing. With Benny Goodman mid-1943. With Dave Hudkins on west coast awhile. Brief period in military service in 1944. With Red Nichols combo late 1944-5. Active in west coast studio work. On Lucky Strike Hit Parade and Chesterfield Supper Club radio shows. With Goodman mid-1947. Much freelancing on records; many with Paul Weston. Top studio and recording sideman when killed in car crash on way home from record session.

20th Fox TFM-3142796. HAYMES, DICK vo

Born September 13, 1916, Buenos Aires, Argentina

One of best pop singers, prominent from early 40s to early 50s. Rich, warm baritone, excellent control and phrasing. Important star in movie musicals of 40s. Voice training from mother, a concert singer. Family travelled in many countries, finally settled in New York, later in California. As youngster Haymes worked at odd jobs in both locales. At about 16 sang during summer with Johnny Johnson band in east. In Hollywood 1933-8 tried songwriting, sang on radio; extra in movies, occasional bits in vaudeville or stock companies. Bit part in 1938 movie DRAMATIC SCHOOL. Tried to plug his songs before Harry James; hired by James as vocalist instead. With James early 1940 to late 1941, attained first prominence. With Benny Goodman March-July 1942. Record coupling with Goodman, Idaho/ Take Me, popular. Toured with Tommy Dorsey 1943 (during recording ban, hence no records). Ended up in Hollywood, played in movie DUBARRY WAS A LADY.

Single in mid-1943, played clubs in east. Replaced Buddy Clark on radio network show Here's to Romance: springboard to success as Haymes became rival to Bing Crosby and Frank Sinatra. In 1944 effective secondary role in movie FOUR JILLS IN A JEEP; featured numbers became popular record coupling How Blue the Night/How Many Times Do I Have to Tell You?. Another popular record In My Arms. Real stardom in 1944 movie IRISH EYES ARE SMILING portraying composer Ernest R. Ball; sang Ball's great songs excellently. During next several years starred in good movie musicals. Mid-40s radio show with Helen Forrest, Everything for the Boys, then popular show for Autolite into late 40s. Starred on Lucky Strike Hit Parade awhile. Big-selling record Little White Lies. During 1949-50 nightly song series on radio. Hollywood career faded early 50s. TV in mid-50s. Financial woes, a succession of wives, even deportation troubles wore Haymes down. During 60s worked in foreign countries; mostly in London and Dublin, later in Madrid.

Returned to U.S. late 1971 for TV specials, commercials, club work.

797. HAYMES, JOE p vo ar cm B

Born 1908, Marshfield, Mo.

Good arranger and leader of little-known but excellent band with good jazzmen during 30s. Band used Haymes arrangements mostly, maintained high level of musicianship equally on ballads, swing and novelty numbers. Late 20s into 1930 arranger for Ted Weems; scored 1929 Weems hit Piccolo Pete. Formed band early 30s, played New York's Roseland and Empire ballrooms. Composed and featured Let's Have a Party, featured swinging novelties like When I Put on My Long White Robe and Pray for the Lights to Go Out. Good recordings steadily through most of 30s. Mid-1935 Tommy Dorsey formed first orchestra with nucleus of Haymes band (having left Dorsey Brothers shortly before). Haymes soon back with another good band, resumed recording. Early 1937 vocalist Barry McKinley led band awhile, with Haymes arranging. Disbanded. In early 40s concentrated on arranging especially for Weems. In mid-40s reorganized band awhile. Movie work, also New York radio work. Finally settled in Dallas, for years continued arranging for various bands.

Born October 29, 1922, Hastings, Neb.

Capable modern trumpet player early in career. Rose to prominence as leading composer-arranger in modern jazz (with ability to arrange in any style). Began career early 40s. With Bobby Byrne late 1942, Charlie Barnet and Charlie Spivak 1943. 1944-6 with Woody Herman's pioneer progressive band, First Herd. Won acclaim for arrangements like Wild Root, Apple Honey, The Good Earth. Married Herman vocalist Frances Wayne. In 1946 freelance arranging for Buddy Rich and George Auld; Mo-Mo outstanding for latter. Later 1946 with Charlie Ventura as sideman-arranger. In late 40s arranged for Harry James, began arranging and conducting for radio-records-TV, continuing in 50s. In 1950 arranged for Art Mooney and Count Basie, furnishing many compositions and arrangements featured and recorded by Basie that helped establish modern sound of band.

Formed own band in 1951 featuring wife Frances Wayne on vocals. Recorded and toured off and on during early 50s. Later in 50s practically abandoned trumpet to concentrate on scoring and conducting. Active on record sessions backing singers and on TV shows of Arthur Godfrey, Kate Smith and others. In 60s based mostly on west coast. Wrote background music for movies, including SEX AND THE SINGLE GIRL, HOW TO MURDER YOUR WIFE, SYNANON, BOEING BOEING, HARLOW, LORD LOVE A DUCK, DUEL AT DIABLO, BAREFOOT IN THE PARK. Wrote music for TV, including Batman and Green Hornet shows. Active into 70s. 810. HEIDT, HORACE

p B

Born May 21, 1901, Alameda, Calif.

Leader of band popular in 30s and 40s. Featured commercial style, showmanship, usually cast of singers. Attended Culver Military Academy and University of California at Berkeley. Learned piano as youngster, began playing professionally 1923, for several years in Oakland. In later 20s toured in vaudeville. Formed band, in late 20s and early 30s played primarily in vaudeville. Excellent entertainment group billed as Horace Heidt & His Californians. Booked 1930 into New York's Palace Theatre: a sensation, stayed for long run. Played Monte Carlo, then less successful second run in New York. Theatre and radio work early 30s in San Francisco. To Chicago's Drake Hotel for long run 1935. Became prominent 1936 via radio and records, played good hotels. Fashioned band into high-powered commercial unit. Lightweight arrangements featured triple-tongueing trumpets, glissing sounds, sometimes several singers. Band billed as Horace Heidt & His Musical Knights (or Brigadiers). Regular radio show for Alemite late 1935-8; used catchphrase "Horace Heidt for Alemite." Philip Morris radio show 1937.

Frank DeVol played lead sax and wrote arrangements for band. Featured in later 30s: Alvino Rey on electric guitar (an innovation then) and Frankie Carle on piano. Larry Cotton best vocalist, King Sisters good vocal quartet, Art Carney singing comedian. Blind whistler Fred Lowery also featured. Gordon MacRae singer in early 40s, Bobby Hackett cornetist. Theme song beautiful I'll Love You in My Dreams; Heidt co-composer; published 1931. Band hit peak 1938-41 with radio show Pot o' Gold. Show built public interest by giving away big money. (Heidt had worked various giveaway shows on west coast in early 30s.) Heidt troupe featured in 1941 movie POT O' GOLD as result of radio show's popularity. In 1942 started show Treasure Chest; ran several years. 1944-5 Heidt band at best musically, with smart arrangements, rich big band sound, occasional swing. Heidt out of band business most of 1946. Returned, hit another peak of popularity in late 40s with Youth Opportunity Program: radio talent contest with contestants selected from auditions in various cities (from which week's show originated). Series built up interest and suspense. One of show winners accordionist Dick Contino. Show ran 1948-53, switched to TV mid-50s. By late 50s Heidt retired from music.

814. HELD, ANNA vo

Born March 8, 1873, Paris, France
 Died August 12, 1918, New York, N.Y.

Beautiful French actress-singer who became star of U.S. stage and vaudeville. Popularized song I Can't Make My Eyes Behave which aptly described her beautiful, expressive eyes. Milk baths part of her publicity. Orphan young, joined touring company, played Holland, Germany and Denmark. At 16 returned to Paris, began singing in musical comedies. Several years later attained popularity, sang in London. American show producer Florenz Ziegfeld brought her to U.S. 1896 for stage debut in A PARLOR MATCH. Ziegfeld served as manager most of her career, married her 1897; divorced 1913. In 1897 starred in operetta LA POUPEE, 1899 in show PAPA'S WIFE. Other Broadway shows THE LITTLE DUCHESS (1901), MAM'SELLE NAPOLEON (1903), HIGGLEDY-PIGGLEDY (1904), A PARISIAN MODEL (1906), MISS INNOCENCE (1908). Featured song It's Delightful to Be Married, for which she wrote lyrics, in A PARISIAN MODEL. Retired awhile, then played vaudeville and toured. Returned to Broadway in FOLLOW ME (1916). Died 1918 from rare disease multiple myeloma.

815. HELLER, LITTLE JACKIE bn vo B

Born May 1, 1908, Pittsburgh, Pa.

Singer most prominent with Ben Bernie band 1932-3. Small (about 115 pounds) but good athlete as youngster; brief boxing career. Eddie Cantor heard Heller's melodious tenor, helped him get job in Texas Guinan's night club in New York. Later toured in vaudeville several years with Benny Davis. In 1932 Ben Bernie heard Heller in Atlantic City night club, hired him as band vocalist. Heller became well known 1932-3 via Bernie's broadcasts. Left Bernie to resume career as single. On 30s radio shows including own singing series. In 1936-7 London hit on stage and radio. Led band in U.S. 1938-9; unit went co-op mid-1939. Role in 1939 Broadway musical YOKEL BOY. Worked clubs 40s into 50s.

816. HENDERSON-DeSYLVA-BROWN cm lyr

Famous songwriting team of Ray Henderson (cm), Buddy DeSylva (lyr), Lew Brown (lyr). During 1926-30 team had no peer in capturing mood of Roaring Twenties. Contributed host of hits, many for stage or movies. Henderson pianist-composer, DeSylva and Brown lyricists and idea men; worked wonderfully together. All worked with others earlier. Brown and Henderson began collaborating 1922; DeSylva joined 1925 for score of GEORGE WHITE'S SCANDALS. Score music adequate, but outstanding score for 1926 SCANDALS established team. Then scores for Broadway shows GOOD NEWS and MANHATTAN MARY (1927), HOLD EVERYTHING (1928), GEORGE WHITE'S SCANDALS OF 1928, FOLLOW THROUGH (1929), FLYING HIGH (1930). Team wrote songs for early Al Jolson sound movies (e.g. Sonny Boy, Little Pal, It All Depends on You), also songs independent of shows. Had own publishing company awhile. In 1929 to Hollywood; great score for popular movie SUNNY SIDE UP starring Janet Gaynor and Charles Farrell. 1930 stage score for FLYING HIGH and several hit songs 1931. Then team broke up as De Sylva moved into movie producing. Henderson and Brown continued together several years, scored for Broadway shows GEORGE WHITE'S SCANDALS OF 1931, HOT-CHA (1932), STRIKE ME PINK (1933). Three men continued in music several years. 1956 movie THE BEST THINGS IN LIFE ARE FREE based on team's career; roles played by Dan Dailey, Gordon MacRae, Ernest Borgnine. Film well done, featured team's great song hits.

817. HENDERSON, FLETCHER

p ar cm B

(nickname Smack)

Born December 18, 1898, Cuthbert, Ga.
Died December 29, 1952, New York, N.Y.

Most influential swing arranger. Leader of outstanding big bands for two decades, none of which attained deserved success. Pioneer among big bands. Trailblazing arrangements adapted improvisations and beat of jazz giants like Louis Armstrong to big band sections, established voicing, harmonics, style for big band swing. Arrangements key ingredient in Benny Goodman's rise as King of Swing in mid-30s. Older brother of bandleader Horace Henderson. Attended Morehouse College in Atlanta, earned degree in chemistry. To New York 1920 for further study, instead took job as song demonstrator in publishing house. In 1921 house pianist for new Black Swan record company. Recorded and toured with Ethel Waters. In early 20s accompanist on record sessions for leading blues singers Bessie Smith, Clara Smith, Trixie Smith, Ida Cox, Alberta Hunter, Ma Rainey, Rosa Henderson, Viola McCoy and others. Led first band 1923 with men used on records as nucleus. Band won job at Club Alabam in New York. Altoist Don Redman arrangements influential in developing band's style. Band recorded immediately; total output tremendous. Played Roseland Ballroom later in 1924, its main base for years. At times Sam Lanin band with good early white jazzmen shared dance hall. Young trumpet star Louis Armstrong joined September 1924, stayed till November 1925, fired and transformed band. Outstanding jazz personnel of Henderson band in 20s and early 30s included Joe Smith (t), Buster Bailey (cl), Jimmy Harrison (tb), Bobby Stark (t), Coleman Hawkins (ts), Claude Jones (tb), Benny Morton (tb), Charlie Green (tb), Tommy Ladnier (t), Rex Stewart (t), Benny Carter (as). During 1933-8 stars included Red Allen (t), Hilton Jefferson (as), Chu Berry (ts), Roy Eldridge (t), Jerry Blake (cl), Ben Webster (ts), Keg Johnson (tb), Emmett Berry (t), Sandy Williams (tb), Dick Vance (t), Joe Thomas (t), J. C. Higginbotham (tb), with Hawkins, Jones and Bailey holdovers for a time.

In late 20s Henderson seemed to lose interest somewhat, perhaps because of auto accident that left him scarred. Recordings dropped 1929-30 and bookings in Depression less frequent. Then band landed good spot at Connie's Inn in Harlem and recordings increased. Benny Carter important arranger at this time. Henderson began arranging early 30s, soon developed talents of giant. Arrangements simple but swung mightily, featured great sax section work, with spots for jazz solos enhanced by section work in background. Scores set general swing style from early 30s to mid-40s. Famed for key Benny Goodman arrangements such as Blue Skies, King Porter, Sometimes I'm Happy, Jingle Bells, Sandman, When Buddha Smiles, Christopher Columbus, Down South Camp Meeting, Star Dust, Somebody Loves Me, Honeysuckle Rose, I Want to Be Happy, dozens more. Henderson band attracted first national attention when swing burst upon scene 1936. Good radio coverage helped launch sensational theme Christopher Columbus. Many of band's best recordings made in 1936. Began long run at Chicago's Grand Terrace. In late 30s name faded. Henderson disbanded 1939 to concentrate on arranging for Goodman, played piano in band latter half of 1939. Arrangements for Goodman in this period included Stealin' Apples, Spring Song, Opus Local 802, Night and Day, Beyond the Moon, Henderson Stomp, Taking a Chance on Love. In early 40s led band again awhile, worked in New York and toured. Worked mostly in Chicago 1945-7, disbanded. Toured with Ethel Waters 1948-9. In late 40s and early 50s furnished Goodman several arrangements including Sweet and Lovely, Back in Your Own Backyard, On a Slow Boat to China, South of the Border. Led band and combo 1950. In December 1950 stroke caused partial paralysis, ended active career.

Henderson composed many jazz numbers including Stampede; Down South Camp Meeting; Wrappin' It Up; Bumble Bee Stomp; No, Baby, No; It's Wearing Me Down; Hotter Than 'Ell. Besides arrangements for Goodman, Henderson arranged for Isham Jones, Glen Gray, Teddy Hill, Will Bradley, Jack Hylton, Dorsey Brothers. Neither outstanding pianist nor bandleader with showmanship. Main contributions to jazz: organizing first important swing band, later writing arrangements for it and Goodman that gave big band swing its distinctive voice.

820. HENDERSON, RAY

cm p

Born December 1, 1896, Buffalo, N.Y.
Died New Year's Eve, 1970, Greenwich, Conn.

Composer in famed 20s-30s songwriting team of Henderson-DeSylva-Brown. Collaborated with other lyricists before and after on long list of hit songs. Educated at Chicago Conservatory. Pianist in dance bands and vaudeville. Arranger and song plugger for New York publishing houses. Began working with lyricist Lew Brown and others in 1922. Great early hits: That Old Gang of Mine; Alabamy Bound; Five Foot Two, Eyes of Blue; Bye Bye Blackbird; I'm Sitting on Top of the World. In 1925 Henderson and Brown joined by lyricist Buddy DeSylva for score of Broadway show GEORGE WHITE'S SCANDALS. Team continued to produce outstanding songs 1925-31.

Henderson and Brown continued together several years. Scores for Broadway shows GEORGE WHITE'S SCANDALS OF 1931, HOT-CHA (1932), STRIKE ME PINK (1933). Henderson wrote with other lyricists, mostly for movies. Special material for Ruth Etting's London show 1936. After early 40s music activities ebbed. Some conducting on TV around 1950. Other collaborators lyricists Mort Dixon, Sam M. Lewis, Joe Young, Jack Yellen, Ted Koehler, Billy Rose, Irving Caesar.

824. HENIE, SONJA

Born April 8, 1912, Oslo, Norway

Died October 12, 1969, on ambulance plane en route from Paris to Oslo

Olympic skating star popular in U.S. movies; staged successful ice shows. Delightful pixie quality, dimpled cheeks, charming accent and personality, flair for light comedy. Not a musical performer but did light song-and-dance numbers occasionally in films (whose scores boasted excellent pop tunes). Began skating early, by 14 won several skating championships in Norway. Won Olympic women's figure skating championship 1928-1932-1936, turned professional. National idol in Norway, popular elsewhere. Staged elaborate ice show 1936 in Hollywood to gain movie career. Signed by 20th Century-Fox. First movie ONE IN A MILLION early 1937 hit, followed by others. Format light comedy, a few good songs performed by entertainers. Always included: Miss Henie's skating. Artist and showman on ice. Between movies toured with own ice shows; financial success. In New York played Madison Square Garden, Roxy Theatre, Center Theatre in Rockefeller Center. Astute business woman. Produced successful 1940 Broadway show IT HAPPENS ON ICE. Final movie 1948 as film popularity waned. Continued ice shows in 50s. 1958 musical travelogue HELLO LONDON. In 1968 she and third husband, shipowner Neils Onstad, gave Norway $3.5 million art museum. (Previous husbands Dan Topping and Winthrop Gardiner Jr.) Died from leukemia.

Born February 1, 1859, Dublin, Ireland
 Died May 24, 1924, New York, N.Y.

Great composer, most important influence in development of Broadway musicals. Exponent of operetta-style show. Due to paucity of long-running shows in early days, Herbert's shows mostly ran about six months or less. But shows numerous, provided many popular songs that endured. Best productions included BABES IN TOYLAND (1903), IT HAPPENED IN NORDLAND (1904), Mlle. MODISTE and THE RED MILL (1906), NAUGHTY MARIETTA (1910), SWEETHEARTS (1913), PRINCESS PAT (1915). Most famous songs Gypsy Love Song; Toyland; Kiss Me Again; In Old

New York; Every Day Is Ladies' Day with Me; Rose of the World; Italian Street Song; Ah, Sweet Mystery of Life; I'm Falling in Love with Someone; Sweethearts; A Kiss in the Dark; Thine Alone; Indian Summer and Yesterthoughts; also notable instrumentals Badinage and March of the Toys. Collaborated with lyricists Henry Blossom, Rida Johnson Young, Glen MacDonough, Harry B. Smith, Robert B. Smith, Buddy DeSylva, Gene Buck.

Formative years in Germany. Became virtuoso on cello. Featured soloist with concert orchestras. First cellist several years with Royal Court Orchestra of Stuttgart. Also composing. Wife Therese Forster, operatic soprano, signed by Metropolitan Opera of New York with Herbert to play in pit orchestra. Couple came to U.S. 1886. Miss Forster sang at Met, soon retired. Victor continued in pit orchestra, performed in concerts as cello soloist. Scores for early musicals. First success in THE SERENADE (1897), first song hit Gypsy Love Song in THE FORTUNE TELLER (1898). After several unsuccessful shows, hit in BABES IN TOYLAND (1903). Established as leading Broadway composer.

Early singing star in Herbert shows Alice Nielson, followed by Fritz Scheff and Emma Trentini. 1894-8 Herbert bandmaster of 22nd Regiment Band, New York National Guard. Conductor of Pittsburgh Symphony Orchestra 1898-1904. Organized own orchestra 1904, at intervals for 20 years played concerts in New York and other cities. In 1914 led group that founded ASCAP. In 1917 began to contribute independent songs to shows as own shows began to fade in popularity. Active until died of heart attack 1924. In later years Herbert hit shows and scores became classics, often revived and performed by amateur and professional groups. Jeanette MacDonald and Nelson Eddy starred in two movies adapted from Herbert shows, NAUGHTY MARIETTA (1935) and SWEETHEARTS (1938). Former launched team, resulted in popular follow-up movies for years. Two early Herbert melodies given lyrics, became song hits: Indian Summer (1939) and Yester- thoughts (1940). 1939 movie THE GREAT VICTOR HERBERT featured Allan Jones and Mary Martin performing Herbert songs, Walter Connolly portraying Herbert.

830. HERMAN, WOODY

cl as ss vo cm B

(WOODROW CHARLES HERMAN)

Born May 16, 1913, Milwaukee, Wis.

Top bandleader from 1936 into 70s. Capable musician and vocalist, excellent front man and organizer. Clarinetist in blues and swing; warm ballad style on alto sax. Early band featured blues, later straight swing. 1944 "Herman Herd" pioneered big band progressive jazz. Despite decline of big bands in later years Herman continued band almost constantly, featured jazz, held commercialism to minimum. Personnel changed but bands maintained standards, kept in step with trends in jazz and popular music. Debuted in vaudeville at early age, billed as The Boy Wonder of the Clarinet; also song-and-dance routine. Local dance bands, joined Tom Gerun band late 1929, remained over two years, mostly on west coast. With Harry Sosnik and Gus Arnheim 1932-3. With great Isham Jones band 1934-6 as sideman-vocalist. When Jones retired briefly in 1936, Herman formed co-op band with several Jones sidemen, opened in New York October 1936. Joe Bishop of Jones band chief arranger, also played flugelhorn. Other arrangers Gordon Jenkins, Jiggs Noble, Deane Kincaide. Early key sidemen Saxie Mansfield (ts), Neal Reid (tb), Frank Carlson (d), Tommy Linehan (p). Blues-styled numbers featured; orchestra billed The Band That Plays the Blues. Rough early years, but 1939 hit Woodchopper's Ball established band, became all-time jazz standard associated with Herman. Another 1939 jazz hit Blues on Parade. Band's first theme Blue Prelude, later Blue Evening, then Blue Flame. Dixieland combo within band called Woodchoppers. In early years Herman handled most vocals. Female singers 1939-42 Mary Ann McCall, Carol Kay, Muriel Lane. In early 40s band changed to more swing, featured more ballads and jazz tenor saxists Herbie Haymer and Vido Musso. Dave Matthews important arranger. Herman used female jazz stars Billie Rogers (t vo) and Marge Hyams (vb).

World War II caused personnel changes. By 1944 band leading exponent of emerging progressive jazz style, caused sensation. Dubbed The Herman Herd, later The First Herd, featured exciting new soloists Bill Harris (tb), Flip Phillips (ts), Pete and Conte Candoli (t), Chubby Jackson (b), with veteran Dave Tough (d) great asset. Modern arrangements mostly by pianist Ralph Burns and trumpeter Neal Hefti, later by trumpeter Shorty Rogers. Band famous for jazz numbers like Bijou, Apple Honey, Northwest Passage, Wild Root. 1945 record hit Happiness Is a Just Thing Called Joe sung by Frances Wayne, coupled with jazz novelty Caldonia sung by Herman. Band played Carnegie Hall concert March 1946 performing Stravinsky's Ebony Concerto, written especially for band. Group broke up late 1946. Herman formed another band late 1947-9 known as The Second Herd. 1948 jazz hit Four Brothers featured new reed section sound, great saxmen Stan Getz, Zoot Sims, Herbie Steward, Serge Chaloff. Late 1949-early 50 Herman led combo. Mid-1950 led another big band known as The Third Herd. European tour 1954. During 1955-9 personnel and size changed frequently; some bands organized for special engagements. Often used young but capable musicians. In late 50s and 60s Nat Pierce frequently Herman pianist, arranger and aide. Tenor sax star Sal Nistico featured. In 60s band played here and abroad, recorded regularly. Kept pace with new 60s and early 70s style with young mod musicians and jazz-rock-soul-folk style, contemporary tunes. Herman still sang jazz and novelty numbers, played soprano sax frequently. Theme song still Blue Flame.

Band in movies WHAT'S COOKIN'? (1942), WINTERTIME (1943), SENSATIONS OF 1945 (1944), EARL CARROLL'S VANITIES (1945), HIT PARADE OF 1947 and NEW ORLEANS (1947). Herman composer or co-composer of jazz numbers Jukin', Herman at the Sherman, Big Morning, Celestial Express, Wild Root, Blues on Parade, Bessie's Blues, Music by the Moon, Apple Honey, Buck Dance, Early Autumn, Cousin to Chris, Blue Ink, Choppin' Wood, River Bed Blues, Your Father's Mustache, Northwest Passage, Goosey Gander, Blowin' Up a Storm and pop song A Kiss Goodnight. Herman and Joe Bishop composed famous Woodchopper's Ball. Herman solos always integral part of bands. Though no progressive, fit with progressive bands because of Herman's rapport with advanced musicians. Long popular with sidemen as well as music lovers. Active playing colleges in 70s.

843. HIMBER, RICHARD v cm lyr B

Born February 20, 1907, Newark, N.J.
 Died December 11, 1966

Leader of excellent dance band in 30s. Often on own radio shows. Learned violin, at 13 summer band job at Coney Island. Jobs in small New York restaurants. Sophie Tucker heard Himber, hired him for act; they toured in vaudeville. During this period got interested in magic, later good amateur magician. Played in Paramount Theatre band awhile. In early 30s managed Buddy Rogers and Harry Barris bands briefly, then over two years as sideman-manager for Rudy Vallee. Formed band mid-1933. Joey Nash vocalist. Early important booking at Essex House in New York. Later Ritz-Carlton and Hotel Pierre in New York. Lush sweet style, often with semi-swing beat, always impeccable musicianship. Usually used It Isn't Fair as theme, sometimes closed with Was I to Blame?. In 1934 band on radio show starring Eddie Peabody. Late 1934 own Studebaker Champions Show into 1937. Innovation on these shows: used harp interludes between numbers. Late 1937 band on Hit Parade show, 1938 Melody Puzzles Show for Lucky Strike plus show starring Connie Boswell and Kay Thompson. Own shows late 30s. Tried new, intricate gimmick: brass played cascading notes in pyramid style. Called this Rhythmic Pyramids Orchestra, soon abandoned style. Tried another style 1940: strings played slow tempo, followed by contrasting brass and reeds in swing tempo. Himber also featured medleys imitating well-known bands, superbly done. Disbanded 1944, came back with new band late 1945, continued as bandleader through 40s. Numerous recordings, especially good 1934-6 featuring vocalists Joey Nash, then Stuart Allen. Jazzmen Bunny Berigan and Artie Shaw made a few records with Himber 1936. Composer of standard It Isn't Fair revived 1950 with hit record by Don Cornell with Sammy Kaye band. Other compositions included Day After Day, Moments in the Moonlight, After the Rain, Haunting Memories, Time Will Tell, Am I Asking Too Much?, I'm Getting Nowhere Fast with You, Today, In That Hat.

844. HINES, EARL p vo cm B

(nicknamed Father or Fatha)

Born December 28, 1905, Duquesne, Pa.

Trailblazing jazz pianist, bandleader with lengthy career. "Trumpet" piano style inspired by Louis Armstrong. Unorthodox rhythmic patterns with left hand ushered in swing piano, influenced almost every pianist. Led bands most of career, swinging groups with excellent personnel. With bands in Pittsburgh beginning about 1918. In 1922 with singer Lois Deppe, toured with her 1923. Led band in Pittsburgh and Chicago, also played solo. Toured theatres mid-20s with Carroll Dickerson troupe, then worked in Chicago with Dickerson and Erskine Tate. With Louis Armstrong 1927, Jimmie Noone late 1927-8. Near end of 1928 led big band at Chicago's Grand Terrace: main base for ten years. Freelance recording with jazz greats, also with own band. Personnel in 30s included Walter Fuller (t vo), Omer Simeon (cl), Darnell Howard (cl), Jimmy Mundy (ts ar), Trummy Young (tb), Budd Johnson (ts). Cavernism theme, later Deep Forest. Biggest hit 1940's Boogie Woogie on the St. Louis Blues. Billy Eckstine joined mid-1939 as featured vocalist, remained till late 1943, starred on hits Jelly, Jelly and Stormy Monday Blues. 1943 band proving ground for bop, included Dizzy Gillespie (t), Charlie Parker (as), Benny Green (tb). Unfortunately Petrillo ban prevented records then. Disbanded 1948, joined Louis Armstrong All-Stars, left late 1951 to form combo. Work in 50s included long run at Hangover Club in San Francisco. Co-led combo with Jack Teagarden on European tour 1957. In early 60s made Oakland base, had club there awhile. Toured at times, played San Francisco and New York. Toured Europe several times; 1966 government-sponsored tour of Russia with combo. Occasionally on TV. Happy personality; playing remained enthusiastic throughout career. Excellence maintained in early 70s. Most famous compositions Rosetta; A Monday Date; Deep Forest (with Reginald Foresythe); You Can Depend on Me. Others: Cavernism; Everything Depends on You; Jelly, Jelly; Tantalizing a Cuban; Dancing Fingers; Madhouse; Piano Man; Life with Fatha.

848. HIRT, AL t vo B
(ALOIS MAXWELL HIRT)Born November 7, 1922, New Orleans, La.

Huge-sized trumpet virtuoso prominent in late 50s and 60s after name band and radio experience. Excellent tone and technique, great power and facility. Only weaknesses: a penchant for crowding too many notes into solos, and difficulty swinging. Early experience in local brass bands. Extensive training; attended Cincinnati Conservatory. Military service 1943-6. Began professionally 1946. With Jimmy and Tommy Dorsey, Ray McKinley, Horace Heidt. Most of 50s staff musician on New Orleans radio. Late 50s formed dixieland combo (included clarinetist Pete Fountain), played Pier 600 Club. Prowess soon became known. TV appearances as single in early 60s brought prominence. Recorded frequently, on top TV shows, own TV summer show 1965. Continued in New Orleans, also Las Vegas; guest soloist in concerts and clinics throughout U.S. Played mostly dixieland with combo, usually at much faster tempo than normal. Capable vocalist, jazz-phrased. He and band did some clowning; Hirt natural showman. Active into 70s, based in New Orleans but played dates elsewhere.

as ss cl cm B

Born July 25, 1906, Cambridge, Mass.

Died May 11, 1970, New York, N.Y.

All-time alto sax giant, especially popular in 30s and 40s. Featured soloist almost four decades with Duke Ellington. Sweet-toned lyrical sax on ballads, buoyant, imaginative style on jazz. In mid-20s with Willie "The Lion" Smith, Sidney Bechet, Bobby Sawyer, Lloyd Scott. With Chick Webb late 1926-7. Joined Ellington mid-1928, remained until early 1951. Rose to stardom as Duke's ace soloist. Wealth of recordings with Ellington, many solos. Also recorded under own name and with other jazz stars. Hodges and Charlie Parker two most widely admired altoists in jazz history. Led small group 1951-5; boasted excellent arrangements, good records. At times used Ellington's men. Rejoined Ellington later in 1955, remained almost constantly in late 50s and 60s. Composer or co-composer of Hodge Podge, Jeep's Blues, Jitterbug's Lullaby, Wanderlust, Mood to Be Wooed, The Wonder of You, Squatty Roo, It Shouldn't Happen to a Dream, Harmony in Harlem, What's It All About?, Shady Side, Latino, Jappa, Krum Elbow Blues,

Good Queen Bess, and 1944 hit I'm Beginning to See the Light.

 (ELEANOR GOUGH; nick-named Lady Day)

*Born April 7, 1915, Baltimore, Md.
 Died July 17, 1959, New York, N.Y.*

All-time great jazz vocalist. Though voice small, sang with warmth and emotion. Lagged behind beat, gave distinctive musicianly interpretation to lyrics. Top jazz personnel accompanied her on records and appearances. Illegitimate daughter of guitarist Clarence Holiday. To New York in late 20s; hard years including prostitution. First good singing job at Log Cabin Club. Gained experience at other New York clubs. Jazz critic John Hammond heard her, arranged 1933 recording debut with Benny Goodman. Attracted attention via classic records with Teddy Wilson all-star combos 1935-9. Began recording under own name 1936. With Count Basie 1937-8. With Artie Shaw much of 1938, featured on his radio spots from Boston. Good 1939 runs at New York's Cafe Society. In early and mid-40s worked clubs mainly in New York and Chicago. In 1947 movie NEW ORLEANS. In late 40s singing deteriorated: more commercial style, and voice failing. Drug problem led to jail sentence. Worked her way back early 50s, voice deeper and coarser but approached former jazz style. Toured Europe 1954 with show Jazz Club U. S. A. Appeared solo in Europe 1958. Health deteriorated late 50s; periods of inactivity. 1972 hit movie LADY SINGS THE BLUES based vaguely on Billie Holiday life, starred Diana Ross in Holiday role.

vo

Born May 23, 1906, Cincinnati, Ohio
Died June 18, 1971, Stamford, Conn.

Performer who rose to brief stardom in Broadway musicals as epitome of torch singer. Associated with songs Moanin' Low, Body and Soul, Something to Remember You By. Minor role in Broadway show GARRICK GAIETIES (1925), featured in MERRY-GO-ROUND (1927) and RAINBOW (1928). In short-run show NED WAYBURN'S GAMBOLS early 1929. Shortly thereafter star in THE LITTLE SHOW, first real success. Sensation in THREE'S A CROWD (1930) with sultry rendition of Body and Soul. Promising career interrupted by 1931 marriage to Zachary Smith Reynolds, tobacco scion shot to death a year later. Libby questioned, cleared. Resumed Broadway career, starring in REVENGE WITH MUSIC (1934) and YOU NEVER KNOW (1938). But Holman magic had dimmed. Summer stock 1939-45. Appeared with Negro folk singer Josh White early 40s in clubs and concerts. During 50s concert tours; program titled "Blues, Ballads and Sin Songs." Mostly inactive in later years.

FRANK KETTERING (banjo, guitar, flute, piccolo, bass, piano)

Entertaining cornball quartet especially popular in 30s and early 40s. Group performed in high school for plays and dances. Appeared on radio in Fort Wayne. Formed act, toured in vaudeville. Attired in "hick" clothes, used cornball dialogue and antics, topped off act with novelty playing and singing. Favorite line: "Are you ready, Hezzie?" Began on National Barn Dance radio show 1935, appeared regularly through 30s and early 40s. Numerous records. In many low-budget western movies. Dominant group sound: Ward's clarinet. Though exaggerated cornball style, fine tone and technique. Group continued into 50s.

Born September 12, 1914, Woodland, Calif.

Died May 23, 1963, Palm Desert, Calif.

Vocalist who rose to fame with Dick Jurgens band in late 30s, then became successful bandleader in 40s and 50s. Soft melodic voice and intimate style. Attended San Jose State College and Stanford University Medical School. Began singing on Los Angeles radio. In early 30s with Eddie Fitzpatrick, Tom Gerun, Ben Bernie. With Dick Jurgens 1934-1940. Popularity with Jurgens peaked with hits My Last Goodbye and Careless, both Howard compositions. In 1940 began as single in clubs and on records. Formed band 1941, through the years maintained competent hotel-styled group. Theme Careless. Hit To Each His Own 1946. Howard featured as solo vocalist with band, also led vocal trio. Popular into 50s, though ill health forced disbanding a year 1951-2 and again most of 1954. Reorganized band late 1954, active into 60s. Other compositions included If I Knew Then, Now I Lay Me Down to Dream, A Million Dreams Ago, Soft Summer Breeze, Something Old—Something New, So Long for Now, For Sale, Lynn, With Love, Lonesome Tonight.

Deceased

Excellent showman, long a vocalist with Ted Weems. Most noted for zany vocals and antics with Spike Jones in 40s, later leading own similar band starting 1947. With Weems fall 1931 till early 40s; tenor sax and violin with band. Featured vocalist occasionally on ballads, especially on novelties. Joined Spike Jones; important in band's rise in comic-cornball field. Record hit Tim-Tayshun (Temptation) on which Jo Stafford guest-starred in corny vocal. Ingle band specialized in turning pops into hillbilly tunes and changing titles as well. Made hilarious records. Active in 50s.

Vocal quartet most popular 1939-40; continuing success in 40s. Sound featured high tenor lead. Early in career group performed hot and jive numbers without much success. Played England mid-30s; with Jack Hylton band. Changed to slow tempos, scored with If I Didn't Care 1939. Bill Kenny's sugary high tenor dominant feature of group, along with talking choruses by deep-voiced Orville "Hoppy" Jones. Other singers Charlie Fuqua (also guitarist) and Ivory "Deek" Watson. Jones died November 1944, replaced by Herb Kenny, Bill's brother. Watson replaced later by Billy Bowen. Often on radio late 30s and 40s, played theatres, recorded steadily. In movies GREAT AMERICAN BROADCAST (1941) and PARDON MY SARONG (1942). Other top records Maybe, My Prayer, Whispering Grass, We Three, Do I Worry?, Java Jive. Active through 40s into 50s. Some confusion 1952 when two groups used Ink Spots name. Bill Kenny and Charlie Fuqua each held 50% title to name, according to court ruling, and each led own group. Kenny star of his group. Fuqua's personnel: "Deek" Watson, Harold Jackson and high tenor Jimmy Holmes. Later members Leon Antoine and Isaac Royal. In later 50s Ink Spots faded but still worked into 70s.

bn g vo lyr ar

Born June 14, 1909, Hunt Township, Ill.

Leading folk singer, considerable commercial appeal. After prominence in this field, became distinguished character actor in movies-stage-TV. Attended Eastern Illinois State Teachers. Interested in folk songs at early age. Quit college to travel two years over the U. S. Lived hand to mouth, performing where he could, including riverboat jobs. Huge, played some semi-pro football. In wanderings picked up folk songs from all sections of country.

Vocal lessons at Indiana State Teachers. To New York; some success in Greenwich Village clubs and summer stock. Studied at NYU School of Music. In late 30s small roles on Broadway stage in I MARRIED AN ANGEL, THE BOYS FROM SYRACUSE, HEAVENLY EXPRESS. Sang at New York's Village Vanguard. Military service awhile, World War II; in THIS IS THE ARMY show. After discharge 1944 club work. Began on radio, soon starred on The Wayfaring Stranger. Good role in 1944 Broadway show SING OUT SWEET LAND. By postwar 40s well known. Began movie career. Small roles initially, soon important roles in major films. In 1954 Broadway revival of SHOW BOAT. Greatest role 1955 in CAT ON A HOT TIN ROOF; repeated role as Big Daddy in movie version 1958. In 50s and 60s frequent guest spots on TV, own series, occasional specials. In early 70s star of The Bold Ones, TV dramatic series. Folk singing relaxed and soothing; talented at projecting lyrics. Often adapted and arranged own unusual material. His guitar accompaniment fit material perfectly. Author of books Sailing on a Very Fine Day, Tales of America, The Burl Ives Song Book, America's Musical Heritage—Song in America. Arranged and popularized such songs as Blue Tail Fly, Foggy Foggy Dew, Wayfarin' Stranger, Ten Thousand Miles, Woolie Boogie Bee, Turtle Dove.

Born October 26, 1911, New Orleans, La.

Died January 27, 1972, Chicago, Ill., suburban hospital

Considered by most as world's greatest gospel singer. True artist. As youngster in

New Orleans listened to blues singers but shaped vocal style to gospel music. Refused to sing jazz, blues or pops yet could have been star in any. To Chicago 1927, ran beauty shop. Active singing in all types of churches, large or small. Some concerts. Mid-40s began recording for Apollo. Successful, particularly own composition Move On Up a Little Higher. Other popular records I Can Put My Trust in Jesus and Silent Night, Holy Night. In early 50s concert tours in U.S. and abroad. In 1954 began on Columbia LPs. Big hit at Newport Jazz Festival 1957 and 1958. In late 50s and 60s TV advanced career. Sincerity, artistry won army of admirers. In 1958 movie ST. LOUIS BLUES. Active in 60s. Sang abroad, received by royalty. Late in career veered slightly from gospel singing, sometimes worked with large orchestras and sang popular material in good taste. Illness 1964-5 forced her from music; resumed later. On European tour several months before death; tour cut short by illness.

910. JACQUET, ILLINOIS

ts as ss bas cm B

Born October 31, 1922, Broussard, La.

Underrated tenor sax star; jazz image tarnished by early frantic style, squealing high notes and honking. Later displayed inventive, tasteful modern style, beautiful tone. Great facility on swing, sensitive on ballads. Younger brother of trumpeter Russell Jacquet. Grew up in Houston, played locally late 30s. On west coast 1941 with Floyd Ray, played alto and soprano sax. With Lionel Hampton 1941-2, switched to tenor sax. Won fame with frenzied solos on band's hit Flying Home. With Cab Calloway 1943-4. In 1944 led brother Russell's group awhile. Late 1944 recorded frantic sides with Jazz at the Philharmonic group, fueled reputation as wild exhibitionist. With Count Basie 1945-6, settled down to more conventional swing style. Toured with Jazz at the Philharmonic shows at intervals in later 40s and early 50s. Mostly led combos from late 40s into 70s. Led big band on tour 1952. European tour 1954. Based mostly in New York. Took up bassoon mid-60s. Among jazz compositions: Robbins Nest and Black Velvet. Former became 1951 pop Just When We're Falling in Love. Latter became 1950 tune Don'tcha Go 'Way Mad featured by Harry James.

912. JAMES, HARRY

t cm ar B

Born March 15, 1916, Albany, Ga.

Trumpet star who rose to fame with Benny Goodman, then became top band-leader for over three decades. Vigorous style influenced by Louis Armstrong. Great technique; rich, brassy tone. Warm style on ballads produced many 40s hits. Father circus bandmaster, taught Harry trumpet. After travelling, family settled in Beaumont, Texas. Harry played in Texas early 30s, including jobs with Herman Waldman. Toured to New Orleans with Joe Gill around 1934; band included pianist Peck Kelley. First important job with Ben Pollack 1935-6; featured. Joined Benny Goodman January 1937; soon famous for fiery solos. Audiences at Goodman's radio and stage shows usually greeted James solos with applause. Goodman's top soloist 1937-8. Also recorded with pickup groups and small bands under own name. In band's 1938 movie HOLLYWOOD HOTEL. Left Goodman late 1938 to form own big band. Theme showcase Ciribiribin. Band modestly popular 1939-40. Future great vocalists Frank Sinatra, then Dick Haymes. Established singer Helen Forrest joined late 1941; featured on James record hits. Popular 1939 record, often reissued: Two O'clock Jump.

In early 1941 James broke through with flashy trumpeting on record coupling The Flight of the Bumble Bee/Carnival of Venice. Also popular: instrumental Music Makers. I Don't Want to Walk without You popular early 1942. Other hits of early 40s: You Made Me Love You, I Had the Craziest Dream, Sleepy Lagoon, Trumpet Blues, I've Heard That Song Before, I'll Get By. Popular instrumentals: The Mole, Flatbush Flanagan; Strictly Instrumental, Prince Charming, James Session, Trumpet Rhapsody, Jump Town, Velvet Moon, Concerto for Trumpet. James married movie star Betty Grable 1943 (previous wife vocalist Louise Tobin). In early 40s band often on radio on such shows as Jack Benny, Coca Cola, Danny Kaye, own Chesterfield series. Peak popularity these years. James added strings early 40s, achieved lush backgrounds, maintained large orchestra most of 40s. Tenor saxman Corky Corcoran star soloist; with band off and on into 1973.

Arrangers in early 40s: Leroy Holmes, Jack Mathias and Johnny Thompson. Vocalist Kitty Kallen followed Helen Forrest. In later 40s Ray Conniff important arranger-composer for band. Altoist Willie Smith and trombonist Juan Tizol joined mid-40s; important sidemen until 1951, rejoined 1954. Band active despite lean postwar years. Later 50s based in Los Angeles and Las Vegas, toured occasionally. Top drummer Buddy Rich featured off and on in 50s and 60s. Other star soloists of later years Sam Firmature (ts), Jack Perciful (p), Ray Sims (tb). Late 50s band featured hard-swinging style with minimum commercialism. Even more jazz-oriented in 60s; sound and style along Count Basie lines. Basie arrangers Ernie Wilkins and Neal Hefti important writers for James. Band played classic swingers, modern jazz, some current well-arranged pops. James adopted trace of progressive style in solos. Always impressive front man, warm and expressive but dignified. Band in movies PRIVATE BUCKAROO and SPRINGTIME IN THE ROCKIES (1942), BEST FOOT FORWARD (1943), BATHING BEAUTY and TWO GIRLS AND A SAILOR (1944), DO YOU LOVE ME? and IF I'M LUCKY (1946), CARNEGIE HALL (1947), I'LL GET BY (1950). James in SYNCOPE (1942) and THE BENNY GOODMAN STORY (1956). Trumpet on soundtrack of YOUNG MAN WITH A HORN (1950). 1952 band had TV show; later years occasional TV. James composer or co-composer of jazz numbers including Peckin', Two O'clock Jump, The Mole, Music Makers, LIFE Goes to a Party, Tango Blues, Jughead, Ultra, James Session, Easy, Keb-lah, Friar Rock, Feet

Draggin' Blues, Trumpet Rhapsody, Concerto for Trumpet, Night Special, Flatbush Flanagan, The Beaumont Ride, Back Beat Boogie, Jump Town, Let Me Up, pops I'm Beginning to See the Light, Eleven Sixty P.M., Every Day of My Life, From the Bottom of My Heart.

*Born c. 1889-97 in Texas
Died 1930, Chicago, Ill.*

One of better male blues singers. Born blind, as youngster sang and begged on streets, performed at picnics and parties. To Dallas 1917, became wrestler for awhile. Teamed with blues singer Huddie Ledbetter ("Leadbelly") at times. Shouting style suited street singing; guitar playing complemented lyrics. Most songs own compositions, many drawn from experience. To Chicago, began recording late 1925 or early 1926. On most records only accompaniment own guitar. Continued recording until fall 1929. Died in snowstorm 1930.

*Born July 30, 1903, Danbury, Conn.
Died November 14, 1968, New York, N.Y.*

Star sideman with top swing bands of 30s and 40s. Good lead alto sax, clean lyrical style along Benny Carter lines, impeccable taste. Adept at ballads, light-swinging style on jazz. Slight overtones of progressive jazz later. Attended high school in Boston and Providence. In 1925 played banjo in Philadelphia, switched to alto sax. Late 20s in New York mostly with Claude Hopkins. With Chick Webb off and on 1929-31, with King Oliver and McKinney's Cotton Pickers at intervals. Rejoined Hopkins 1932, then with Fletcher Henderson about two years late 1932-4. Freelanced in mid-30s, periods again with Webb and Hopkins. With Henderson again late 1936-8, then Webb again 1938-9. After Webb's death remained latter half 1939 under leadership of Ella Fitzgerald. With Cab Calloway through 40s, again in 1951. With Duke Ellington eight months from mid-1952. Freelanced awhile, then semi-active. Occasional jobs in later 50s and 60s including stints with Harry Dial and Noble Sissle.

When a Woman Loves a Man (1934); Blue Evening (1939); San Fernando Valley (1943). Collaborators Joe Bishop, Johnny Mercer. Composed Benny Goodman's moody closing theme Goodbye (1935). Early work as banjoist in St. Louis dance band, then staff pianist on radio. Pianist-arranger early 30s with great Isham Jones band; scores vital asset. Later arranged for Paul Whiteman, Benny Goodman, Vincent Lopez, Andre Kostelanetz. Arranger-conductor for Broadway musical THE SHOW IS ON (1937). Musical director for NBC radio on west coast 1938. Wrote music for radio, movies and night clubs. In middle and late 40s conducted on Dick Haymes radio show. In 1945 with Decca Records, first as conductor, later as musical director. Accompanied many singers. Notable records with Louis Armstrong (It's All in the Game, etc.) and Artie Shaw (You're Mine, You). Known for one-finger piano style. His favorite Lonesome Town recorded by Frank Sinatra. Score with lyricist Tom Adair for 1949 Broadway show ALONG FIFTH AVENUE. Busy recording and writing during 50s. Beautiful hit This Is All I Ask in early 60s: "singer's song," became standard. Activities ebbed in 60s. Conductor/arranger on Frank Sinatra's comeback TV special 1973. Other compositions include Homesick, That's All; Tomorrow; Sally Doesn't Care; Saddest Man in Town; MANHATTAN TOWER SUITE (Married I Can Always Get; Once Upon a Dream; Never Leave Me); ALONG FIFTH AVENUE stage score (Skyscraper Blues; Fifth Avenue; The Best Time of the Day; I Love Love in New York; Weep No More); Maybe She'll Remember; When You Climb Those Golden Stairs, Goin' Back to Brooklyn; Daylight Savings Blues; Once to Every Heart; The Man Who Loves Manhattan; How Old Am I?; Indian Giver; I Thought About Marie.

Trombone star of 30s and 40s with thoughtful, advanced ideas. Much admired by fellow trombonists. Effective in upper register, great lead trombone, beautiful tone, smooth delivery. Shone on ballads but could swing too. Attended school in Cedar Rapids. As youngster played in father's band. Attended Culver Military Academy. Began professionally with Austin Wylie 1928. With great Isham Jones band 1934 after playing 1933 with Mal Hallett. In later 30s radio in New York with Lennie Hayton, Victor Young, Fred Rich, others. Directed 1937 recording session for wife, singer Kay Thompson. Led big band 1938-40. Notable recording Star Dust arranged by saxman Hugo Winterhalter. Wrote theme City Night. Band died 1940. Jenney joined Artie Shaw several months late 1940-1. Unusual solo on Shaw recording of Star Dust paralleled his solo on Jenney band recording. Led trio awhile 1942. In jam session sequence of 1942 movie SYNCO-PATION. Briefly with Benny Goodman late 1942-3, appeared with band in 1943 movie STAGE DOOR CANTEEN. In 1943 fronted Bobby Byrne band awhile after leader entered air corps. Jobbed on west coast later in year. Military service briefly late 1943-4. After discharge on west coast radio until kidney trouble intervened. After appendectomy and complications, Jenney died at 35, tragic loss to music. Co-composer of Man with a Horn; popular 1946 after death, later a jazz standard. Co-composer with Kay Thompson of beautiful, little-known What More Can I Give You? 1939.

936. JOHNSON, BUNK c B (WILLIAM GEARY JOHNSON)

Born December 27, 1879, New Orleans, La.

Died July 7, 1949, New Iberia, La.

Jazz cornetist in traditional New Orleans style. Resurrected from oblivion in New Iberia, La., by jazz buffs early 40s for concerts, club dates, recordings. Cornet style led ensembles firmly, though not overpowering soloist. Career began in 1890s, included jobs with legendary Buddy Bolden. Early 1900s travelled with circus and jazz bands along Gulf coast. With leading jazzmen in New Orleans area beginning 1910. Years later toured again with circus bands, played theatre tours. Played in Texas early 30s. Settled in New Iberia, by 1933 in music part-time. Other jobs included work in rice fields. In late 30s discovered via research by writers William Russell and Frederic Ramsey Jr. Publicity sparked Johnson to get back into playing shape locally. Cut first records 1942 in New Orleans. Worked mostly on west coast late 1942-4, including jobs with Lu Watters. Returned to New Orleans early 1944, recorded, worked there a year. Brief flings at New York and Boston spring 1945, latter one month with Sidney Bechet. Resumed work in Louisiana later in 1945. Led group in New York from fall 1945 to early 1946, then back to Louisiana. Two Chicago concerts later 1946. To New York fall 1947, led band awhile, recorded. Last days in New Iberia; stroke barred further playing. Substantial recording in 40s. Worked with important jazzmen George Lewis (cl), Jim Robinson (tb), Baby Dodds (d). Controversy about Johnson's musical ability. Some critics proclaimed him outdated and not forceful; others considered him overall equal to most cornetists in New Orleans style.

(JAMES LOUIS JOHNSON)

Born January 22, 1924, Indianapolis, Ind.

Outstanding jazz trombonist. Modern style with mainstream roots, dazzling technique. Pioneer of bop trombone with Benny Carter 1942-5. Earlier experience 1941-2 before joining Carter. With Count Basie 1945-6, further developed technique and solo style. Freelanced; 1947-9 with Illinois Jacquet. Later 1949 with Woody Herman and Dizzy Gillespie. USO tour abroad with Oscar Pettiford late 1951. Out of music two years except for occasional jobs beginning mid-1952. August 1954 teamed with trombonist Kai Winding to co-lead combo. Unique instrumentation and arrangements scored, brought Johnson to jazz trombone heights. Remained with Winding till 1956, rejoined late 1958 awhile. Led combo late 50s and at intervals in 60s. Began to devote time to arranging and composing. With Miles Davis late 1961-2. In 1964 led combo on Japanese tour. In late 60s semi-active; played special jobs and workshop projects, continued with writing. Jazz compositions mostly lengthy works performed in concert. Despite comparative inactivity, retained standing among many as top trombonist.

 (CHARLES VAN JOHNSON)

Born August 25, 1916, Newport, R.I.

Popular movie star of over 60 movies, mostly in 40s and 50s. Occasionally sang and danced. Played violin as youngster.
 Minor role in Broadway musical NEW FACES OF 1936. Summer in Catskills as M.C.-singer-dancer-violinist. Baritone in vocal group Eight Men of Manhattan about 1938-9. Minor roles in Broadway musicals TOO MANY GIRLS (1939) and PAL
 JOEY (1941). Small roles in movies early 40s, stardom in A GUY NAMED JOE (1943) led to important MGM films. Surprised public with song and dance number in star-studded movie musical TILL THE CLOUDS ROLL BY (1947). Other movie
 musicals TWO GIRLS AND A SAILOR (1944), THRILL OF A ROMANCE (1945), EASY TO WED and NO LEAVE NO LOVE (1946), IN
 THE GOOD OLD SUMMERTIME (1949), DUCH-ESS OF IDAHO (1950), EASY TO LOVE (1953), BRIGADOON (1954)—but seldom performed musically in these. Outstanding non-musical movies included THIRTY SEC-ONDS OVER TOKYO and THE WHITE CLIFFS OF DOVER (1944), STATE OF THE UNION and COMMAND DECISION (1948), BATTLE-GROUND (1949), REMAINS TO BE SEEN
 (1953), THE CAINE MUTINY and THE LAST TIME I SAW PARIS (1954). As movies declined, Johnson played night clubs and stock as song and dance man. On TV during 60s; excellent entertainer.

(ASA YOELSON)

Born March 26, 1886, St. Petersburg, Russia

Died October 23, 1950, San Francisco, Calif.

Sometimes rated greatest entertainer of all time. Dynamic personality with great projection on stage. Sang in forceful, dramatic style. Favorite expression "Folks, you ain't heard nothin' yet!" often uttered after well-received number. Starred in important Broadway musicals, also on radio and in movies. Most-famous featured songs Swanee; April Showers; Rock-a-bye Your Baby with a Dixie Melody; My Mammy; Sonny Boy; California, Here I Come; Toot Toot Tootsie; I'm Sitting on Top of the World; There's a Rainbow 'Round My Shoulder. Educated in Washington, D.C. Father, Rabbi M. R. Yoelson, wanted Al to become cantor in his synagogue. But Al joined travelling burlesque troupe as stooge, later became singer. In vaudeville and minstrel shows, including famous Dockstader's Minstrels. Often worked blackface on stage; white gloves trademark. On Broadway in 1911 musicals LA BELLE PAREE and VERA VIOLETTA. Top star in shows THE WHIRL OF SOCIETY (1912), THE HONEYMOON EXPRESS (1913), DANCING AROUND (1914), ROBINSON CRUSOE, JR. (1916), SINBAD (1918). Collaborated in writing several songs in his shows.

Next show BOMBO (1921); toured in it 1922-4. Then BIG BOY (1925), THE WONDER BAR (1931) and years later HOLD ON TO YOUR HATS (1940). Made entertainment history late 1927 starring in first part-sound movie THE JAZZ SINGER. Starred in other movies 1928-30. Popularity waned somewhat in early 30s; 1933 movie HALLELUJAH, I'M A BUM not well received. Co-starred with Paul Whiteman orchestra on good radio show 1933-4. Early 1933 movie musical 42ND STREET starred fresh young personality Ruby Keeler, Jolson's wife since 1928. Good Jolson role in movie WONDER BAR (1934). He and wife co-starred in big movie musical GO INTO YOUR DANCE (1935). Jolson starred on radio show the Shell Chateau 1935-6, other shows through 30s. He and Ruby divorced 1939. Entertained at army camps, World War II. Another radio series early 40s. Career waned, revived with release of important movie THE JOLSON STORY (1946). Larry Parks portrayed Jolson, with Al's singing dubbed. Great old songs featured; Jolson voice never better. Popularity of movie prompted sequel JOLSON SINGS AGAIN (1949), again with Jolson's singing dubbed for Parks. Jolson bounced back, hosted popular Kraft Music Hall on radio 1947-9 co-starring pianist Oscar Levant.

Recorded often. Led strenuous life capped by grueling 1950 tour entertaining U.S. troops in Far East Command during Korean War. Health deteriorated; died about a month after tour. During career Jolson credited as composer or lyricist of important songs, most featured in his shows and movies, including 'n Everything (1917); I'll Say She Does (1918); You Ain't Heard Nothin' Yet (1919); Avalon (1920); Yoo Hoo (1921); Stella (1923); California, Here I Come (1924); Miami and Keep Smiling at Trouble (1925); Me and My Shadow and Four Walls (1927); Back in Your Own Backyard, Golden Gate, Sonny Boy and There's a Rainbow 'Round My Shoulder (1928); Little Pal, I'm in Seventh Heaven, Used to You, Why Can't You?, Evangeline and A Year from Today (1929); The Anniversary Song (1946); The Egg and I and All My Love (1947). Collaborators included Harry Akst, Dave Dreyer, Billy Rose, Jean Schwartz, Joseph Meyer, Henderson-DeSylva-Brown team.

ERNEST HARE (Born March 16, 1883, Norfolk, Va.; died March 9, 1939, Jamaica, N.Y.)

Entertaining team with low-key, relaxed comic-patter style specializing in novelty songs. Both worked early as singles in vaudeville and on records. Hare had small roles in Broadway musicals UP AND DOWN BROADWAY (1910), REVUE OF REVUES (1911), THE PASSING SHOW OF 1912, THE WHIRL OF SOCIETY (1912), THE PASSING SHOW OF 1915, THE PEASANT GIRL (1915), THE SHOW OF WONDERS (1916). Two met 1919, later formed team at suggestion of Brunswick recording executive Gus Haenschen. Began as team on Brunswick Records, later recorded often for other companies. On radio as The Happiness Boys, by late 20s popular pair. Reached peak 1929-30 on network show for Interwoven Sox; called themselves The Interwoven Pair. In 30s continued theatre and club appearances though no recordings. Also continued on radio; 1934 Tasty Loafers show over New York's WOR. A few appearances on Milton Berle's Community Sing radio show late 1936-7, but spark gone.

p ts ar cm B

Born January 31, 1894, Coalton, Ohio
Died October 19, 1956, Hollywood, Calif.

Leader of outstanding dance band many years, especially notable 1930-35. Band towered above most contemporaries because of arrangements and impeccable musicianship. Full, rich ensemble sound and good beat enhanced by tasteful use of tuba. Jones tough disciplinarian. Equally important as composer; songs enjoyed great popularity, became standards. Jones to Chicago 1915, played tenor sax and led trio. Later led larger group at Green Mill and Rainbow Gardens. Established reputation by early 20s; good runs at Hotel Sherman. Toured, played New York, appeared in London 1924. Prolific recording. During 20s and 30s fame grew; composed hit tune or two almost every year. By late 20s band excellent; reached peak 1932-4. Top arranger Gordon Jenkins, aided by Joe Bishop (tu) and Jiggs Noble (p). Johnny Carlson fine lead trumpet, Milt Yaner first alto sax and hot clarinet. Other hot soloists at times: Saxie

Mansfield (ts), George Thow (t), Pee Wee Erwin (t), Jack Jenney (tb), Sonny Lee (tb), Howard Smith (p). Vocalist Eddie Stone crowd-pleaser, important asset. Other vocalists Joe Martin and Woody Herman (also featured on clarinet). 1931 recording Star Dust pushed band higher in popularity, helped establish song. 1931 Jones composition You're Just a Dream Come True band's beautiful theme. On radio shows of note: The Big Show with Gertrude Niesen early and mid-1934 and Chevrolet show late 1934-5. Disbanded 1936; nucleus under Woody Herman organized cooperative band. Jones formed new band 1937 again with vocalists Eddie Stone and Joe Martin (into 1938). Disbanded about 1942, thereafter led bands at intervals. In 40s and 50s based mostly on west coast, composing and occasionally recording; some recordings with vocalist Curt Massey noteworthy. Most notable compositions I'll See You in My Dreams, On the Alamo, Swingin' Down the Lane, It Had to Be You, No Greater Love, I Can't Believe It's True, The One I Love, The Wooden Soldier and the China Doll, Why Can't This Night Go On Forever?. Chief lyricists Charles Newman and Gus Kahn.

(ROBERT ELLIOTT JONES)

Born December 31, 1909, Louisville, Ky.

Trumpet star with good tone and intense drive. Fresh, exciting soloist, particularly in 30s; then mostly played open horn. Later led swinging yet commercial jazz combo, playing mostly muted trumpet. Early job late 20s on riverboat Island Queen. With Horace Henderson 1928-30, Hardy Brothers 1930, Wesley Helvey and Jimmie Lunceford 1931. Joined Stuff Smith combo in Buffalo 1932, remained till 1935. Periods with Lil Armstrong and McKinney's Cotton Pickers 1935. Re-joined Smith in Buffalo late 1935; combo to New York early 1936, acclaimed at Onyx Club for entertaining, free-wheeling jazz. Jones hailed for trumpet work, remained with Smith till 1940. With Fletcher Henderson briefly 1940; with Benny Carter late 1940 to early 1941. Early 1941 began ten-year period with Cab Calloway. Jobbed with Earl Hines, Joe Bushkin 1952. To Europe 1954, solo sensation. Brief period with Lester Lanin society band. In 1955 formed quartet; first success at The Embers in New York. Hit big with On the Street Where You Live and Baubles, Bangles and Beads. Novel commercialized jazz style led to top bookings and fast-selling LPs. Jones's muted trumpet melodious, straightforward; semblance of head arrangements gave group more identity. Played predominately show tunes, jazz standards, better pops. Jones excellent showman, sang occasionally. Frequently on TV late 50s and 60s. Latterly grew to quintet. Numerous tours abroad in 60s and early 70s.

964. JONES, SPIKE d c m B
(LINDLEY ARMSTRONG JONES)

Born December 14, 1911, Long Beach, Calif.

Died May 1, 1964, Los Angeles, Calif.

Bandleader known as King of Corn. Bands beginning early 40s featured zany arrangements, vocals, antics. Billed as Spike Jones & His City Slickers. Grew up in California. At high school in Long Beach led combo on local radio. In early 30s after junior college drummed in bands of Ray West, Everett Hoagland, Earl Burtnett. Mid-30s to early 40s played in studio bands on radio shows of Burns & Allen, Al Jolson, Bob Burns, Fibber McGee & Molly, Bing Crosby. Began rehearsing band with cornball routines lampooning popular songs. Used such unlikely "instruments" as pistols, cowbells, saws, auto pumps, fire bells, toy whistles. Band heard by RCA executive, signed for Bluebird label. Almost instant popularity with 1942 hit Der Fuehrer's Face, which Jones composed. On radio shows later 1942, on Bob Burns show 1943-4. Chase & Sanborn show with Frances Langford 1945. Hits of later 40s included Chlo-e, You Always Hurt the One You Love, Cocktails for Two, The Glow-Worm, All I Want for Christmas Is My Two Front Teeth. Key sidemen in 40s banjoists Dick Morgan and Freddy Morgan, trumpeter George Rock. "Vocals" by Rock, Doodles Weaver and Red Ingle. Beginning 1947 Jones' beautiful wife Helen Grayco featured vocalist many years. Radio show late 40s, TV shows in 50s. Band a natural for TV with its visual effects. Jones good front man, intelligent, serious when necessary. In 60s played California and Las Vegas. In movies THANK YOUR LUCKY STARS (1943), MEET THE PEOPLE (1944), BRING ON THE GIRLS (1945), BREAKFAST IN HOLLYWOOD (1946), VARIETY GIRL (1947), FIREMAN SAVE MY CHILD (1954).

Baby-voiced singer of late 20s and early 30s famed for "Boop-boop-a-doop" phrase. Adept at inflections and phrasing. Distinctive style widely imitated, as in Betty Boop film cartoons. Early career in vaudeville and night clubs. Virtually unknown when appeared with Paul Ash band at New York's Paramount Theatre; big hit. In successful Broadway shows A NIGHT IN SPAIN (1927), GOOD BOY (1928). In short-run show SHADY LADY (1933). To Hollywood 1929 at height of fame. Featured in NOTHING BUT THE TRUTH (1929), SWEETIE (1929), POINTED HEELS (1930), DANGEROUS NAN MCGREW (1930), HEADS UP (1930); one number in all-star extravaganza PARAMOUNT ON PARADE (1930). Voice on soundtrack of early movie cartoons; made shorts. Career declined when Hollywood cut back on movie musicals 1931-2. In clubs and theatres at intervals during 30s. Husband entertainer Dan Healy; couple in show GOOD BOY. Helen portrayed by Debbie Reynolds in important 1950 movie THREE LITTLE WORDS; Helen's singing dubbed. Helen's career revived briefly.

Freelance singer, recorded heavily 20s and early 30s with many bands on many labels, also under own name. Strong theatrical voice somewhat along lines of Al Jolson and Harry Richman. Had perfect pitch, could sing without special arrangements, hence much in demand for records. Sang with Avon Comedy Four pre-1920 and in early 20s. Worked occasionally with singer-brother Jack Kaufman. Radio shows included Broadway Vanities 1934, Lazy Dan 1935, own series. Less active by late 30s. Radio transcriptions in 1946, probably last recordings.

(DAVID KUMINSKY)

Born January 18, 1913, Brooklyn, N.Y.

Star of stage-movies-radio-TV. Featured screwball comedy, novelty songs and dances. Adept at tongue-twisters, at best entertaining children. Much special material by wife Sylvia Fine. Capable on ballads. Camp counselor and performer in Catskills. Toured abroad in cast of musical. Played La Martinique club in New York. 1939 in newcomers Broadway show STRAW HAT REVUE; ran two months.
 Stardom 1941 with successful Broadway shows LADY IN THE DARK and LET'S FACE
 IT. 1944 starred in first movie UP IN ARMS, followed by comedy-musical movies with novelty material and occasionally good pops. Excellent score by Frank Loesser for movie HANS CHRISTIAN ANDERSEN (1952). Portrayed jazz cornetist in movie
 THE FIVE PENNIES (1959), life story of Red Nichols. At intervals played vaudeville concerts at New York's Palace Theatre, in London and throughout Europe, always a smash. First radio show early 1945, various series in later years. Own TV show mid-60s, then activities slowed. Starred in Broadway musical TWO BY TWO; no great success.

as cl cm B

Born March 13, 1910, Rocky River, Ohio

Leader of dance band with exaggerated sweet style in 30s and 40s, one of most successful bands ever. Featured mellow, syrupy saxes, glissing trombones, lilting rhythmic style. Commercial success throughout long career, even during demise of big bands in 50s and 60s. Attended Ohio University, led band for proms, opened own dance spot Varsity Inn. After graduation 1932, continued with band in Cleveland area, toured. Later played Cincinnati to good radio coverage, became known in midwest. Long run in Pittsburgh helped band. Mid-30s style similar to fast-rising Kay Kyser's. Both employed sweet sound and singing song title gimmick. Themes also similar. Kaye's theme own composition Kaye's Melody. Adopted slogan "Swing and Sway with Sammy Kaye." Excellent front man; band put on good stage show with "So you want to lead a band" feature in which fans volunteered.

Band 1938 hit at New York's Hotel Commodore and Paramount Theatre. Featured vocalists Tommy Ryan and Jimmy Brown; later Nancy Norman, Don Cornell, Tony Alamo. Big hit Daddy 1941, There Will Never Be Another You 1942. Two 1950 hits It Isn't Fair and Harbor Lights. In movies ICELAND (1942) and SONG OF THE OPEN ROAD (1944). Several radio series, notably Sunday Serenade in late 40s and early 50s. Several entertaining TV shows in 50s. During late 50s and 60s band improved, got big ensemble sound with crisp, swinging style, good brass, mellow saxes, smart arrangements. Singing song titles dropped years earlier. Charlie Albertine late 60s arranger, fused some of Les Elgart sound (his creation) with Kaye sound. Band active into 70s, kept recording. Composed Until Tomorrow (1940), Remember Pearl Harbor (1942), Wanderin' (1950), Del Rio and Tell Me You Love Me (1951), The Midnight Ride and The Dance of Mexico (1953).

(JOHN DICKSON KELLEY)Born c. 1900, Houston, Texas

Jazz pianist based in Texas, never heard by general public but a legend in late 30s and 40s among musicians. Strong, individualistic style, harmonically advanced. Led band Peck's Bad Boys locally early 20s. Personnel at times included Jack Teagarden, Leon Rappolo, Pee Wee Russell. Through the years led big bands and combos. Travelling musicians visited Kelley, spread reports of talent. Heard and praised by critic John Hammond. Music magazines of late 30s featured flattering articles. Kelley steadfastly turned down offers to record or travel. Played mostly in Houston, occasionally in other Texas cities. About 1925 to St. Louis to join Frankie Trumbauer at Arcadia Ballroom, but union forbade. About 1934 to New Orleans with Joe Gill band (which included Harry James). Military service awhile, World War II. Mostly Houston in 40s and 50s leading combos or working solo. Later in 60s inactive.

1000. KELLY, GENE vo*Born August 23, 1912, Pittsburgh, Pa.*

1003. KEMP, HAL as ts cl cm B
(JAMES HAROLD KEMP)

Born March 27, 1905, Marion, Ala.
Died December 21, 1940, near Madera,
Calif., from injuries in auto accident

Leader of popular 30s dance band featuring subdued, sophisticated sweet style. As teenager played local theatre, moved to Charlotte. Attended University of North Carolina, led dance band. In summer 1924 band played ocean liner and residency in England thanks to band-leader-booker Paul Specht. Kemp continued leading band at college late 1924-6. Key members pianist John Scott Trotter, saxmen Saxie Dowell and Ben Williams; Skinnay Ennis on drums and vocals. All remained when band began professionally early 1927. Early engagement in New York, toured south, long run in Miami. Recorded 1929-30 as Carolina Club Orchestra. Played Europe 1930; jazz trumpeter Bunny Berigan on trip. Band played good semi-hot style, changed to sweet early 30s but could still swing. After touring, first prominence via good radio coverage 1933-4 at Chicago's Black Hawk, followed by engagement at New York's Hotel Pennsylvania.

Under John Scott Trotter's arranging, band developed distinctive style featuring muted clip-noted trumpets (often playing triplets), flowing sax section playing intricate passages, lower register clarinets (sometimes blown through megaphones for special effect). Kemp composed beautiful theme When Summer Is Gone. Trotter left late 1935; Hal Mooney later important arranger. Personable Skinnay Ennis popular with breathless vocal style. Strong-voiced Bob Allen sang most ballads. Biggest Kemp hits Got a Date with an Angel and Lamplight featuring Ennis. Female vocalists Maxine Gray and Deane Janis, followed by Nan Wynn and Janet Blair (later in movies). Smoothies vocal trio joined late 30s. Ennis left 1938 to lead own band. Kemp band on radio with Phil Baker late 1935 to end of 1936; early 1937 show with Kay Thompson. Later 1937 on show Music from Hollywood starring Alice Faye. Own show Time to Shine 1938-9. In 1938 movie RADIO CITY REVELS. Rough year 1940 with personnel changes, some loss of popularity. But good bookings in California for early 1941 made future look brighter. Kemp driving to open at San Francisco's Mark Hopkins Hotel, had fatal accident. Band continued engagement with several men fronting, disbanded after date. Early 1941 reassembled under singer Art Jarrett. Some success 1941-2, then faded.

1010. KENTON, STAN p ar cm B

Born February 19, 1912, Wichita, Kansas

Pioneer in progressive big band jazz, leader of many outstanding bands beginning 1941. Developed numerous jazz-men and arrangers who went on to important careers. Capable pianist with simple, virile style rich in harmonic structure. Talented arranger-composer, excellent leader and organizer. Grew up in Los Angeles, played in local bands early 30s. With Everett Hoagland 1934, Gus Arnheim 1936-8, Vido Musso 1939. Some work for Scat Davis, also radio and movie studios. Mid-1941 formed big band, created interest in debut at Balboa Beach with different sound, powerful and exciting. Later in year played New York's Roseland but not a hit. Built popularity on west coast, played Bob Hope radio show 1943. Early hits Kenton's own Artistry in Rhythm (theme) and Eager Beaver. Early scores featured staccato reed section, driving brass. 1944-6 band attempted commercial style with many vocals and novelties. Hits: And Her Tears Flowed Like Wine and Tampico. Early vocalists Anita O'Day, Gene Howard, June Christy. Late 1945 band a hit at New York's Hotel Pennsylvania. Middle and later 40s a favorite with musicians and fans, especially college students. Pete Rugolo joined late 1945, relieved Kenton of much arranging, became important asset. Kenton disbanded April 1947 due to illness.

Reorganized, led bands of varying sizes and personnel for next quarter-century, always coming up with new jazz talent. Helped bring to public attention talented vocal group The Four Freshmen. Inactive 1949 due to ill health. Toured 1950 with large orchestra using many strings; show titled Innovations in Modern Music. Early 50s featured vocalist Chris Connor, later 50s Ann Richards. Popular 1952 summer radio show emanating from various cities across country. Summer TV show Music '55. Long 1956 European tour. Many concerts and campus clinics through the years. Steady recording. Quit Capitol 1970 after 27 years, formed own company Creative World Records. Active in sessions and concerts with large group called Los Angeles Neophonic Orchestra. Many tours abroad, latest 1972.

Leading Kenton jazzmen through the years included Vido Musso (ts), Boots

Mussulli (as), Kai Winding (tb), Eddie Safranski (b), Milt Bernhart (tb), Eddie Bert (tb), Bob Cooper (ts), Lennie Niehaus (as), Art Pepper (as), Maynard Ferguson (t), Shorty Rogers (t), Bud Shank (as), Shelly Manne (d), Conte Candoli (t), Bill Holman (ts), Lee Konitz (as). Leading arrangers Rugolo, Rogers, Holman, Bill Russo, Johnny Richards. 1013. KERN, JEROME cm p o

Born January 27, 1885, New York, N.Y.
 Died November 11, 1945, New York, N.Y.

All-time great composer, important influence in modernizing musical theatre. Wrote largely for stage and movies. Prolific output, many standards. Ability to adapt music to unlikely books; prime example great score for SHOW BOAT. Most famous songs They Didn't Believe Me, Look for the Silver Lining, Sunny, Who?, Ol' Man River, Make Believe, Can't Help Lovin' Dat Man, Bill, Why Was I Born?, Don't Ever Leave Me, The Night Was Made for Love, She Didn't Say "Yes", The Song Is You, I've Told Ev'ry Little Star, Smoke Gets in Your Eyes, Yesterdays, Lovely to Look At, I Won't Dance, The Way You Look Tonight, A Fine Romance, The Folks Who Live on the Hill, All the Things You Are, The Last Time I Saw Paris, Dearly Beloved, I'm Old Fashioned, Long Ago and Far Away, In Love in Vain. Collaborators included lyricists Guy Bolton, P. G. Wodehouse, Anne Caldwell, Clifford Grey, E. Y. Harburg, Oscar Hammerstein II, Dorothy Fields, Ira Gershwin, Johnny Mercer.

Learned piano and organ, taught by mother. Educated at New York College of Music; to Europe 1903 for further study. Early experience writing music for London stage. Collaborator P. G. Wodehouse joined him years later in U.S.

successes. Returned to U.S. 1904. Worked as rehearsal pianist, also for publishing house as salesman-pianist-writer. Further composing; attracted attention revising English score for 1904 Broadway show MR. WIX OF WICKHAM. Early popular song How'd You Like to Spoon with Me? in 1905 show THE EARL AND THE GIRL. Independent songs for Broadway shows, first complete scores for LA BELLE PAREE (1911) and THE RED PETTICOAT (1912). First big hit They Didn't Believe Me in THE GIRL FROM UTAH (1914) established him as important composer. In 1917 Kern music in seven Broadway shows plus one 1916 holdover! But many early songs attained little popularity. Biggest Broadway successes VERY GOOD, EDDIE (1916); OH, BOY! (1917); SALLY and GOOD MORNING, DEARIE (1921); STEPPING STONES (1923); SUNNY (1925); SHOW BOAT (1928); SWEET ADELIN (1929); THE CAT AND THE FIDDLE (1931); MUSIC IN THE AIR (1932); ROBERTA (1933). Several later converted into popular movies. Outstanding score for 1936 movie SWING TIME starring Fred Astaire and Ginger Rogers. Last Broadway show VERY WARM FOR MAY (1939); disappointing 59 performances but excellent score.

Thereafter wrote only for movies. In 1945 scored CENTENNIAL SUMMER (1946). To New York fall 1945 for Broadway revival of SHOW BOAT and to discuss a new show. Collapsed after auditioning session, died several days later. New show with producers Rodgers & Hammerstein was to have been ANNIE GET YOUR GUN—great success for composer Irving Berlin 1946. Despite incredibly prolific career, Kern active till death and still writing well. Standout movie musical late 1946-7 TILL THE CLOUDS ROLL BY based on Kern's life. Robert Walker portrayed Kern impressively, with many great Kern songs performed by all-star cast. Musicologist David Ewen wrote biography The World of Jerome Kern.

1026. KIRBY, JOHN

b tu B

Born December 31, 1908, Baltimore, Md.

Died June 14, 1952, Hollywood, Calif.

Best known as leader of tightly knit jazz sextet in late 30s and early 40s billed as The Biggest Little Band in the Land. Featured talented jazzmen, clever arrangements, light swing. Kirby bass style clean, buoyant. Grew up in orphanage, learned trombone. To New York mid-20s, worked odd jobs including period as Pullman porter. Took up tuba late 20s, soon began working jobs, later changed to string bass. With Fletcher Henderson 1930-3, Chick Webb late 1933-5, Henderson again 1935-6. Joined Mills Blue Rhythm Band briefly late 1936. In 1937 became combo leader, scored at Onyx Club on 52nd Street. Peak popularity 1939-42. Kirby's wife Maxine Sullivan gained fame as featured vocalist with group. Some instrumentals lightly swung classics, most featured standards. Outstanding personnel Charlie Shavers (t), Buster Bailey (cl), Russell Procope (as), Billy Kyle (p), O'Neill Spencer (d), Kirby (b). Shavers arranged. 1940 radio series Flow Gently Sweet Rhythm; on Duffy's Tavern show 1941-2. After 1942 combo's popularity faded and personnel changed. Kirby continued combo several years. Tried to revive original group in postwar years with indifferent results. In 1950-1 Kirby with Red Allen and Buck Clayton, also led combo. Settled on West coast late 1951-2. Jobs with Benny Carter, mostly inactive.

Born May 28, 1898, Newport, Ky.

Leader of good swing band called Andy Kirk & His Clouds of Joy. Moderate success in 30s and early 40s. Band played easy swing, featured ballads. Interesting Kansas City-style arrangements stressed brass riffs, mellow, flowing sax section.
Themes Until the Real Thing Comes Along
and Cloudy. Kirk grew up in Denver, learned several instruments, concentrated on tuba and bass sax. Worked locally early and mid-20s; long period with George Morrison band. In Dallas with Terrence Holder 1926-8, became leader when Holder left early 1929. To Kansas City, rivalled Bennie Moten as city's best band. Saxman John Williams and wife-pianist Mary Lou (later Kirk's wife) great assets. Long run at Pla-Mor Ballroom.
Important jobs in New York 1930, including Roseland and Savoy Ballrooms.
House band awhile 1931 at Philadelphia's Pearl Theatre, but Kansas City main base until 1936, then toured. 1936 hit Until the Real Thing Comes Along built band's popularity. Mary Lou Williams key member as piano soloist, arranger, composer of many jazz numbers featured by band.
Other important sidemen Dick Wilson

(ts; featured), Paul King (t), John Harrington (cl), Ted Donnelly (tb). Floyd Smith joined early 1939, a pioneer on amplified guitar. Great vocalist Henry Wells (tb) helped set band's ballad style mid-30s; followed by smooth baritone Pha Terrell. June Richmond featured late 30s-early 40s. Howard McGhee featured on trumpet early 40s. Kirk continued band amid personnel changes until 1948.
During 40s band faded. In later years Kirk booked bands or combos occasionally for special jobs, worked in New York real estate and as hotel manager. Composed Sittin' Around and Dreamin', pop recorded by band 1938.

Leader of hotel band 1934-6; attracted legion of fans during brief career. Brother of movie actress Evelyn Knapp. Early in career with Coon-Sanders and Paul Specht bands among others. Formed band mid-1934 along Freddy Martin lines, but addition of steel guitar and organ gave deep ensemble sound. Later added French horn and soprano sax. Arrangements, many by pianist Chick Floyd, stressed dynamics. Vocalists Edith Caldwell and Leighton Noble. Theme Three Shades of Blue. Played west coast hotels and clubs; key spot Beverly-Wilshire Hotel in Los Angeles. On radio remotes, billed as The Music of Tomorrow. Fall 1935 played in Chicago, Denver, Dallas, New York (a hit at Waldorf-Astoria). Band rising fast 1936 when fatal plane crash occurred. George Olsen later took over nucleus of band. Singer Leighton Noble formed band in Knapp style.

cm ar p B

Born May 29, 1897, Brunn, Czechoslovakia

Died November 29, 1957, North Hollywood, Calif.

Composer-arranger of movie background music mid-30s into 50s. Child prodigy as pianist in Europe, also composed at early age. As teenager wrote short operas THE RING OF POLYCRATES and VIOLANTA performed throughout Europe. Compositions had strong Viennese flavor; influenced by Richard Strauss, Gustav Mahler, Puccini. Pianist in concert hall recitals. Re-scored operetta classics of early composing greats, helped stage them. Conductor several years at Hamburg opera house; his opera DIE TOTE STADT (THE DEAD CITY) first presented there 1920, still played in European opera houses. Around 1927 wrote opera THE MIRACLE OF HELIANE, his favorite. Great prominence in Europe by early 30s. To U.S. 1934, citizen 1943. Began Hollywood career scoring A MIDSUMMER NIGHT'S DREAM (1935). Work selective, only on important movies of own choosing. Given free rein, devoted more time and care than most movie composers. Most notable score for THE ADVENTURES OF ROBIN HOOD (1938). Especially effective on historical and period films. Turned to classical composing when movie writing became passé. Works included Violin Concerto in D, Piano Trio, Piano Concerto for the Left Hand, Piano Sonata in E. Arranged and conducted for New York stage production HELEN GOES TO TROY (1944). Opera DIE KATHRIN a failure in Vienna 1950. Last work on Richard Wagner movie biography THE MAGIC FIRE; pianist on soundtrack, excellent scoring of Wagner music. Movie unsuccessful.

1045. KRUPA, GENE

d cm B

Born January 15, 1909, Chicago, Ill.

Died October 16, 1973, Yonkers, N.Y., of cardiac complications brought on by leukemia Leading drummer of swing era. Won fame with Benny Goodman, sparking great rhythm section with beat and showmanship. Good technique and jazz feel, handled big bands and combos well. Leader of good bands late 30s and 40s. With minor groups mid-20s. Met Chicago's top jazzmen. Later 20s with Thelma Terry, Mezz Mezzrow, Benson Orchestra, Seattle Harmony Kings. To New York 1929; freelanced, many jobs with Red Nichols 1929-30. With Irving Aaronson 1931, Russ Columbo 1932, Mal Hallett 1933, Buddy Rogers 1934. Joined Benny Goodman late 1934, played Let's Dance radio show. As band grew in fame and popularity, Krupa became leading sideman, country's best-known drummer. Featured also in Goodman Trio and Quartet. With band in movies BIG BROADCAST OF 1937 (1936) and HOLLYWOOD HOTEL (1938). Starred in Goodman's January 16, 1938 Carnegie Hall concert, quit band six weeks later to launch big band.

Move drew considerable publicity. Formed able band with smart arrangements. Featured drumming on showcase numbers. Leading early sidemen saxists Vido Musso, Sam Musiker (cl), Sam Donahue, trumpeters Corky Cornelius, Shorty Sherock. Jimmy Mundy, Fred Norman, Chappie Willett arrangers. Excellent vocalists Irene Daye and Howard DuLany, later Johnny Desmond and Anita O'Day. Roy Eldridge starred on trumpet and novelty vocals early 40s. Eldridge and O'Day teamed on some, including band's hit Let Me Off Uptown. Theme Apurksody, later Star Burst, later That Drummer's Band.

Krupa forced out of music awhile 1943 on marijuana possession charge that was later dropped. Comeback with Benny Goodman fall 1943; tumultuous welcome with Tommy Dorsey at New York's Paramount Theatre. With Dorsey till mid-1944. Formed another band, added strings, never recorded with this band due to Petrillo recording ban. Dropped strings for swinging big band with new star Charlie Ventura on tenor sax and featured with trio within band; Ventura later quit to form combo. Krupa led outstanding band later 40s: progressive, with great ensemble sound and swinging arrangements by George Williams and Gerry Mulligan. Saxmen Charlie Kennedy, Lennie Hambro and Buddy Wise star soloists, along with trumpeter Don Fagerquist.

In 50s Krupa mostly led combos, usually featuring Ventura or versatile saxman Eddie Shu. Pianist Teddy Napoleon stalwart in 40s and 50s combos. Krupa toured with Jazz at the Philharmonic shows as single, often featured in drum duels with Buddy Rich. In 1954 opened drum school in New York with Cozy Cole. With combo on TV occasionally in 50s. Movie THE GENE KRUPA STORY 1959; Sal Mineo in title role synchronized movements to Krupa drumming on soundtrack. Spotty health slowed Krupa in 60s and 70s, but still played. Sometimes rejoined Goodman, Teddy Wilson and Lionel Hampton for revivals of original Goodman Quartet. Krupa and band in movies SOME LIKE IT HOT (1939), BALL OF FIRE (1941), GEORGE WHITE'S SCANDALS (1945), MEET THE BAND (1947), MAKE BELIEVE BALLROOM (1949). Krupa alone in SYNCOPIATION (1942; in jam session sequence), THE GLENN MILLER STORY (1954), THE BENNY GOODMAN STORY (1956; also in band for soundtrack). Co-composer of Take Your Love and Sweetheart, Honey, Darlin', Dear, both recorded by own band 1939.

p B

Born July 14, 1914, Philadelphia, Pa.
 Died February 23, 1966, Youngstown, Ohio

Jazz pianist with rhythmic, bouncing style; very tasteful. Began locally early 30s; 1932-4 also in New York and Syracuse. Accompanied singer Bon Bon on radio in Philadelphia. Briefly with Tiny Bradshaw band. Led band awhile 1936. Late 1936-7 with Mills Blue Rhythm Band. With John Kirby sextet 1938-42, became known as group grew popular. Style perfectly fit jaunty, tight arrangements of group. Military service, World War II. Middle and late 40s intervals with Kirby and with Sy Oliver; led band. Early 50s freelanced; pit bands and studios. Joined Louis Armstrong All-Stars fall 1953, remained rest of career. Toured U.S. and abroad, recorded, appeared on TV and in movies. On Youngstown job had ulcer attack, died in hospital days later.

1047. KYSER, KAY

Born June 18, 1906, Rocky Mount, N.C.

Energetic, personable leader of popular 30s and 40s dance band. Great commercial success. Formed band University of North Carolina, played no instrument. Band in late 20s and early 30s semi-hot. 1934 summer job at Miramar Hotel in Santa Monica. Late 1934-5 at Chicago's Black Hawk; good radio coverage early 1935 established band. Unusual gimmick: singing song titles at start of each number. Band then vamped several bars before each vocal as Kyser announced singer's name and gave brief introduction to song. Band sweet. Leading arranger many years George Duning. Lush, sentimental theme Walter Donaldson's Thinking of You featured glissing trombone. Capable singers Ginny Simms, Harry Babbitt, Bill Stoker, Sully Mason, comic Ish Kabibble (with weird haircut). Steady recording.

First radio show fall 1936 Elgin's Football Review. On Surprise Party show 1937. Early 1938 debut of Kay Kyser's Kampus Klass for Lucky Strike; network changed late March and show became Kollege of Musical Knowledge. Popular; quiz-music format. Ran through 40s, later called Musical Quiz; important in popularizing band. Band and vocalists featured in movies (with acting roles): THAT'S RIGHT—YOU'RE WRONG (1939), YOU'LL FIND OUT (1940), PLAYMATES and MY FAVORITE SPY (1942), SWING FEVER, THOUSANDS CHEER and STAGE DOOR CANTEN (1943; briefly in latter two), AROUND THE WORLD and CAROLINA BLUES (1944). Early 40s band improved musically; achieved beautiful blend, sometimes swung. Duning still arranged, aided by Van Alexander. Jazzmen Herbie Haymer on tenor sax and Moe Purtill on drums 1942-3. Personnel rather stable. Big hits Praise the Lord and Pass the Ammunition, Three Little Fishies, Who Wouldn't Love You?, Strip Polka, There Goes That Song Again. Future TV host Mike Douglas sang with band later 40s. Band and quiz show on TV 1949-50. By early 50s Kyser tired of entertainment grind, retired to North Carolina with wife, former model-singer Georgia Carroll, became active in Christian Science.

BIOGRAPHIES

ROGER D. KINKLE brings impressive credentials to this magnum opus. A close student of the music scene since the late Twenties, Mr. Kinkle was a prominent musician in his native Evansville, Indiana, from the mid-Thirties to the mid-Sixties. As bandleader or sideman (lead alto saxophone and jazz clarinet), Roger Kinkle has played with his high school symphony orchestra, with marching bands (in college and in the Army in World War II), with stage orchestras and, most extensively, with dance and jazz bands.

Over the years, first as a hobby and later for private publication, Mr. Kinkle has been amassing some of the materials for this work. In 1948 he became a mail-order record dealer, soon emerged as one of the leaders in this field, and remains one to this date.

A lifelong resident of Evansville, Mr. Kinkle attended Phillips University in Oklahoma on a music scholarship and completed his education at Lockyear's Business College in Evansville. Along with music, his hobbies are sports and movies. This is his first book.

VOLUME 2

BIOGRAPHIES

A THROUGH K

Volumes 2 and 3 include career summaries of more than 2,100 major and semi-major musical figures to emerge between 1900 and 1950: singers, bandleaders, actors and actresses, musicians, composers and lyricists, musical groups, arrangers, impresarios.

These capsule biographies include (except where information was sparse) all the key facts: dates, background, career triumphs, significant engagements, and complete or nearly complete lists of films, Broadway musicals and broadcast activities.

An important contribution unique to this work is the selective discography/solography appended to the biography of every performer who recorded. These are representative recordings, not complete discographies. They trace the recorded career of each artist from debut to early 1974, offering a generous selection of the performer's most popular, most typical, most outstanding records from every period: in every case, an in-depth survey of an entire career. For individual musicians, the discography/solography focuses not on the records a musician merely appeared on, but rather the records that feature his most notable, most typical, most enduring work.

Another unique feature of these volumes: the work of composers and lyricists is set forth by year, as well as by Broadway musical and film musical. Songwriters are the little-known heroes and heroines of a great national music. With this work, they finally receive their due.

Roger D. Kinkle

Introduction by George T. Simon

This four-volume set is the definitive data bank on American popular music and jazz. No other work compares to it for depth and range of information on popular music and jazz in film, on records, in radio and TV, on Broadway and in vaudeville. And no other work integrates the two principal streams in American music, popular and jazz—and documents their relationship.

The coverage is exhaustive:

MOVIE MUSICALS. Every known film musical (some 1,200 in all) from The Jazz Singer through 1950: casts, songs, composers, year of release.

PERFORMERS. Biographies of every major and semi-major figure to emerge in the first half of this century: singers, composers, bandleaders, actors, musicians, impresarios, arrangers—2,105 in all. Includes career summaries, key dates, complete lists of film and Broadway musicals for each artist, lengthy lists of representative recordings spanning the career of each artist, all major and semi-major songs of each composer by year—in short, every key fact about every artist. (The 1900-1950 in the title refers to every performer to emerge during this period. When a career extends beyond 1950, that career is followed as long as the performer remains active—up through early 1974. Thus, the work actually covers popular music and jazz through the 20th century, but excludes rock.)

SONGS. Most popular songs year by year, with composers — some 100-200 songs per year. In addition, virtually every remembered song of the period is listed with its composer and/or with the artists identified with the song — some 28,000 songs in all.

REPRESENTATIVE RECORDINGS. Outstanding and typical popular recordings from the dawn of 78s in 1909 through 1950 — average about 150 per year. Outstanding and typical jazz recordings from the debut of jazz on records in 1917 through 1950 — average about 75 per year. But besides these annual listings, the set features a broad, in-depth, selective discography/solography for every performer whose biography appears here.

BROADWAY MUSICALS. Every known musical, 1900-1950: casts, playwrights, songs, composers, dates. Some 1,500 in all.

BROADCASTING. Extensive treatment of each artist's role in radio and TV. Most complete coverage extant on music in broadcasting.

4 MAJOR INDEXES. These priceless tools speed the reader to the information he needs in seconds:

- Index of Songs. A massive 28,161. Most complete list extant.
- Index of Performers. 11,505 names. Most complete list extant.
- Index of Movie Musicals. 1,230 films. Most complete list extant.
- Index of Broadway Musicals. 1,522 in all. Most complete list extant.

5 USEFUL APPENDICES.

- > Numerical listing of the nine major record labels, from the mid-20s through the early 40s, by artist and song. Lists 33,000 records. First time available in book form.
- > Academy Award winners and nominees for music, 1934-1973.
- > Down Beat and Metronome poll winners, 1937-1973.
- > Time chart showing release dates, year by year, of 19 major record labels, 1924-1945.
- > Record Collecting for Beginners: helpful essay on how to find rare 78s and LPs.

For professionals and for buffs — in music, film, records, broadcasting, the musical stage and vaudeville — this set finally documents, in sweeping detail, the richest popular music the world has ever known, in its golden era.

1051. LAINE, FRANKIE vo cm lyr

(FRANK PAUL LOVECCHIO)
Born March 30, 1913, Chicago, Ill.

Singer with dynamic, original, jazz-influenced style; strong phrasing, excellent showmanship. Fame in 1947 with record hit That's My Desire after years of struggle. During Depression worked at odd jobs; some success in dance marathons. Later 30s minor singing jobs in and around Chicago. With Freddy Carlone band awhile in Cleveland 1937 after Perry Como left. Tried career in New York without success. Defense work in Chicago, World War II. To Hollywood around 1944, worked at singing and songwriting. Early 1945 attracted attention on Al Jarvis radio show backed by good jazz quartet (including pianist Wini Beatty); club jobs with this combo. Later worked clubs with Milt DeLugg combo. Big break early 1946 at Billy Berg's club; developed style, became popular, recorded. All-time record hit in 1947 brought fame, more recordings, top bookings, song shows on radio. Until death in 1954 pianist Carl Fischer musical director for Laine. Two collaborated on several compositions, notably We'll Be Together Again. After Fischer's death pianist Al Lerner musical director. Late 40s and 50s hit records The Cry of the Wild Goose, Mule Train, Jezebel, I Believe. In low-budget movie musicals MAKE BELIEVE BALLROOM (1946), WHEN YOU'RE SMILING (1950), RAINBOW 'ROUND MY SHOULDER (1952). Active on TV throughout 50s on top variety shows, own series. Voice heard on theme of Rawhide show late 50s and 60s. Laine an influence and pioneer in shouting pop vocal style, though moderate compared to later singers. Appreciated good musicianship; on early records used combos with good jazzmen. Later 60s and 70s continued playing clubs but seldom on TV and records. Other compositions include Put Yourself in My Place, Baby; It Only Happens Once; When You're in Love; A Man Ain't Supposed to Cry; What Could Be Sweeter; It Ain't Gonna Be Like That; My Love, My Love; Deuces Wild; Love of Loves; Only If We Love; Satan Wears a Satin Gown.

1064. LANGFORD, FRANCES vo (FRANCES NEWBERN)

Born c. 1913-14, Tampa, Fla.

Excellent singer with warm, throaty voice and smooth phrasing, popular in 30s and 40s in radio-movies-records. Grew up in Lakeland, Fla. Attended Southern College, had musical training. Had operatic voice but tonsillectomy turned her to pop music as contralto. In 1931 sang on Tampa radio, heard by Rudy Vallee, won guest spot on his radio show. Vallee helped start her on New York career. On radio late 1931; small role in unsuccessful Broadway musical HERE GOES THE BRIDE. More radio and club appearances. In 1934 regularly on radio shows Colgate House Party, Richard Himber, Plough's Musical Courier. Big break with important role in 1935 Alice Faye movie EVERY NIGHT AT EIGHT; singing clicked. Starred in low-budget movie musicals especially during 40s. Switched from brunette to blonde for sexier, more vivacious image during 40s. Star on popular radio show Hollywood Hotel 1935-8 (with Dick Powell in earliest period). On Texaco show 1939-40, American Cruise with Dick Powell 1941. Starting 1941 Bob Hope radio show enhanced career several years. In 1945-7 on Chase & Sanborn show with Spike Jones. Late 40s starred with Don Ameche on radio comedy show The Bickersons. Entertained troops during World War II on numerous overseas tours mostly with guitarist Tony Romano, some with trombonist Murray McEachern. Also toured camps with Bob Hope in World War II and Korean War. Own TV show 1951 with Don Ameche, conductor Tony Romano. Seldom on later TV; two specials 1959 and 1960. After early 50s mostly inactive. Recorded regularly early 30s to late 40s. Biggest hit I'm in the Mood for Love sung in movies EVERY NIGHT AT EIGHT and PALM SPRINGS.

Outstanding dancer in light tap and "eccentric" style; great technique. Sang occasionally in light stage style. Starred in all too few stage and movie musicals. Took up dancing late 20s, worked riverboats and minstrel shows in Memphis area. To New York for professional schooling. Played New York spots, soon became top club entertainer, appeared at Palace Theatre. In short-lived Broadway show THE GANG'S ALL HERE (1931), later in successful show ZIEGFELD FOLLIES OF 1931. To Hollywood for movie shorts. In Broadway show STRIKE ME PINK (1933). Standout dancing in early 1934 movie WONDER BAR. This plus college-boy appearance led to starring role in movie HAROLD TEEN later in year, but youthful looks hindered film career. Returned to Broadway for THUMBS UP (1935); club and theatre dates. Late 30s made many film shorts; in movie START CHEERING (1938). In Broadway show TOO MANY GIRLS (1939), in film version 1940. In Broadway show COUNT ME IN (1942); two-month run. In 40s and 50s played clubs, theatres, stock. On TV occasionally in 50s and 60s, still exciting dancer.

1099. LESBERG, JACK b v Born February 14, 1920, Boston, Mass.

Excellent bassist in jazz and dance bands and symphonies. Studied violin, played locally late 30s. Switched to bass, worked with Muggsy Spanier 1940. Member of Mickey Alpert band 1942 at Boston's Cocoanut Grove, escaped when club destroyed late 1942 in fire which took hundreds of lives. 1945-8 frequently with New York Philharmonic. With Eddie Condon often 1945-50. In 50s and 60s freelanced in jazz and classical. In Bobby Byrne band 1954 on Steve Allen TV show. Toured Europe 1956 with Louis Armstrong All-Stars, 1957 with Jack Teagarden-Earl Hines combo. Several overseas tours in 60s. With Joe Venuti quartet 1969-70. Early 70s settled in Australia.

(JOSEPH LEVITCH)

Born March 16, 1926, Newark, N.J.

Top comedian of movies and TV, first as partner of Dean Martin, then as single. After breaking up with Martin mid-50s, successful career as actor-director-producer in movies. Primarily screwball comic, developed into competent song-and-dance man. Could sing novelties and rousers vaudeville style, or dramatic ballads. Displayed keen sense of music directing skits to a swinging recording, cue-ing in and mugging every intricate line. At 15 played Buffalo burlesque. Toured five years in pantomime act. Met Martin 1946; team played 500 Club in Atlantic City, built comedy-song act to top attraction. First TV spot 1948 on Ed Sullivan show. On radio late 40s. First movie MY FRIEND IRMA (1949) supporting Marie Wilson, scored. In sequel MY FRIEND IRMA GOES WEST (1950), then started in popular series. Martin straight man, romantic lead, sang. Antics of Lewis sparked stories; sometimes sang novelties in juvenile style. Team had radio show early 50s.

After last movie HOLLYWOOD OR BUST (1956) team broke up; relations strained. Each successful as single. Martin surprised many with dramatic ability; equal flair for light comedy. Lewis made money making movies featuring comic antics. Often played sympathetic roles requiring dramatic ability, occasionally performed musical numbers. Active on TV beginning mid-60s in own series and specials and on talk shows. National chairman in campaign against muscular dystrophy; worked tirelessly on fund-raising telethons. Top comedian, but critics rapped lack of discipline; improved in later years. Intelligent, humane, well-liked. Active in 70s.

(THEODORE LEOPOLD FRIEDMAN)

Born June 6, 1892, Circleville, Ohio

Died August 25, 1971, New York, N.Y.

Master showman of entertainment world for 60-year career. Worked mostly as bandleader, featured on clarinet and vocals. Clarinet playing mediocre, cornball. Sang in lazy, half-talking style that earned title The High-Hat Tragedian of Song. Famed trademarks: battered top hat, languid but expressive hand motions, catchphrase "Is everybody happy?" Early musical experience locally. Toured in vaudeville 1911-17. In act of Rose, Young & Friedman awhile. Later formed team briefly with comedian Eddie Lewis, billed as Lewis & Lewis, from which came professional name Ted Lewis. Left vaudeville, led combo in New York cafes. Engagement at Rector's helped to fame. Toured and recorded with band in 20s, built popularity. Had own night club in New York middle and late 20s, appeared there often. Played Europe late 20s. Famous for theme song When My Baby Smiles at Me and other numbers Good Night, I'm the Medicine Man for the Blues,

Wear a Hat with a Silver Lining, Me and My Shadow. On latter performed with "shadow" Eddie Chester, who imitated Lewis gestures simultaneously in shadowy background. Lewis enhanced career starring in Broadway revues GREENWICH VILLAGE FOLLIES OF 1919 (and 1921), ZIEGFELD'S MIDNIGHT FROLICS (1919), TED LEWIS FROLIC (1923), ARTISTS AND MODELS and RUFUS LEMAIRE'S AFFAIRS (1927). Starred in sound movie IS EVERYBODY HAPPY? (1929), appeared in film SHOW OF SHOWS (1929). Other movies HERE COMES THE BAND (1935), MANHATTAN MERRYGO-ROUND (1937), HOLD THAT GHOST (1941), IS EVERYBODY HAPPY? (1943; life story) and FOLLOW THE BOYS (1944).

As bandleader sometimes led combos. Those in middle and late 20s good musically (aside from Lewis on clarinet). Sidemen included jazzmen Georg Brunis (tb) and Muggsy Spanier (t) plus clarinetists Don Murray and Jimmy Dorsey. Recordings 1930-2 often featured good jazz, outstanding personnel including Benny Goodman and Fats Waller. Beginning about 1933 led larger, sweet-styled band. Various-sized groups later 30s. Good bands early 40s, again including Brunis and briefly Spanier, also clarinetist Tony Parenti. Lewis toured early 50s with own show. Intervals of obscurity, sometimes inactive, sometimes a single, especially later in 50s and 60s. Last major engagement at New York's Latin Quarter 1965. Several TV appearances in last years, still showmanly, sharp and witty. Composer or lyricist of several songs including When My Baby Smiles at Me, Bees Knees, Is Everybody Happy Now?, While We Danced 'Til Dawn, Sing a Little Love Song for Your Baby.

1137. LOMBARDO, GUY

v B

Born June 19, 1902, London, Ontario, Canada

Genial leader of probably most commercially successful dance band of all time. Band played top spots over 40 years. Sweet, lilting style, danceable tempos. Guy's brothers charter members: Carmen lead sax and vocals, Lebert lead trumpet, Victor baritone sax. Key man Carmen: vibrato-rich lead sax gave sax section distinctive sound, became band's trademark. Other ingredients of band's style: sweet, often muted brass, tinkling piano (twin pianos in later years), frequent use of cornball ending with cymbals—another trademark. Band called Guy Lombardo & His Royal Canadians. Theme Auld Lang Syne. Slogan: "The Sweetest Music This Side of Heaven." Brothers formed band as youngsters in Canada, installed Guy leader. By 1925 band experienced and popular. Played vaudeville in Cleveland, appeared at Lake Road Inn and other spots in area. To Chicago and New York, clicked, began recording 1927. 1929 at New York's Roosevelt Grill, returned regularly into 60s for long runs. Carmen wrote many arrangements, handled solo vocals, led vocal trio in soft, wavery, easily identifiable voice widely satirized. Kenny Gardner took over vocals in 40s. Lombardos' sister Rose Marie sang with band awhile.

Big 1937 band hit Boo-Hoo became permanent feature. Had radio show in early 30s on which Guy predicted future hit

Born September 26, 1926, Santa Rosa, Calif.

Vocalist with low husky voice and sultry style whose singing success mid-50s revived movie career. As youngster sang on west coast, worked briefly with Matty Malneck. Beauty won movie contract. In low-budget films, mostly secondary roles. Singing career launched by hit record Cry Me a River in 1955. LPs followed. Screen career boosted; starring roles in better pictures. On TV shows and commercials late 50s. Pianist-composer Bobby Troup, husband, coach and advisor, sometimes performed with Julie. Later 60s career waned, revived by late 60s. Appeared with Troup on TV series Emergency beginning early 1972. Composer or lyricist of Voice in the Mirror and The Freshman.

v B

Born c. 1916, Newell, N.C.

Died October 31, 1972

Leader of popular dance band of 30s and 40s. Left-handed violinist, not featured. Band famous for up-tempo arrangements of standards with bandsmen singing parody lyrics in unison; best-known In a Shanty in Old Shanty Town. Attended Duke, followed Les Brown leading dance band there. Began professional career around 1937, built up modest following in south, midwest and east. Congenial manner and boyish charm popular at proms. Bob Houston and Helen Young vocalists. Theme The White Star of Sigma Nu. Band danceable; by 1943 excellent commercial band with good arrangements. In 1943 movie HIT THE ICE, some shorts. Musical peak 1946-7 but no heights of popularity. Continued during 50s, less active in later years.

1148. LUNCEFORD, JIMMIE

reeds tb g v p ar cm B

Born June 6, 1902, Fulton, Mo.

Died July 13, 1947, Seaside, Ore., of heart attack

Leader of outstanding, influential hot band of 30s and 40s. Featured two-beat rhythm; flowing, wide-voiced sax section; biting brass, often upper register. Relaxed, lightly swinging yet powerful style. Grew up in Denver, learned many instruments. Played alto sax in local theatre 1922. Attended Fisk University. Studied in New York, played there with Wilbur Sweatman, Elmer Snowden, others. Beginning 1926 taught music in Memphis high school. Formed band for summer, entered field full-time 1929. Early engagements in Memphis, important jobs at Lakeside, Ohio, and Buffalo. Toured, played New York fall 1933. Important run at Cotton Club early 1934. Attracted early attention with hot numbers White Heat and Jazznocracy (theme), both arranged by Will Hudson. Other theme Rhythm Is Our Business. Arranger-trumpeter Sy Oliver mostly responsible for band style. Personnel changed little; happy, proud, busy group. Travelled widely.

Willie Smith featured on lead and jazz alto sax and vocals. Eddie Tompkins jazz and lead trumpet. High, screaming trumpet by Tommy Stevenson, later by Paul Webster. Other key men Henry Wells (vo tb), Joe Thomas (ts), Earl Carruthers (bs cl), Eddie Durham (g tb ar), Trummy Young (tb), Ed Wilcox (p ar), James Crawford (d), Ed Norris (g). Dan Grissom later joined on alto; featured vocalist after Wells left. Rhythm vocals by Smith, Oliver, Thomas, Young and Lunceford Trio (Tompkins, Smith and Oliver, later replaced by Young). Lunceford fronted, rarely played. During 30s steady recording; most popular Organ Grinder's Swing, The Merry-Go-Round Broke Down, Tain't What You Do and Margie. Oliver left 1939 to arrange for Tommy Dorsey; replaced by Gerald Wilson on trumpet, Billy Moore as arranger. In 1941 movie BLUES IN THE NIGHT, also shorts. By mid-1942 personnel changes lowered morale, hurt band. Popularity waned. After Lunceford's death 1947 Ed Wilcox and Joe Thomas continued as co-leaders for short period. Lunceford co-composer of Teasin' Tessie Brown.

1178. MANONE, WINGY t vo cm B
(JOSEPH MANONE; originally spelled MANNONE)

Born February 13, 1904, New Orleans, La.

Trumpet star in traditional style; heavily influenced by Louis Armstrong. At 8 lost right arm in street-car accident. Learned to play trumpet with left hand, acquired nickname Wingy. Good jazzman-entertainer, injected humor and showmanship. Handled vocals in rough Armstrong style. At 17 in riverboat bands. With Crescent City Jazzers in Mobile 1924; in St. Louis 1924-5 group changed name to Arcadian Serenaders. Played in southwest and west late 1925-6. Own band in Biloxi late 1926-7. Later 20s and early 30s jobbed in Chicago, New York, other cities. Led bands in Chicago 1933, New York 1934-6 (including runs at Adrian's Tap Room and Hickory House). Record hit with jazz spoof of Isle of Capri early 1935. Recorded steadily through 30s. Played New Orleans, west coast and Florida later 30s. Good role in 1940 Bing Crosby movie RHYTHM ON THE RIVER. Based mostly on west coast until 1954. Sometimes on Bing Crosby radio show. Played leading jazz clubs including Jimmy Ryan's in New York around 1946. In 1943 movie HI YA, SAILOR. From 1954 based in Las Vegas. Later work emphasized humor and commercial appeal, not up to earlier standards. Occasionally played jazz festivals in 60s and 70s. Composed jazz numbers including Tar Paper Stomp (original version of In the Mood), Nickel in the Slot, Tailgate Ramble, Jumpy Nerves (another name for In the Mood). Wrote autobiography Trumpet on the Wing.

(name MARTIRE early in career as sideman)

Born December 24, 1914, Naples, Italy

Leader of popular band of 50s and 60s; smooth commercial-swing style with excellent musicianship. Lyrical trumpet featured on ballads. To U.S. as child, grew up in Chicago, worked locally early to late 30s with Danny Russo, Frank Quartell, Enric Madriguera, Joe Sanders, Lou Breese, Billy Mills; played theatre jobs. Radio staff musician around 1937-43. Military service awhile, World War II. After discharge resumed Chicago radio work, later led band on own show. Began recording for Mercury 1949. Gave up radio job 1951 to tour with band, became popular, especially at colleges. Stressed danceable style and beat, played in excellent taste. As leader, Marterie disciplined, professional. Records well-received; favorites Caravan; Crazy, Man, Crazy; Skokiaan; Castle Rock. Continued band through 50s into 60s. Wrote some of band's numbers including Baby Sitter and Trombone Blues.

1193. MARTIN, DEAN vo
(DINO CROCETTI)

Born June 17, 1917, Steubenville, Ohio

Actor and singing star of movies and TV, first as part of Martin & Lewis team. After breaking up with Jerry Lewis mid-50s, highly successful as single. Surprised critics and fans with dramatic ability in movies, plus flair for lighter comedy than displayed with Lewis. Peak prominence with long-running TV show in 60s and 70s. Surrounded by beautiful girls in movies and on TV, acquired image as ladies' man. Singing voice soft and relaxed along exaggerated Bing Crosby and Perry Como lines. To California 1937, odd jobs. Developed singing, worked way up through small clubs. Full-time professional 1943. Met Lewis 1946, teamed with him at 500 Club in Atlantic City, built comedy-singing act to top night club attraction. First TV spot 1948 on Ed Sullivan. On radio late 40s. Scored in first movie MY FRIEND IRMA (1949) supporting actress Marie Wilson. In sequel MY FRIEND IRMA GOES WEST (1950). Team then starred in series of popular movies. Martin straight man, sometimes romantic lead, sang in each movie. Antics of Lewis sparked stories; he sometimes sang novelties. Team had radio show early 50s. After last movie HOLLYWOOD OR BUST (1956), team broke up due to strained relations. Each successful as single.

Martin starred in top-budget films. Best performances in THE YOUNG LIONS and SOME CAME RUNNING (1958), CAREER (1959), BELLS ARE RINGING and WHO WAS THAT LADY? (1960), ADA (1961), TOYS IN THE ATTIC (1963). Played spy roles late 60s. Own radio show awhile later 50s; vocals backed ably by Dick Stabile band, also on many recordings. Record hits That's Amore, Memories Are Made of This, Everybody Loves Somebody (his TV theme). As movie star stayed off TV many years except for special appearances with friends. Own weekly TV show began 1965, ran into 70s. Performed in nonchalant, tongue-in-cheek manner, drew imitations by mimics.

1194. MARTIN, FREDDY ts d cm B

✓ Born December 9, 1906, Cleveland, Ohio

Leader of top hotel band beginning early 30s. Distinctive deep ensemble sound due to leader's mellow lead tenor sax. Raised in Springfield, Ohio, orphanage, attended high school in Cleveland. Learned tenor sax and drums, worked at odd jobs, then local musical jobs. Led band at intervals. Sideman early 30s with several bands in other locales, including New York. Formed band 1932. Early important engagements at Brooklyn's Hotel Bossert, New York's Hotel Roosevelt, Waldorf-Astoria, Ritz Carlton, St. Regis, and at Post Lodge in Larchmont, N.Y. In Chicago played Edgewater Beach Hotel, Palmer House, Aragon Ballroom. Prolific output of excellent recordings starting 1932. Early 30s often recorded under pseudonyms of Bob Causer, Albert Taylor, Hotel Bossert Orchestra, Ed Loyd, Allen Burns (on Perfect-Melotone labels). Early sidemen:

Russ Morgan and four Van Eps brothers (George, Bob, Jack, Fred). Early vocalists Elmer Feldkamp and Terry Shand. Pianist Shand composed band's theme Bye-Lo-Bye Lullaby. In 1938 band played Cocoanut Grove in Los Angeles, returned periodically through the years for long runs, made it base in later years. On radio shows American Revue 1934, Vick's Open House 1935, Penthouse Serenade late 1936-7, Lady Esther Serenade 1941-2, Jack Carson show 1943-4 and postwar period. Own shows at intervals. Big hit fall 1941 Tonight We Love, adapted from Tchaikovsky's Piano Concerto in B Flat by arranger Ray Austin and featuring pianist Jack Fina, boosted band to top popularity. This became band theme. Followed with record hit, adaptation of Grieg Piano Concerto.

Former Isham Jones vocalist Eddie Stone featured with band late 1939-42. Vocalists in later 40s Stuart Wade and Merv Griffin. Griffin sang band's 1948 hit I've Got a Lovely Bunch of Cocoanuts. Earlier pianists Shand and Fina followed in later 40s by Murray Arnold and Barclay Allen, both featured. Band in movies THE MAYOR OF 44TH STREET (1942); HIT PARADE OF 1943, SEVEN DAYS LEAVE, STAGE DOOR CANTEEN and WHAT'S BUZZIN', COUSIN? (1943); MELODY TIME (1948). Martin continued band through 50s into 70s, working rather steadily but not as prominent. Periods of inactivity by late 60s. In later 60s and early 70s occasionally appeared on TV nostalgia shows honoring big bands. Led all-star band on nostalgic big band tour 1972-3 and 1973-4 featuring Frankie Carle (first tour), Bob Crosby, Margaret Whiting and Art Mooney (second tour). Co-composer of Tonight We Love; Carmen, Carmela; I Look at Heaven.

Born December 1, 1913, Weatherford, Texas

Leading star of Broadway musicals in 40s and 50s. Most famous roles in SOUTH PACIFIC and THE SOUND OF MUSIC. Some success in movies. Strong soprano equally capable at pop or show songs. Other assets: beauty, compelling personality, great stage presence. Early vocal training, some night club experience, ran dancing school in home town. To Hollywood, failed screen tests. Small jobs in clubs and radio. Night club appearance led producer Laurence Schwab to sign her for Broadway and eventual secondary role in 1938's LEAVE IT TO ME. Rendition of My Heart Belongs to Daddy highlight of show. Successful engagement at New York's Rainbow Room. Began movie career 1939. During 1939-42 sang on radio shows of Walter O'Keefe, Maxwell House Coffee Time, Bing Crosby. Performed well in top movie musicals but no great star. Late 1943 in long-running show ONE TOUCH OF VENUS. Next show LUTE SONG (1946); modest run. Toured awhile with road show ANNIE GET YOUR GUN in lead. Big triumph in SOUTH PACIFIC (1949); great performance in immensely popular, long-running show. In revival of play THE SKIN OF OUR TEETH (1955) for limited New York engagement and on tour. Starred in musical PETER PAN (1954), following year performed role on TV. In 1953 teamed with Ethel Merman on memorable TV special for Ford. Other appearances occasionally on TV. Starred in hit show THE SOUND OF MUSIC (1959). Her show JENNIE (1963) ran only 82 performances. In road show HELLO, DOLLY! 1965. Co-starred with Robert Preston in I DO! I DO! (1966), toured with it 1967. Mostly inactive from later 60s. Moved with husband to Brazil. One TV special 1973.

1202. MARX BROTHERS

comedy group

Chief members:

- JULIUS (GROUCHO), born October 21, 1895 (or as early as 1890), New York, N.Y.
 LEONARD (CHICO), born March 22, 1891, New York, N.Y. (died 1961)
 ARTHUR (HARPO), born November 23, 1893, New York, N.Y. (died 1964)
 Other members in early years HERBERT (ZEPPO) and MILTON (GUMMO)

Zany brother act that starred on stage in 20s and won greater fame in 30s films. Featured low, rowdy, often outrageous comedy. Movies featured musical numbers; each brother performed musically. Groucho sang novelty songs, Chico played piano, Harpo played harp, piano and clarinet, Zeppo sang romantic tunes. Gummo, Zeppo's predecessor in group, also sang. Relatives had been in show business; mother Minna encouraged early efforts. Chico played piano in cabarets. Groucho and Gummo sang, danced and clowned in club and theatre jobs. Harpo played piano and clarinet, then concentrated on harp. Marx Brothers formed comic act, took individual nicknames around 1914-15. After military service World War I, Gummo quit group, replaced by Zeppo. Top vaudeville bookings in ensuing years. Starred in Broadway shows I'LL SAY SHE IS (1924), THE COCOANUTS (1925), ANIMAL CRACKERS (1928). Sensational in early sound movie THE COCOANUTS (1929). Hit movies followed through 30s.

Groucho ringleader with sarcastic and risqué remarks, famed slouching walk in long-tailed coat, exaggerated eyebrows and mustache, horn-rimmed spectacles, cigar. Chico doubletalked in Italian dialect, played flashy piano in comic style, at times hitting keys with pointed finger. Harpo played mute, pantomimed meanings, chased girls, indulged in wild antics. Always featured in harp solo. Zeppo handsome brother; played straight man, sometimes romantic lead. Dropped out after movie DUCK SOUP (1933). Brothers made 13 movies 1929-49, between movies worked separately. Chico led good dance band 1942-3, assembled by Ben Pollack, had TV show 1951. Groucho made several solo movies, had radio shows including quiz show 1947 into early 50s. Continued latter on TV 1950 into 60s. Occasional TV guest appearances during 60s, sometimes performed novelty songs. Wrote 1967 bestseller The Groucho Letters.

1210. MATTHEWS, JESSIE vo

Born March 11, 1907, London, England

Delightful English musical star, talented singer, expert dancer, winsome personality. Attracted attention in U.S. when her English movies appeared here in 30s. Long career. At 10 starred on stage in BLUEBELL IN FAIRYLAND. Played music halls, by mid-20s in musical revues. Understudy to Gertrude Lawrence in ANDRE CHARLOT'S REVUE OF 1924 in London, starred in 1926 edition. In London revue EARL CARROLL'S VANITIES OF 1926, to U.S. 1927 with part of cast to perform awhile in Broadway version. In Broadway show WAKE UP AND DREAM (1930). Other London stage shows included JORDAN and THIS YEAR OF GRACE (1928), WAKE UP AND DREAM (1929; played in U.S. 1930), EVERGREEN (1930; her best), HOLD MY HAND (1931), SALLY WHO? (1933). In 1931 began in English movies with OUT OF THE BLUE. Then THERE GOES THE BRIDE, THE MIDSHIPMAID and THE MAN FROM TORONTO (1932), THE GOOD COMPANIONS (1933), FRIDAY THE 13TH and WALTZES FROM VIENNA (1934). Biggest movie EVERGREEN (1934) played in U.S. early 1935, brought to popularity songs Over My Shoulder and When You've Got a Little Springtime in Your Heart. Subsequent English movies seen in U.S. not quite as good: IT'S LOVE AGAIN and FIRST A GIRL (1936), GANGWAY and HEAD OVER HEELS IN LOVE (1937), SAILING ALONG (1938), CLIMBING HIGH (1939). In 1941 Miss Matthews was scheduled for Broadway show THE LADY COMES ACROSS but personal problems cancelled plans. Starred in 1942 revival of musical SALLY (retitled WILD ROSE because of revisions). In English movies FOREVER AND A DAY (1943) and CANDLES AT NINE (1944). Occasionally in English plays of 50s, some touring, in movie TOM THUMB (1958). In 60s starred in popular daily serial on English radio, Mrs. Dale's Diary. Occasional club dates and special shows into 70s; name kept alive through English revivals of 30s movie musicals.

Born November 10, 1916, Pittsburgh, Pa.

Sideman early in career, rose to fame early 50s as leader of Jimmy Lunceford-style band with original voicings and phrasing. Brilliant arranger in any style, attained great success. As youngster learned arranging, piano, trumpet. Early jobs locally with Baron Elliott and on CBS radio. Began arranging for Charlie Barnet 1938, played trumpet in band mid-1939 to late 1940. With Glenn Miller late 1940-2; arrangements included Delilah, Take the "A" Train, Long Tall Mama, Ida, Sweeter Than the Sweetest, Always in My Heart, At Last, Serenade in Blue (last two with Bill Finegan). Late 1942-3 on NBC radio in New York, played trombone. During same period with Les Brown, Woody Herman; arranged for Alvino Rey orchestra. Except for period with Glenn Miller, as a sideman May seldom was a featured soloist. Wartime defense plant awhile. Based on west coast, active in studios. Played radio shows of Red Skelton, Bing Crosby, Ozzie & Harriett (played and arranged 1944, conductor and arranger 1945). Arranged for Alvino Rey, Woody Herman, Phil Harris; active late 40s as freelance arranger. Conducted bands backing singers on records. Fall 1951 big band recordings created stir. Distinctive sound featured glissing unison saxes and lightly-swinging Lunceford beat. Popularity grew, band toured, was imitated. Glissing unison sax style absorbed into mainstream music permanently. In 1954 May sold band to Ray

Anthony, who installed Sam Donahue as leader. May now established as top arranger, won all types of assignment. On many record sessions in 50s and 60s as arranger-conductor, notably with Frank Sinatra. Occasionally recorded studio groups under own name. Wrote for TV and radio, including commercial jingles. Composed Naked City theme for TV show. Composer-arranger on TV shows of Red Skelton, Ozzie and Harriet, Bob Crosby, Duffy's Tavern. Scored and composed for movies JOHNNY COOL, TONY ROME, SERGEANTS THREE, others. Illness in later 60s curtailed activities somewhat. During career composed original jazz for own bands, Barnet, Miller.

Born December 29, 1903, Ashland, Ky.

Trumpeter who won fame with showcase number Sugar Blues and general playing; muted wah-wah style with growls, slurs and kissing sounds; almost "made that trumpet talk." As teenager played on riverboats and in theatres. Formed first band 1919. During 20s various music jobs, own band. First national attention 1931 with recordings and good radio coverage; Sugar Blues (theme) ear-catching novelty. McCoy featured, backed by capable band. Vocalists during 30s: Bud Prentiss, four Bennett Sisters, Rosalind Marquis, Dick Lee, Wayne Gregg. McCoy and band entered navy as unit late 1942, released 1945. Organized civilian band mid-1945. Out of music late 40s, then resumed bandleading. Active 50s into 70s, later years mostly leading good dixieland combo. Here McCoy eschewed corn, displayed talent formerly submerged. Occasional TV appearances.
